Irish Engineer Blasts TV

'Land of Friendly People, Not Just Insurrectionists'

BY E. J. MAYS
State Editor

CHARLESTON -- American television and liberal newspapers were blasted here today by Joseph Monaghan, prominent consulting engineer of Mullingear, Ireland, who said "America is losing its rightful birthright by allowing Television to show nothing but riots and violence, burning and a defeatiest attitude in its foreign transmission of news and in its leading liberal papers who wind their way to the Emerald Isle.

"The biggest thrill I've had on this trip, to visit my son Rev. Justin Monaghan, a Roman Catholic Priest, assigned to St. Henry's Catholic School at Charleston, is the friendly welcome we've received, all the way from our landing in New York to Charleston. We've seen no racial bitterness, no racial clashes, protestations against the war, no wall built up between white man and black man, as we have been led to believe by this deceitful TV and newspaper reporting," the affable, red-haired Irishman insisted.

RETURN TO HEIGHTS

Joseph Monaghan, better known as Joe to his friends, both in Charleston and Ireland, says he thinks "it is high time that Americans return this country to the heights of esteem it once claimed, before and after World War II. We should see the good things that are happening on television and read of them in the papers, instead of just on the bad ones, and there will always be a little rotteness in every land," Monaghan said.

Having issued his caustic criticism of an America that he thinks is undeserving of the unfavorable publicity it is getting, he talked of other things -- pleasant things encountered on this, his second visit to America and his first since his initial visit six years ago.

He said that he, and his charming wife, Maureen, along with beautiful daughter Mrs. Patrick "Paddy" Corey, of Duleek, Ireland, were "really thrilled" with their visit to the great Arch at St. Louis.

"Being an engineer I was not only pleased and thrilled but amazed and my knowledge increased for this is truly one of the world's engineering wonders" the Irish engineer, who carries a spring measuring tape in his pocket wherever he goes, said.

EMBARASSING MOMENT

Carrying that tape got him into some embarassing moments, at least from the joking aspect of his wife and daughter, especially when he made a measurement of Charleston City Hall's steps, checked the measurement for safe stress factors and then told the mayor and City Councilman Sam Story "your steps are unsafe, better fix them."

But Councilman Story was quickly assured by the joking Irisher that "replacement could take several years, without undue safety risks."

Corey said that this measurement was "nothing at all. While a guest at the Story home this week Monaghan is credited with measuring the ceiling joists to be certain they were safe. They passed his test, "Story relates, "so we are satisfied we're safe now."

He revels in the many marvels of America engineering and the many woods and wood by - products available in the United States. "We have no gum, oak or hardwoods in Ireland. We are planting some pine seedlings and hope they will result in a return of forests -- on the land used up during the demands for lumber in World War II," he said, with hope in his voice.

He also marvels at the cotton and corn crops, for they have no corn in Ireland, But, he points out, we have strawberries, as big, good and sweet as those grown here in Missouri. And our potatoes, as you know, are also better than average, he pointed out.

Monaghan went "fishing" at Kentucky Lake with crickets and caught "some bream and crappies. No crappies exist in Ireland, neither do catfish, although some Irish farmers are interested in commercial growth of catfish. The only sporting fish in Ireland are the trout and salmon, with a Jan. 1 October season on trout and salmon opening in March and open through November.

'GREEN MEN'

Asked whether or not he had brought any "little Green men" Leprechauns, with him he replied:

"We allow them only to contact our good friends, and only in Ireland. If you come over to visit us we'll let you talk with them." To which statement his winsome wife added "that is if you have a money tree and can show it - in which case we'll give you one of the fascinating Little Green ones."

Engineer Monaghan maintains his own engineering firm of J. B. Monaghan Engineering and Consulting Service and specializes in home building.

The red haired, jovial -- he's always smiling -- Irishman is abashed at the lack of exercise taken by many middle-aged Americans. "If I lived in America I'd start a series of walking clubs, just as we have in Ireland and many of the now paunchy Americans would be as trim as I am," he said," and a look at his trim, 165-pound figure bore out this contention.

Another thing that amazed him was the "fast pace you American's follow, both in work and play. In Ireland we even plan an outing days in advance."

He said that Ireland's biggest problem is not the political rift-rather the lack of industry. However, the National Government has created an agency -- like your Industrial Seeking Boards -- to bring foreign industry to the Emerald Isle. There is even now a Dutch tobacco firm, which employs some 100 persons, and a dishware manufacturing plant that exports its products throughout the world, now located in Ireland," he pointed out.

Liquor By The Drink for Miner

MINER -- The three absentee ballots regarding liquor by the drink in Miner were counted 2 p.m. today and all three favored the measure.

Unofficial returns, before today's official count and the including of the three absentee ballots, showed 88 persons favoring the measure and 85 persons opposed liquor by drink. The three absentees make the vote 91 for - 85 against.

It is expected the Board of Trustees will enact a stringent ordinance at the next regular meeting that will regulate the businesses that can have liquor by the drink.

Charleston Cancer Fund Hits $1.236

CHARLESTON - The American Cancer Society's drive in Charleston has collected $1,236.05, according to Mrs. Ernest Carman, city chairman, who said she wants to thank all those who worked and helped in the campaign.

The American Cancer Society is organizing a chapter in Charleston, and is now in the process of forming committees for its education and fund-raising activities.

Anyone interested in helping these committees is asked to contact Mrs. Carman.

Sun Airlines Lists Creditors

Sun Airlines Corp., a third-level air taxie carrier which suspended operations Tuesday night, yesterday filed a petition in Federal District Court seeking a "plan of arrangement" to satisfy its creditors, the Memphis Commercial Appeal reported today.

The airline listed assets of $355,309.5 and debts of $3,257,228.72, with 480 creditors.

Cotton Holyfield, manager of the municipal airport here, said that Sun has no outstanding bills here.

John Godwin, spokesman for the Cape Girardeau Central Airways, said Sun owes them $1,032.36 for fuel, and an undetermined amount of money for landing fees.

Judge Carl R. Graves, chief referee in bankruptcy, placed the firm in receivership and appointed F. C. Marr receiver. Robert A. Udelsohn and Howard A. Rubenstein are Sun's attorneys, the Memphis paper continued.

The petition, under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy law, is not a bankruptcy, but was discribed by one court official as "an action to rehabilitate a company that's in financial straits."

Mr. Udelsohn met with Mr. Marr and later said, "The next thing will be a meeting of creditors. Then he will propose a plan of arrangement to be submitted. There's no deadline on it."

The largest creditors appeared to be Greyhound Leasing Corp. of Chicago, $110,000; South Central Bell Telephone Co., more than $56,000 for use of Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) lines; Robbins Airborne, a fixed-base operator at Memphis International Airport, $16,633; Lear Jet in Wichita, Kan., $15,713; Mobil Oil Corp. in Kansas City, Mo., $15,658; Cities Service Oil Co. in Philadelphia, $12,422, and The Don Horn Co. at 2777 Winchester, aircraft parts suppliers, $11,351. Fifty Memphis firms were listed as creditors.

Sun was also sued yesterday by 119 Associates, a partnership involving Howard A. Weiss of Chicago and Lionel C. Epstein of Washington, who charged that they had agreed to lease Sun a Learjet in return for 12,500 shares of stock, but never received the stock.

Meanwhile, Walter Looney, president of DeSoto Airlines, another third-level carrier based in Memphis, said his firm had suspended service. Mr. Looney said DeSoto was unable to get the type aircraft it needed to operate efficiently. De Soto shut down June 1. Only Mid-Continent Airlines remains as a third-level carrier here.

Sun had had financial difficulties since early 1968 when it was formed to fly local service air mail. The airline later surrendered its air mail contracts.

Airport Director Robert H. Wood said yesterday afternoon he had not been contacted by Sun officials but assumed that the receiver, Mr. Marr, would appoint someone to oversee the airline's hangar and equipment, which includes DeHavilland Otters, Beechcraft D-18s, Cessna 402s and a Learjet, until the firm's future is determined.

The petition listed David Filson, president; James Ables, executive vice-president finance and treasurer; Paul Sheridan, vice president operations, and C. L. Denison, vice president sales, as Sun's officers.

Will Crew Be Ready For Apollo II Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Apollo 11 flight has a green light for a moon landing attempt in July. The question now is: Will the crew be ready?

Neil A. Armstrong, civilian commander of the flight, and his crewmates, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, face a heavy training program to prepare them fully for the scheduled July 16 blast-off.

Armstrong is scheduled to be the first to set foot on the moon July 21. He is to be joined by Aldrin 27 minutes later.

Ahead of the three are hours in mission simulations, briefings, reviews and run-throughs.

They'll work for more than 12 hours on many days between now and launch in the mission simulators, familiarizing themselves with the equipment and practicing responses to possible emergencies.

"We've got a tough job getting ready," said Donald K. Slayton, chief of astronauts. "We won't need very many glitches (unexpected problems) to not be ready."

Slayton said that even a simulator "bombing out on you for two days in a row" could delay the launch.

Space officials said privately Armstrong was pushing hard to meet the launch date.

He was irritated by the slowness of some mission planners, a source said, and brought pressure for faster action.

One of the delayed blueprints was said to concern the television camera on the Apollo 11 command module, the mother ship which stays in orbit 69 miles above the moon while the lunar lander descends to the surface.

Armstrong made a formal proposal that the television camera be removed from the spaceship. His logic, a source said, was that he had received no plan for its operation and if it wasn't vital enough to have a plan, then it was unnecessary to take the camera.

"He wasn't really trying to get rid of the camera," a source said. "He was just trying to force out a plan for its use."

Armstrong got his plan in short order.

Slayton said the final decision on whether the crew is ready will rest with Armstrong. And, Slayton said, if the civilian astronaut says the crew isn't ready, "then we'll just tell them (the space program administrators) that we won't go."

Officials are concerned that the Apollo 11 fliers may have to work so hard they'll miss the final three weeks of comparative rest which flight surgeons have urged for space crews.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief of medical operations, has urged that crews have time before flights to gain back strength lost in hectic training. This is to avoid having in space tired astronauts who are more apt to fall ill. Landing and walking on the moon will be the most strenuous exercise astronauts have faced since space flight began.

In his announcement Thursday that July 16 was the target date for launching, Lt. Gen. Sam C. Phillips, Apollo space program director, was careful to leave the door open for a delav.

One Fire

One fire was reported yesterday at 3:27 p.m. at the home of the Rev. Lindy M. Cannon, 910 North Kingshighway, acting Fire Chief Dolph Webb said today.

Damage was done to a bedspread which caught fire because it was too close to the light bulb in a linen closet. The Rev. Cannon is pastor of the Hunter Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Street Projects Underway

Surveys are complete for the widening of East Gladys Street, and will soon get underway for Southwest Street, City Manager W. Raymert Miller said yesterday.

East Gladys Street will be widened six feet on the south side from Main Street to Pine Street.

Southwest Street will be widened to 36 feet from Malone Avenue to Murray Lane. Southwest Street is presently 24 feet wide, so it will be widened on both sides. Curbs and gutters will be added.

Contractors have started paving Murray Lane between Malcolm Street and Dempster Street.

Paving is also underway on Linn Street near the Cotton Oil Mill and on Ralph Street.

One Accident

MATTHEWS -- A three-way crash Thursday at 8 p.m. at junction of highway 61 and 80, sent two persons to Missouri Delta Community hospital, and a summons to one of the drivers for careless and imprudent driving and failure to yield the right of way.

A 1963 Chevrolet, driven by David Rhyne, 17, Sikeston, stopped at the intersection, when he proceeded to enter highway 61 off highway 80, and drove into the path of a 1965 Dodge Dart, driven by Joseph Munger, Sr., 63, Sikeston who was coming south on highway 61.

The Rhyne car slid across highway and was struck by a 1967 Chevrolet, driven by Karen Rhoda, 20, Matthews, who had stopped to go east on highway 80.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Munger received cuts on the head and bruises.

Rhyne was given a summons for careless and imprudent driving and failure to yield the right-of-way.

Nixon Won't Halt Building Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction industry pleas that President Nixon act to curb union wage increase demands of up to 50 per cent and sometimes more are getting little encouragement from the White House.

Acknowledging the steep wage-price spiral is contributing to skyrocketing building costs, the President's Council of Economic Advisors still promised only to keep a close eye on the situation.

"The construction industry's size alone, about 14 per cent of the Gross National Product and more than 6 per cent of total employment, makes its influence in the economy a major one, and the present rapid rise in both prices and wages in the industry is a matter to which we are giving close attention," said Council Chairman Paul McCracken.

McCracken's response gave little comfort to Carl M. Halvorson, president of the Associated General Contractors of America, who had asked Nixon to step in with temporary compulsory wage settlements until the spiral slows.

"Because of the over-powering strength of the unions," Halvorson said, "there will be some bad settlements—bad for the country as well as for the contractors—unless the administration and the public speak out and give the industry some definite support in its opposition to thse inflationary wage settlements."

The kind of wage settlements Halvorson and other industry officials are complaining about is illustrated by a recent new contract in Philadelphia which will boost pay for 2,000 union plumbers from $6 to $9.25 per hour within two years, a hike of more than 25 per cent a year.

However, Labor Department figures show such whopping wage increases have not yet become the rule among the nation's approximately 4 million construction workers.

15 Injured

Summertime work and play took its toll in injuries Wednesday, when 15 persons were treated at Missouri Delta Community hospital for injuries.

New Theater to Locate In Midtowner Village

Three major building programs were announced today by the Mid-Towner Development Company. Heading the list is a new 500-seat, twin-auditorium theater to be built by Malco Theaters Inc.

Charles Matthews, Mid-Towner representative, said the new theater will be located 125 feet east of Wal - Mart in the Mid-Towner Village Shopping center. M. A. Lightman, president of Malco, said yesterday the twin- auditorium concept is new and this will be the first such theater to be constructed in Southeast Missouri.

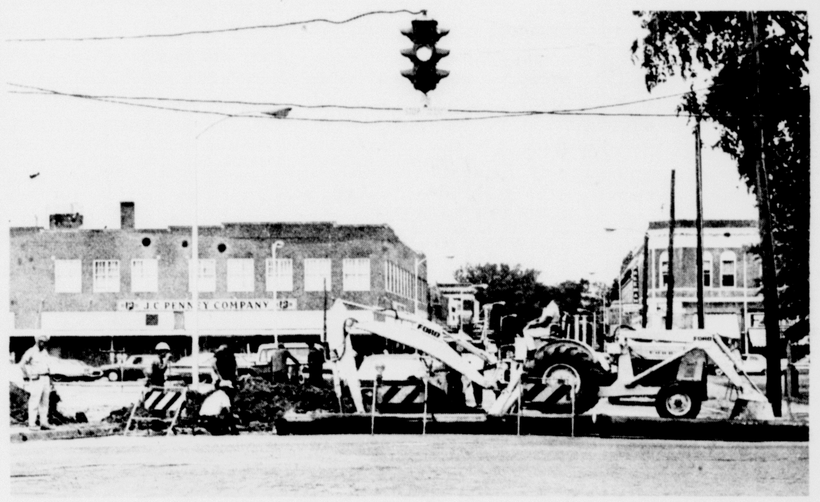

He cited the usage and scheduling of films as primary attributes of the twin - auditorium. Lightman said that normally two films will be shown at the same time, allowing people a greater choice. It also will allow the showing of the same films simultaneously, but at different times to allow people more freedom in times to view a movie.

Another advantage of the new theater, which is expected to be completed within six months will be the showing of films not considered conventional. Lightman said conventional films, such as westerns, could be shown to cover overhead of the the theater and this would allow the showing films considered less conventional, such as Interlude and Shakespearean films.

The company, which also owns the Malone and Rex Theaters in Sikeston, presently has a mutli- auditorium theater at Jonesboro, Ark., and Lightman said it is doing extremely well. Lightman said the future of buildings that house the Malone and Rex theaters is uncertain. Cost of the new theater was not disclosed.

The other major projects announced by Matthews include a 15,000 square feet addition to the Wal-Mart Store that will be initiated this fall. Projected plans call for completion next spring.

Matthews also announced that 2,000 square feet of space has been leased to a national ice cream company that will locate a ice cream- candy shop between Wal - Mart and the new theater. The name of this company was not disclosed. It is expected to be completed in April, 1970.

THE BUILDING OF A NEW water main in Sikeston is apparent. The line, which is expected to be completed within 60 days, is being extended from the Malone and Hyde Company on the west side of the city to about in Front of Pot-Latch on the eastern edge of the city. This picture was taken at the intersection of Malone Avenue and New Madrid Street. The line is being placed to stabilize water pressure in the city. (Photo by Dan D. Whittle)

ABM Compromise Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator whose uncommitted stance on the Safeguard controversy makes him a key figure in the fate of the program, says he is impressed with a compromise proposal to delay ABM deployment while allowing work to continue on other parts of the missile defense project.

Sen. Howard M. Cannon, DNev., said in an interview that "When I make up my mind, this could be something I would lead to."

"I am impressed by it," he added about the plan aimed at heading off what now appears to be a near deadlock over President Nixon's proposal to build missile defense sites in Montana and North Dakota.

Cannon is one of a half-dozen senators, who according to the latest Associated Press poll, haven't made up their minds on the Safeguard project.

Despite administration insistence it has no plans to yield, attention is going to the proposal by Sens. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to delay deployment but continue work on site radar and computers.

But some ABM foes say it isn't really a compromise.

"Calling something by another name doesn't change it," one opponent said, adding that any kind of deployment at the two sites would be a step toward Safeguard and no compromise.

Some ABM opponents are considering a plan to force an early showdown on the issue next week, but those close to the discussions say the odds are against it.

McIntyre, meanwhile, is conducting an extensive behindthe-scenes lobbying effort with some 80 of the 100 senators. The other 20 are considered hardcore ABM supporters who would never consider a compromise, even if the administration accepts it.

The New Hampshire Democrat proposed originally that the radars and computers be deployed either at the two initial ABM sites or at the U.S. test facility at Kwajelein in the Pacific.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
AN ASIAN DILEMMA

President Nixon campaigned hard on the theme that he would bring peace to Vietnam. He was a prominent member of the administration that first sent Americans to that troubled nation. It was during the late President Dwight Eisenhower's tour of White House duty that advisers were sent to South Vietnam. During President Kennedy's term in office the advisers became combatants. This was the beginning of our deep involvement; the eventual downfall of Lyndon Johnson was a direct result of that escalation.

Now, though only a few months of his term have passed, the new Chief Executive is being assailed by Congressional doves, led ironically by the brother of the late JFK, Sen. Edward Kennedy. Time does bring changes.

The doves are for immediate withdrawal of U. S. forces. They want President Nixon to start the troops home without delay. South Vietnam's president is being blasted for trying to arouse sentiment among his Asian neighbors for retention of the allied forces. Mr. Nixon is in the middle.

We do not fault the doves for their criticism, but we wonder about the logic of their timing. The Paris talks have been dragging on for over a year. The bulk of that time occurred during the election period and the lame-duck segment of the Johnson administration. This was to be expected. The communists were trying to buy time to see if they could first influence the election. When this failed they were waiting to test the new leadership. We hope to see our men heading home, but not at the expense of having fought in vain.

There is a greater danger the doves should consider. If we withdraw and the South Vietnamese begin to falter without our support, one of two things could occur and neither will make the war critics popular. One, South Vietnam could fall to the communists with resultant brush wars breaking out in other southeast Asian nations; or, two, the South Vietnamese might turn to Chiang Kai-shek for military support. This could bring Red China into the fray, and large scale war could engulf all of Asia. Our presence may be the only factor that keeps Formosa out of the battle. Our withdrawal might well open the door to this vastly tragic possibility.

* * *

We notice in the papers where President Nixon announces a 25,000 troop withdrawal.

Our prediction is that it will make it harder to deal with North Vietnam in Paris.

If he really wants to hurry the peace we believe that the dropping of a bomb or two on Hanoi will get better results.

Anyway we are happy for the families of the 25,000 who are brought home and our sympathy goes to the other 575,000 who left behind to get wounded or killed in our no win program.

While membership in state-local government pension plans has increased (along with the number of such plans, their receipts, and benefits paid over the past decade), the increase in governments' share of these programs overshadows the other items, noted Tax Foundation, Inc.

From 1957 to 1967-68, receipts more than tripled. Employes' contributions more than doubled -- but state and local governments' contributions for pensions tripled.

The taxpayer, says the research organization, may not be aware that while he is saving for his own retirement, part of his taxes go through state and local governments to furnish retirement benefits to millions of government workers.

The 2,165 public employe retirement systems included in the last count were 1,982 locally - administered systems (most at the municipal level) and 183 state-administered systems.

There were approximately 7 million members, when last counted, compared to the 1.5 million back in 1942. This rate of growth exceeded the growth rate in total number of state and local government workers -- from 3.3 million in 1942 to 9 million in 1967.

In fiscal 1967-68 with $7.6 billion in receipts, a record, employes contributed over $2 billion, while governments' share was $3.6 billion, In 1957, governments' contribution was $1.2 billion.

For Kansas and Missouri, the figures for 1967-68 total receipts, employes' and state-local government contributions were: Kansas - total receipts $34 million, employes' contribution $14 million, state-local govt. contribution $15 million; Missouri - total receipts $90 million, employes' contribution $30 million, state-local govt. contribution $39 million.

Then goes on to say the board of directors will be appointed by the President.

We believe if the President and congress were sincere in the change they would let some one in business corporations take over the job.

IT'S STILL THERE

We are pleased to write our congratulations to the durable state of California for deciding to stick with us. We cannot conceive the problems that might have arisen had the soothsayers been correct.

We would have been forced to return to the 49-star version of Old Glory and the mapmakers and geopraphy book publishers would have been forced into a crash program to up-date their products. The Supreme Court would have been meeting in the wee hours of the morning to try to figure out how to apportion the voting districts between the porpoises and the sea lions. In fact, there might well have been a major crisis as to whether the California sea lions would be allowed to retain that name of whether their keeping it would be construed as false labeling. Would the spceies become the Arizona sea lion? Or Nevada? Or Oregon? Or Washington?

We might have entered an era of conflict over salvage rights. What might we have done if all of the hippies caught in the catastrophe had polluted the Pacific Ocean? Can you imagine the hazards to sea life and navigation of all those resultant dirt slicks?

Speaking of hippies, could it be that Governor Reagan purposely started the rumors in an effort to clean up San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury section? What better way to rid one's state of the mass of unwashed than to threaten them with the cleanliness of immersion?

It will be interesting to see what the mass exodus of the hippies does toward assisting the smog elimination program in the Golden State. Maybe so many people left that the weight redistribution compensated for the slippage. We don't know. But we are thankful that the sunny state is still with us.

MAVERICK JUSTICES

U. S. Supreme Court Justices have "gone too far" and have injected "social and economic ideas" into their opinions, Nixon promised to appoint justices who would "interpret the Constitution strictly and fairly." President Nixon's May 21 nomination of Warren E. Burger as Chief Justice, and the naming of an associate justice still to come, will be analyzed in light of the criteria set forth in that campaign speech.

"Strict constructionism" apparently is what the President wants, but it may not be what he gets. The history of the Court is replete with examples of justices who performed in ways undreamed of by the Presidents who appointed them. The retiring Chief Justice offers a case in point. On his appointment in 1953, Earl Warren was regarded as an amiable, run-of-the-mill politician who would exercise judicial power with extreme caution. Instead, Warren emerged as an activist dedicated to the idea that the courts must guard individual liberty against the intrusions of governmental power.

Dashed expectations can cut both ways. When Franklin D. Roosevelt named Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone to the Chief Justiceship in 1941, the appointment was almost universally praised. But Stone proved an ineffective Chief Justice. Under Charles Evans Hughes, Stone's predecessor, Court conferences usually ran for four hours. Under Stone, they sometimes ran for four days.

Appointment of associate justices -- Nixon must also name a replacement for Abe Fortas -- also can produce surprises. John P. Frank, author of MARBLE PALACE (1958), notes that Woodrow Wilson named James C. McReynolds, "who proved to be the total antithesis of everything Wilson stood for and became the most fanatic and hard-bitten conservative extremist ever to grace the Court." Theodore Roosevelt appointed Oliver Wendell Homes, only to see Holmes turn against him in the landmark Northern Securities antitrust case. Nixon no doubt is aware of the twin gamble he is taking.

NEW YORK (AP) — We sailed from the Battery on the early tide, aboard the steamship Mary Murray.

It was a quiet embarkation without champagne or flowers, but where else can you go to sea for a nickel?

The 34-year-old Mary Murray is one of nine ferries on the nine-mile run to Staten Island—the same run on which the Vanderbilt fortune was founded a century and a half ago. She makes the trip in 20 minutes, carrying as many as 2,500 passengers.

Outward bound, we coasted past the old Governor's Island Army base before angling over to within shouting distance, almost, of the Statue of Liberty. Neglected Ellis Island and a shipyard wheeled past. Then with tugs, barges, a police boat, tankers and what have you streaming by, we ran along a line of anchored frighters.

On their reciprocal course to Manhattan, three other ferries, painted like ours a nasty yellow, churned along. They run every 10 minutes in the rush hours, every hour in the dead of night.

In spite of gloomy predictions, the opening of the Verazzano Bridge between Brooklyn and Staten Island has not cut ferry traffic disasterously, although bridges have put a dozen other New York ferries out of business.

How on earth does this one make a profit on a 5-cent fare? It doesn't. It's just that the politicians who overcame natural timidity to increase subway fares from 5 to 20 cents have never gotten up courage to touch the ferry fare.

For all that, the Mary Murray is clean and well kept. She is as ancient as they come—some of her eight sisters are only four years old and carry up to 3,500 passengers. And she runs on steam.

"Takes hundreds of gallons of fuel to make th round trip," asserts a deck hand, "but this old up-and-down steam engine will keep going forever. The diesels on the new boats aren't cut out for this kind of job—they're always giving trouble."

Approaching the ferry slip on Staten Island the captain seems to head our 264-foot craft right into the bulkhead, but he cuts the power, drifts with the tide, and sends her ahead smartly into her appointed place.

The big gang planks come down, the passengers stream ashore, and I for one go around to the front entrance, drop another nickel in the turnstile, and take passage back to Manhattan, where skyscrapers thrust through the haze to unbelievable heights.

The husband was quite disturbed by his wife's indeferent attitude towards him sexually, and the marriage counselor suggested he try to be more aggressive in his love-making.

"When you go home," he advised, "make love to her as soon as you meet – even if it is right inside the front door."

At the next consultation, the counsellor was pleased to hear that the husband had followed instructions.

"And how did your wife react this time?" he asked.

"Well, to tell the truth," said hubby, "she was still sort of indifferent. But one thing I've got to admit, her bridge club went absolutely wild!"

GOVERNMENT AND THE FARMER

During the 20th century, farmers in the United States have proven their ability to meet the food needs of a rapidly growing population They brought previously barren land under cultivation, developed new and better hybrids, and used mechanization to increase production. For all these accomplishments, personal enterprise deserves the credit.

The farm policies of the United States government, on the other hand, have been almost uniformly disastrous. Instead of encouraging farmers to adjust production to free market supply and demand, the Department of Agriculture alternates between paying subsidies to encourage production and imposing acreage limitations to discourage it. Consequently we have surpluses, rising food prices for consumers, and continued difficulties for the farmer.

In the last two years for example, acreage cuts ordered by the Department of Agriculture caused a severe shortage in better grades of cotton, resulting in higher prices for consumers. In wheat and feed grains, the Department subsidized more production than the market was able to absorb, causing prices to fall sharply.

The Department of Agriculture has also arranged for large-scale shipments of U.S. farm products to "underdeveloped" countries, encouraging their dependency on the U.S. and enabling their governments to continue socialist experiments. Under the "Food for Peace and Freedom" program, foodstuffs have also gone to communist countries.

Farmers must pay the higher taxes that support these programs. They suffer from rising consumer prices and inflation. The best the Department of Agriculture could do for the farmer would be to free the $8 billion it will spend in fiscal 1969 for investment by personal enterprisers in agriculture.

Doc. Duncan Says

When voters are forced to vote under threat, this is no longer a free nation, and if one will stop to think it over it's seldom people get to vote on a law and when they do it's under threat of something worse to befall them at the instigation of their overpaid underworked hired hands. Three of the worst laws ever to befall of civilized people without their consent is in the State of Missouri, the oil law, the gun law and the auto inspection law, all as unconstitutional as slavery and in fact - and in truth almost vicious form of slavery.

The question arises, shall the people (the governed) be forced to obey unconstitutional laws enacted without their consent? It is said that Missouri will lose 30 million dollars of Federal funds in the next three years if the auto law is repeated, they stand to pay out at least five times that amount in unnecessary gaggets on their autos the first year of this law is let stand and since most auto owners are voters that's as usual poor economy, and it's high time the voters petitioned for a special election for a vote on this law and tohers and if they are denied a vote on it, it's high time they get a vote on remoing a few Rebels from the drivers seat, lets hear from others with their letters to the Editor.

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

--Nixon At Midway--

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, in reporting the details that led up to the midway meeting, accurately anticipated exactly what happened.

On May 27, they quoted President Nixon's closed-door comment to congressional leaders that he intended to withdraw American troops from Vietnam but wanted the suggestion to come from President Thieu.

On the eve of the meeting Pearson and Anderson wrote that a troop withdrawal agreement had been reached in advance and would be announced at the meeting as evidence of accomplishment. This is exactly what happened.

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Justice department matches wits with Sen. Dodd; Administration plays politics with the law; Nixon has chance to mend some Latin American fences

WASHINGTON--Connecticut' embattled Sen. Tom Dodd is playing a subtle game with the Justice Department to keep out of jail.

As a member of the Senate Judiciary committee, he has a powerful voice on matters affecting the Justice Department. The committee is split ideologically, with eight conservatives and eight liberals, not counting Dodd. This gives him the swing vote on controversial legislation and appointments.

He has made it clear that he can hardly be expected to support the Justice Department if it is going to indict him for income tax evasion.

Indeed, Dodd has let it be known that his votes on other key issues will be determined by the Nixon administration's handling of his tax case. All the polls indicate, for example, that the Senate is divided evenly over the controversial anti-ballistic missile system. As an outspoken hawk, he would be expected to favor the ABM system.

He has served notice on the Nixon administration, however, that he hasn't made up his mind how he'll vote. Hints have been dropped that favorable word on his tax case would help him make up his mind.

Attorney General John Mitchell has demonstrated, meanwhile, that he knows how to play this backstage game. He used the FBI to dig up derogatory information on ex-justice Abe Fortas, then took the information to Chief Justice Earl Warren. Thus pressure was brought on Fortas to resign, creating another Supreme Court vacancy for President Nixon to fill.

With the same cold calculation, Mitchell has turned the tables on Dodd and has let him know that no action will be taken on his case until after the ABM vote. This leaves an implied threat that if he votes wrong he might be prosecuted.

The Nixon Administration, apparently, is determined to win the Senate showdown over the ABM, which will be the President's first big test of strength. Several Senators have complained privately of arm twisting. Sen. James Pearson, the Kansas Republican, has had his arm twisted so hard that he was warned Nixon Administration leaders that he is going to be around until 1972 and is not going to yield to pressure.

Senate liberals were told, for example, that the antipoverty program would be held up until after the ABM vote. The implication was that their pet antipoverty projects would depend upon their ABM votes.

--Blind Justice--

Meanwhile, the Justice Department hasn't even bothered to follow up charges that Dodd violated half a dozen federal laws governing conflicts of interest. The Senate ehtics committee justified its own failure to investigate these charges by explaining they were matters for the Justice Department to consider.

Only the tax case is ready for prosecution, because this was developed independently by the Internal Revenue Service. It is up to the Justice Department, however, whether or not to prosecute.

As we reported last December, Internal Revenue has recommended that Dodd be indicted for Income tax evasion. Treasury Agents spent more than a year unraveling his tangled finances. They traced every cent that went into his multiple bank accounts and discovered a secret bank account that we had missed in the Bahamas.

The agents interviewed almost everyone who had contributed to Dodd's fund-raising affairs. Contrary to Dodd's claim, most understood their contributions were to be used in his political campaign, not for his personal enrichment.

The agents found what they considered to be evidence of criminal violations. Their findings were reviewed by the Boston office, which concurred in the recommendation that he be prosecuted.

Now the Justice Department is playing cat-and-mouse with Dodd. More important than the Dodd case, however, is the growing evidence that the Nixon administration is manipulating the law-enforcement machinery for political purposes.

Note: The New York Times has suggested that the Nixon administration is holding up action against Dodd until he is renominated for the Senate. Quoting unnamed sources, the times reported: "These politicians said it would be obviously too much to expect the Nixon Administration to do anything to hurt Mr. Dodd's chances of renomination when he may be the easiest candidate to beat."

--USA---Good Or Bad Neighbor????----

President Nixon will have a chance personally to improve the very sour relations between his administration and Latin America this week when he receives President Carlos Lleras Restrepo of Colombia.

President Lleras is a competent, fair-minded executive who two years ago received Chief Justice Earl Warren, a nonpolitician, with enthusiasm and warmth, without a single anti-American shout coming from anyone in he crowd. Warren did a great service by this goodwill tour of several South American countries and even though Rep. H.R. Gross, Iowa Republican, blasted him for receiving state department expense money, President Nixon ought to prevail on Warren to take more trips of this kind.

President Lleras, like most latin presidents, has economic problems. But he has been solving them. He has also used the medium of television to explain his policies to the Colombian people. In this respect, he and Nixon will have a lot in common.

Unfortunately, the neighbors of the USA, both north and southl have a rather sour taste regarding the Nixon administration. The efforts of Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans to erect import quotas, in effect tariff barriers, have left a bad impression.

In Canada, people are getting restless over Nixon's failure to accept an invitation to go to the border for the tenth anniversary of the St. Lawrence seaway this month to rededicate the principle of Canadian-U.S. cooperation.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

'Campus-itis' Antidote:

Union Chief Warns SDS Summer Work-In Activists of Tough Counter-Violence

Washington, D.C.: -- There are those with a subtle sense of permissive whimsy who considers SDS workshops in violence, explosives, sabotage, jamming radio equipment, the dropping of homemade boms down manholes and general industrial disruption as youthful exuberance and disdain for the status quo.

But labor leaders are not men of whimsy. They have been studying SDS "thoughts." They have been analyzing revolutionary students' documents labeled: "Work-In, A National SDS Summer Project" and "The Work-In Organizers' Manual." And in the jargon of the union hall, labor leaders, those who are polished and those who are still in the rough, plan to give the provocateur work-in summer rebels a thorough workout.

Some, such as Maurice Hutcheson, an almost anonymous national AFL-CIO vice president who also heads the Carpenters, say, "union leaders won't run from the threat of the confrontation . . and head-knocking may become inevitable."

Other union chiefs, whose industrial jurisdictions are specifically pinpointed in the SDS summer Organizers' Manual, urge their members to keep "cool" and attempt to spot the young self-proclaimed pro-Maoist and pro-Castro radicals. Joe Beirne, leader of the Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO) has told his people and cool enough to deny them both a confrontation and an incident, they will be stripped of their most accomplished weapons."

Mr. Beirne reported to this 400,000 followers that the SDS has chosen telephone companies as one of the basic "work-in" targets. This genial Irishman, one of the AFL-CIO's most talented strategists, not famous for running from a fight, nonetheless asked his people not to overreact. And to be especially careful of race conflict. The SDS instructions, says Mr. Beirne, call for provoking a racial happening.

Union men whose followers operate another prime SDS target -- the nation's railroads -- also told their people to be alert . The work-in was given a going-over at a recent meeting of the Railway Labor Executives Assn. (a chiefs-of-staff union unit). Union chairmen on each line will watch for the youngsters.

Generally no prodding is needed to inspire an intellectural snort from labor leaders. But now the reaction comes even more swiftly than usual. Whether it's the nation's "Mr. Labor" himself, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, or Frank Fitzsimmons, the Teamsters acting president, union chiefs are saying that no unionized installation will be taken as have college campuses. Labor leaders won't be as skittish as college presidents and faculty members.

There now can be no doubt and no misunderstanding, says one national union leader about "our position."

"We want no disruption," he adds. "We want no violence, no wage-consuming ersatz picket lines, no stage-managed incidents. We want no explosion ripping up parts of a plant in which our people are workings. If these avowed rebels threaten the industrial peace we'll simply beat the hell out of them -- youth or no youth."

At least with this man there is no euphemism. He points to the SDS Organizers' Manual. He quotes a section which says that "job-seekers who should try to get hired in plants or transport depots that have several hundreds (let's say a 400-minimum) workers . . ."

Such men as Joe Beirne or the dynamic Charles Luna, president of the newly merged United Transportation Union (AFL-CIO) (railroad workers) see far more in the SDS manuals than a youthful rehearsal for summer soldiers of a playful revolution.

The Beirnes and the Lunas well know the saga of undisciplined American radicalism -- of both the gaslight and the campus eras. The SDS is made up of old and new revolutionists. There are the Trotskyites who first larded the American Labor Movement with scientific mass violence (the old Midwest teamsters). Today's young "Trots" are powerful in SDS high councils.

There is the Progressive Labor Party faction. Powerful, too. This band brought in the first early riot-era snipers (the early '60s in New York City). And only last April, the Progressive Labor Party sent Mao Tse-tung and the Chinese Communist Party a cable of congratulations and good fortune on the convening of the Ninth Party Congress in Peking.

There are Castroites practicing guerrilla tactics. And ther e is the pro-Moscow youth leadership.

These factions competed with each other at the SDS workshops in violence and explosives at recet national conventions and gatherings. Each is preparing even more violent and explosive documents for this summer's national convention.

Each caucus wants to control the SDS "Inter-organizational Secretary" responsible "for developing liaisons between SDS and labor unions (both blue and white collar) . . ."

These are the forces which led the college squads into action -- violence from which flashed fires, explosions and Marquis de Sade destruction of fine art and irreplaceable documents.

Even if there is no SDS industrial violence this summer, he union chiefs will find little comfort. The SDS Organizers' Manual directs its youth to assimilate first, then as the summer slips away, the instructions are to denounce union leadership where the plants are organized. Where there is no union, the employer is to be assailed either as racist or a hawkish war profiteer -- or both. Then the racial happenings are to be staged in the final days so bitterness will linger as one of the SDS summer work-in accomplishments.

Furthermore, the young men and women are told to find jobs in the area -- and arena -- of their universities so the contact made during the work-in can be cultivated.

This work-in is actually a plant-in. The target factories, telephone centrals and rail depots, shops and yards could for a long time be emotionally contaminated.

Rather than chance all this, the union leaders are saying quite frankly they'll get manual over the SDS Organizers' Manual infiltrators to keep the factories clean of what one high labor leader characterized as "a virulent campus-itis."

The Gospel Visitor

BY REEDUS M. BAUGHER

Jesus recommends the historical places, events, and people, in the scriptures. According to Jesus the scriptures are literally accurate, and also, the doctrine of volution is groundless.

Today, we notice; as to doctrine how did Christ consider God's word? He believed that every scripture was, for doctrine. His words to Satan were, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matt. 4:4) Opposed to this, it is the contention of some, that man lives by a few selected scriptures. (Of course they make the selection) And that some of God's commands are more important than others (of course they decide which are more important). Christ denounced this kind of attitude in the scribes and Pharisees, by saying, " Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone." (Matt. 23:23) And so it is with humans, when we set ourselves up as judges in divine matters, we are as apt to omit the weightier matters as did the scribes and Pharisees; God only can decide which is more important. Man cannot direct his own steps. (Jer. 10:23; 1 Cor. 1:21).

I am not contending, by these statements, that everything from Genesis to Revelation is to be obeyed today. But we need to realize, that God expects us to study His word, and rightly divide it. This means to find the divisions which God has already made. In this, we need some study rules, such as: Who is speaking; to whom speaking; under what dispensation is he speaking; for what purpose is he speaking???? In Hebrews 10:9-10, we learn, that God has taken away the first covenant and established the second, and by it we are sanctified. Knowing this, we can use our time in learning God's will for us under the new covenant, and whatever that will, it must be obeyed. "The word of the Lord endureth forever." (1 Pet. 1:25) And it will be the standard to judge. (Jno. 12:48).

Remember, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." (2 Tim. 3:16). To prove something required, also proves its importance.

Irish Ideas and Recipes Brought by Visitors

World famous Irish stew and Irish brown bread are common in the home of Mrs. Maureen Monaghan, and she shared her recipes with us.

Mrs. Monaghan is in Charleston, with her husband, Joseph Monaghan, and their daughter, Mrs. Pauline Corry, visiting the Monaghan's son, the Rev. Fr. Justin Monaghan, St. Henry's Catholic Church, Charleston. Fr. Monaghan's brother, Fergus, a student at Irish College, Rome, Italy, and Mrs. Corry's husband, Paddy, and their three sons, were unable to accompany the parents on their first visit to the United States.

Mrs. Corry, who provided the rish brown bread recipe, says, 'Irish stew is not so popular in Ireland as people seem to think. I have never prepared it in my own home."

Mrs. Monaghan commented, "It is one of Justin's favorite dishes, though, and I do not serve it as often as I did when the children were at home." Mrs. Monaghan gave us the recipe she uses for Irish stew, which she serves with the brown bread and a beverages (coffee or tea).

IRISH STEW

Mutton, 1 lb. lean, cubed
Ham, about ¼ lb. chopped small
Carrots, 1 cup, diced
Onions, ½ cup, sliced thinly
Mixed herbs, 1 Tablespoon (parsley, thyme, mint in equal quantities)
White sauce (recipe given below)
potatoes, 2 cups, diced

Begin with white sauce mixed in stew kettle (six to eight quart size). Add meats, carrots, onions and herbs. Simmer over low heat about two hours, until meat is well done. Add potatoes and cook slowly about twenty minutes, or until potatoes are just cooked through. May be served immediately, but must always be served hot.

WHITE SAUCE

Milk, 1 cup
Flour, 2 Tablespoons
Fat, 2 Tablespoons
Salt, ½ teaspoon

Shake flour and ¼ cup milk together in a closed container until thoroughly mixed. Add to rest of milk, fat, and salt. Simmer about one minute, until smooth.

IRISH BROWN BREAD

White flour, 1¼ cup
Brown flour (whole wheat), ¾ cup
Baking soda, 2 teaspoons
Cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons
Salt, 2 teaspoons
Buttermilk, 1 cup
Oleo, 1½ teaspoon

Note: Proportions of white and brown flour may be changed to make a darker or lighter bread, but the total amount of flour must be two cups.

Sift all dry ingredients together. Rub in oleo. Make well in center of bowl, and pour in buttermilk. Work dry ingredients into center, mixing with buttermilk. When mixed thoroughly, knead lightly on floured board, or bread cloth. Dough will be slightly moist. Roll into circle about one inch thick, and cut across top in a plus sign. Bake on flat pan, at 425 degrees 30 to 40 minutes.

An interview of the Monaghan family will be featured on Saturday's Woman's Page. c

94th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cervantes entertained with a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. A. J. Drinkwater Sr., celebrating her 94th birthday. Those attending were her great-grandchildren, Karen and Al Cervantes, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Drake, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drinkwater Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Finley Thompson, and Mrs. Clara Newnam.

Miss Debbie Collins

Miss Collins Installed In Job's Daughters Office

Miss Debbie Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Collins, 710 Mimosa Drive, was installed Honored Queen of Sikeston Bethel Number 27 of the International Order of Job's Daughters Saturday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 321 South Kingshighway.

Carrying out the Honored Queen's colors for her term, decorations consisted of five large purple flowers of paper with green leaves, in unique vase sparkling with accents of silver. Smaller bouquets of the same order were placed on the desks either side of the East dais.

The ritual ceremony began with the Senior and Junior Custodians escorting into the Bethel room, the Guardian, Mrs. Aquilla Grimes, and the Associate Guardian, Mr. Aquilla Grimes. After Mrs. Grimes formally opened the installation ceremony, Mr. Grimes retired to escort Miss Debbie Ingram, the Installing Honored Queen.

Miss Ingram gracefully accepted her position in the East and introduced the installing officers for the evening after they had been escorted into the Bethel room by the Installing Custodians. They were: Installing Honored Queen, Miss Debbie Ingram; Installing Guide, Miss Kay Stauffer; Installing Marshal, Miss Prissy Righter; Installing Chaplain, Miss Carol Miller; Installing Senior Custodian, Mrs. Dana Garner; Installing Junior Custodian, Miss Beth Montgomery; Installing Secretary, Miss Lucille Mount; Installing Soloist, Mrs. Mildred Canedy; Installing Organist, Mrs. Mayme Jean Poage.

After the introductions of the Installing Officers, the elected and appointed officers were escorted to their positions in a large triangle formed by their chairs West of the altar. The officers rose as they were introduced to the large audience gathered to witness the ceremony. The elected officers are as follows: Honored Queen, Debbie Collins; Senior Princess, Beverly Ingram; Junior Princess, Carla Colwick; Guide, Jane Campbell; Marshall, Karen Hollaway.

Miss Debbie Collins appointed these offices to serve with her during her six- month reign as Honored Queen: Chaplain, Terri Willis; Recorder, Sally Mitchell; Treasurer, Debbie Wheeler; Librarian, Sheila Clinton; First Messenger, Kathy Eaker; Second Messenger, Lisa Righter; Third Messenger, Teresa Moore; Fourth Messenger, Jo Ellen Felker; Fifth Messenger, Caryl Maria Joyce; Senior Custodian, Debi Silverthorn; Junior Custodian, Susan Hambrick; Inner Guard, Melissa Holt; Outer Guard, Frances Riddle; Musician, Karen Hambrick; Bethel Flag Carrier, Libby Walker.

The Installing Chaplain, Miss Carol Miller, presented the Holy Bible to the Bethel room. She was followed by five of the Honored Queen's favorite members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Evelyn Struwe, Martha Bell, Alberta Ingram, Naomi Davis and Beatrice Stauffer, each one wearing a full length evening gown, one of the starpoint colors. On the other side of the Bethel room marched five of the Honored Queen's favorite members of the Masonic Order, Franklin Struwe, A. V. Butler, Lynn Ingram, Walter Rayburn, Robert Boyer. The Bethel Choir followed the Eastern Stars and Masons in.

A triangle was formed East of the altar with each of the organizatons, the Eastern Star, Masons, and Job's Daughters, forming a side. This was symbolic of the sacred bond held between the organizations.

The Installing Chaplain was at the head of the triangle. She gave a tribute to the Bible and recited the Twenty-Third Psalm. Then Mrs. Mildred Canedy sang "Kum- ba-ya."

As the Installing Marshal, Miss Prissy Righter, carried the American flag into the Bethel, the crowd rose and sang the Star- Spangled Banner and pledged allegiance to the flag.

The Installing Chaplain attended at the altar and asked the blessings of God upon the ceremony.

The Installing Honored Queen, Miss Debbie Ingram, had the new officers and Bethel Choir repeat their obligation to serve the Bethel in their respective offices to the best of their ability. After all of these officers received their charges from Miss Ingram, they were escorted to their stations by the Installing Guide and Installing Marshal.

Miss Debbie Collins then approached the altar. Kneeling, her hands folded on the open Holy Bible, she repeated her oath. Mrs. Canedy then sang, "My Task." The Installing Honored Queen invested Miss Collins with the robe of royal purple velvet and the beautifully jeweled crown which are symbolic of the high office.

As duly installed Honored Queen she was escorted to the East by her father, Gene Collins, while Mrs. Canedy sang a song in her honor. The song was one to which Mrs. Canedy had written special words.

The Honored Queen then received the gavel of authority and took charge of the meeting.

Miss Collins welcomed her guests, expressed her gratitude to those who had helped with her Installation, and said she is looking forward to her term of office.

The ceremony of Escort, Honors, and Introductions was then begun. Miss Kay Stauffer was escorted to the East where she gave her retiring address. She was then escorted West of the altar to receive a bouquet of red roses, her Past Honored Queen's jewel, and other appreciative gifts from the new Honored Queen.

Miss Collins recognized other special guests who included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Collins, her brother and his fiancee, Randy Collins and Louise Smith; other members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. William E. May, Jeany and Jimmy from St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Collins, Sharon and Joni; Miss Gayle Collins;

The Guardian Council: Guardian, Mrs. Aquilla Grimes; Associate Guardian, Mr. Aquilla Grimes; Guardian Secretary, Miss Lucille Mount; Guardian Treasurer, Mrs. Allen; Choir director, Mrs. Barbara Hambrick, Past Guardians: Mrs. M. L. Canedy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Malcom, the first Guardian of Bethel Number 27; Worshipful Master of Masonic Lodge Number 310, Mr. A. V. Butler; Worthy Matron of Chapter Number 137 of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Martha Bell.

Past Honored Queens, Miss Kay Stauffer, Miss Debbie Ingram, Miss Beth Montgomery, Miss Carol Miller, Miss Prissy Righter, Mrs. Dana Garner and Mrs. Barbara Hambrick.

The Installing Chaplain gave the closing prayer, after which the Bible was closed. For the closing ceremony, the officers formed a triangle East of the alter, and left that position to form a cross. The benediction was given by Mr. William E. May, after which the officers sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

Everyone was invited to the reception held downstairs. The serving table was covered with a green net tablecloth edged in green satin and pulled up at the corners with purple bows and purple satin balls. Lime punch with a purple ice ring and party sandwiches and cookies were served. Special entertainment was provided by Sing-Out Sikeston, directed by Mrs. Carol Sue Clayton.

Vanduser Leading League

Vanduser claimed an 8-6 win over Parma last night and took over sole possession of first place in the newly formed Four - County Babe Ruth league, having the only undefeated record among the five league teams.

Bertrand took an 11-7 decision over Bell City to run its record to 2-1 and drop Bell City's to 1-2.

Advance collected the win at Vanduser with relief help from Bryant. Doyle Crews was the loser.

Walks and errors spoiled any Parma hopes of a victory as Vanduser capitalized on each in tallying its eight runs.

Parma errored eight times and gave up nine bases - on - balls, while Vanduser allowed but four walks and had but two errors credited to it.

A four run second and three run sixth inning were fatal for the visitors. Vanduser put four runs on the board in the second inning on three hits and three walks and used one hit and four Parma miscues to tally three runs in the sixth.

Crews smacked a solo home run for Parma in the fourth inning.

Bertrand surged from a 4-0 first inning deficit to clip steadily improving Bell City.

Extra base hits by Woods, Cresno and Bridges provided eight runs for Bertrand while Lee Rendleman's double accounted for two.

League play continues Monday with Bertrand going to Parma and Benton hosting Vanduser.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

By TERRY NOWELL

Musial and American Little League divisions went to the field last night with Collins Construction, Sikeston Standard, Police, and Leslie Insurance taking wins.

First Musial game saw Collins Construction blank Rotary by a 11-0.

Collins racked up seven hits in the battle compared to only two for Rotary. Butler took the pitching win and Vaught took the loss for Rotary.

Butler also led the hitting and scoring for Collins with two hits and two runs scored. Steams also had two hits for the winning squad.

In the second Musial contest, the Sikeston Standard downed the Bank of Sikeston, 16-8. Bank of Sikeston had a total of six hits, however compared to only two for the Standard.

Northington became the winning pitcher and Sauls took the loss for the Bank of Sikeston. Paul Johnson led the scoring for the Standard with three runs.

In the first match of American division play, Police downed Caproco by a 10-3 margin. Two of these Police scores came on home runs hit by the center fielder, White.

Police had a total of nine hits in the battle compared to three for Caproco. Thompson collected three hits for Police and also contributed two runs to the cause.

Caproco's three hits came from Manker, Taylor, and Whitaker.

Thompson took the win from the mound and Taylor took the loss.

In the final American game, Leslie Insurance edged past Fabick, 7-5. There was also a home run hit in this game as Fabick's Shell cleared the fence in the fifth inning.

Leslie had a total of seven hits in the game compared to only three for Fabick. Hill took the win for Leslie and Eskew suffered the loss for Fabick.

Stand-in Speaker

House rules require election of a stand-in speaker when the regular speaker of the House of Representatives plans to be absent for more than three days.

Wrong Pitcher Turns In Top Performance

MALDEN - Mike Bullock, manager of the Press-Merit Little League baseball team, was a little chagrined, but happy over a mistake he made recently in his selection of pitchers.

Mike has a pair of identical twin brothers on his team. Keith and Kent Luke. Kent is a left fielder and Keith is a pitcher.

In the opening game of the season Mike asked one of his players to tell Keith to warm up. The player, apparently a little confused himself, told Kent to warm up. When game time rolled around Manager Bullock told "Keith" to take the mound. "I'm Kent," the boy said.

It was too late to warm up the proper twin, so Bullock let Kent pitch. He struck out 17 in a six-inning game and the Press-Merit beat Associated Gas, 13-2.

Manager Bullock is still confused, but happy.

WORKERS erect a home run fence at Jackson field in Parma. This project is the next to last scheduled for the new field that has the Parma little league and Babe Ruth age boys playing for the first time in five years. The final phase is the completion of a new concession stand. Shown from left are; Ezel Thatch, Bearne Hampton, Lowell Shelby (kneeling), Junior Kirk, Danny Atchley and Bob Lewis.

Praises Volunteers

The following is a letter from the Portageville Little League baseball commissioner, Dale Shumate, who praises volunteers.

I would like to take this opportunity to say "thanks" to many people who have had a part in preparing for our summer baseball program. These include those individuals who helped build our new drink stand, rest rooms and press box; repaired the fences and prepared the field for playing; as well as the work done on the practice fields.

Many hours of labor were involved in this effort, and it was all donated. Not one dollar of the money contributed for the baseball program this year was paid out to the men who mixed the mortar, wielded the hammers and welding torches, installed the plumbing, laid the block, wired the drink stand and press box, and spread the paint.

Some of the material was donated, some bought at cost, and some below cost. Machinery and tools to do the work, and trucks to haul the material were donated. Our dugouts are being kept in good repair by one of our local merchants. We still have some work to be done on the drink stand but decided to start the season of play without further delay.

We are proud of our new drink stand, press box and rest room facilities. You are all invited to come by and see for yourselves what can be done when enough people are interested and willing to put forth sufficient effort.

We've had better cooperation from more people than ever this year. A large number of people have helped who do not have children involved in the program.

There is still a need for more people to help. We have to have umpires, score keepers, announcers, and workers for the drink stand at every game.

This year we have bought 47 good used uniforms for the Boy's Little League, and 30 new uniforms for Boy's Pony League. This together with continual operating expense, requires a lot of money. Part of this money comes from the people who purchase the space on our Outfield Fence Signs. This year, we've sold all but four of these signs. Some people who have not purchased signs have made cash donations. We appreciate all of these donations, as well as the ones from the Civic Clubs and the Park Board.

We've already completed two successful weeks of play in which a large number of boys and girls (approximately 210) have been involved. Attendance has been good and fans have shown a lot of enthusiasm.

I'm sure there is a lot of room for improvement. We have made mistakes, however we strive not to make the same mistake twice. Those people who don't make mistakes are the people who aren't doing anything.

We have one of the nicest ball parks, for a small town, in this area. We should all be proud of it, and strive to keep it that way.

Our reward for time and labor comes from seeing the boys and girls playing ball and enjoying themselves in a wholesome, competitive, character building sport.

Signed: Dale Shumate.

May Prevents Sweep

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Lee May undid the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night preventing a series sweep by the National League champs. He cracked a bases loaded single in the 10th inning to give the Reds a 4-3 victory.

Kansas City had the day off to prepare for a six-game home stand against Detroit and Oakland. The Royals open the series with the Tigers tonight with Dick Drago slated to be on the mound against Mickey Llich of the Tigers.

St. Louis jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first on Joe Torre's run scoring single and a wild throw by Cincinnati pitcher Jack Fisher.

Lou Brock homered for the other St. Louis run in the fourth.

Cincinnati pecked away with single runs in the second and fourth and tied it in the seventh when Nelson Briles balked with a man on third.

In addition to his tie-breaking single, May accounted for the Reds' fourth inning run on a solo homer, his 16th of the year.

Briles absorbed his fifth loss against four victories. Jose Pena won it with one inning of relief.

The Cards also play at home tonight, opening a three-game set with Houston. Ray Washburn, only 2-6 for the season, will try once again to get back in the victory column. Denny Lemaster will start for Houston.

Babe Ruth Scheduled Tonight at East Prairie

EAST PRAIRIE — Little League play at East Prairie last night saw the Eagles down the Dodgers 12-2 in thre innnings.

Eagles' winning pitcher was Gene Hockersmith with five strike outs.

Ed Lafferty was the top hitter for the winning squad as he went two for three.

Darrell Davenport took the loss for the Dodgers with five strike outs. Allen Henshaw and Eugene Fry obtained the team's only hits.

The second game was rained out.

We're challenging your business savvy.

You pride yourself on being a good businessman. Right? After all, your sales are booming, your profits bigger than ever.

Another mark of the good businessman is having the most complete, efficient insurance protection.

Our challenge: A show-down (more likely, a show-up) between your present insurance coverage and ours. To see if you're getting your money's worth.

Rik or Joe Leslie will gladly meet you at your place . . . any time, at no obligation . . . to check your insurable exposures. Thoroughly. Expertly.

Then we'll compare. You'll find out if you really are a good businessman. Or just a Leslie policy away.

We've flung the gauntlet. Game?

Women Golf Notes

For the lady golfers who played at the local course on Tuesday Phyllis Jovner was hostess. Prizes were awarded on net scores as follows; Mrs. Joyner 64, Jean Cox 68; Beanie Ralph 69 and Betty Mitchell 70.

Five golfers made a trip to the Poplar Bluff club where they enjoyed 9 holes of golf and lunch. The beautiful tricky course proved to be a real challenge to the ladies who are used to playing on the flat land. Mary Bain and Mary Godwin of Poplar Bluff tied for second following Mrs. Lorene Mussell who scored a 37. Jean Sanders of Cape Girardeau was fourth with a 42.

Thirty seven seems to be the magic number this week for Betty Dawson scored that on the New Madrid course on Thursday. Nine of the local players made this jaunt.

Following nine holes of golf lunch was served. The tables were beautifully decorated with favors and magnolia buds in brandy snifters.

Besides Mrs. Dawson being the medalist and winner of the championship flight the other Sikeston players placed as follows:

Doris Stepp won the prize for the longest drive.

Lucille Miller won third in the third flight. Betty Mitchell won third in the second flight. Tatty Tope was second in the first flight.

Jean Hatler from Charleston was the sweepstakes winner. She was second in the championship flight and won the prize for the longest putt as well as first honors in the number of putts.

Eighty players participated in a real fun day at New Madrid.

WINNING BIG ONES

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chuck Baltazar, one of the most successful riders on Maryland and New Jersey tracks, has ridden the winners of two $100,000 races in the last two years.

In 1967 he won the John B Campbell Memorial at Bowie with In Reality and last year he won the Lassie Stakes in Chicago with David (Sonny) Werblin's Process Shot.

Baltazar is the regular rider for Process Shot and she is well staked this year.

HOW TO RESPECT THE FLAG

During a flag raising ceremony or when passing in a parade, always face the flag. Men should hold hats over left shoulder. Women should hold hand over heart. Military men should give military salute.

When National Anthem is played and flag is displayed, all present should face the flag and salute.

Civilians show respect for flag when Pledge of Allegiance is given by standing at attention. Men remove hats. Military men give military salute.

Wet Ground Delays Planting

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Some Missouri farmers may be forced to switch to soybeans if they are not able to get their corn in the ground within about 10 days, experts said today.

Federal and state agriculture experts reported because of wet weather only about 81 per cent of the state's intended corn crop has been planted, while virtually all the corn had been seeded by this time last year.

Planting of soybeans also is behind schedule, with some 62 per cent planted against 75 per cent a year ago.

Authorities reported Missouri wheat is ripening later than usual, with about 40 per cent of the crop turning color compared with 70 per cent by this time last year.

About 64 per cent of the alfalfa hay harvest has been completed, compared with 75 per cent a year ago.

Reports said most Missouri pastures are in good shape, although some in the Southern part of the state are beginning to reflect a lack of recent moisture.

New Air Force Chief Bomber Advocate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first appointment to the Joint Chiefs of Staff is Air Force Gen. John D. Ryan, a strong advocate of an advanced bomber force in a time when nuclear missiles are considered the nation's main strategic weapon system.

Nixon announced the appointment Thursday of the 53-yearold Ryan, former head of the Strategic Air Command, to succeed retiring Gen. John Paul McConnell on the Joint Chiefs. Barring unexpected resistance in the Senate, Ryan should become Air Force chief sometime in August.

A World War II bomber pilot with 58 missions over Europe, Ryan will be the first new face on the Joint Chiefs of Staff since Nixon took office.

The President Thursday also:

—Went through with a previously-announced decision to extend Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler for a record sixth year as chairman of the Joint Chiefs.

—Nominated Adm. Thomas H. Moorer for another two years as chief of Naval Operations, bringing his term in line with a recent law specifying standard four-year tours for members of the JCS.

Since becoming vice chief of staff last August, Ryan has shunned publicity because, as one associate put it, "The chief of staff does the speaking while the vice chief stays home and runs the store."

Officers close to Ryan say he is a firm believer in maintaining a mixed force of bombers and missiles as the backbone of the nation's deterrent striking power, and that he strongly supports a proposal to build an entirely new Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft for the Air Force of the 1970s and beyond.

The third straight Air Force chief with a SAC background, Ryan is known as "Three Finger Jack" because of a World War II wound. He has made no effort to build a public image—a quality which fits in with the general tone of present-day military chiefs, who are known mostly as managers.

As Air Force chief of staff, he will head 868,000 men spread around the world.

Lean and athletic looking, Ryan stays in shape playing handball. At West Point, he was an outstanding football player.

Born in Cherokee, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1915, Ryan graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1938 and won his pilot wings the following year.

After piloting B17 bombers against the Germans in World War II, he took part in the first Pacific atomic weapons tests at Bikini in 1946 and went on from there to a series of bombardment unit commands before being assigned to SAC headquarters as director of materiel.

Ryan's two sons, both Air Force captains, flew Phantom jets over North Vietnam and now are stationed at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., He and Mrs. Ryan also have a grown daughter.

Ryan's elevation leaves an opening in the vice chief's slot. The two leading possibilities are Gen. James Ferguson, commander of the Air Force Systems Command at Andrews Air Force, Md., and Gen. Jack Merrill, chief of the Air Force logistics command, Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Charleston Cleanup Committee Makes Report

CHARLESTON - The Chamber of Commerce beautification committee held a meeting Friday to review the results of the month-long Clean-up - Fixup - Planup campaign held during May, according to Mrs. Norman Harper, chairman of the MCB committee.

Mrs. Marshall Currin, a member of the committee, said three slum-area houses have been painted, and the continuing group hopes to have six painted by August 1. More than a dozen gallons of outside white paint have been donated to the program, including a recent gift from the Christian Task Force Committee of the local United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Currin said many people have shown an interest also in painting the inside of their homes, some using inside paint donated by a Cape Girardeau interior decorator.

Mrs. Harper reported that 175 truckloads of trash were hauled to the city dump by city workmen during the clean-up drive.

Some suggestions for an improved future program include:

. Moving the plant-swap day to the first week of April each spring.

. Holding a second plant-swap day in the fall, probably in the middle of October.

. Putting more emphasis on the poster contest, with the cooperation of school art instructors.

. Asking extension clubs and women's clubs to plan at least one community betterment project each year.

. Asking the city council to inaugurate some form of weed-control program, particularly in low-income areas, where residents cannot afford expensive control measures.

. Trying to enlist as many people as possible in the cleanup program next year, in view of the success experienced with a limited number of young volunteers this year.

Mrs. Harper invited suggestions of all Charleston residents on how the month - long campaign can be made even more successful in 1970.

North Korean Spy Boat Sunk, 13 Aboard Killed

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean forces sprang a trap on a North Korean spy boat this morning, sank the boat and killed all 15 men aboard, South Korea's Central Intelligence Agency announced.

The agency said the high speed patrol boat had been dispatched to pick up a North Korean agent on Huksan Island, off the southwest coast. But the agent, Kim Yong-ki, had been captured by the South Koreans May 30, and a trap was set around the island, the intelligence agency said.

When the enemy patrol boat approached the island in the guise of a cargo-fishing vessel shortly before midnight Thursday, a combined army, navy and air task force was ready for it.

Forcing Kim to maintain radio contact with the craft, the South Korean force waited until the Communists were about to put a three-man team aboard a rubber raft to pick up Kim on the island. Then the air force lit the area with flares, and the south Koreans opened fire.

The intelligence agency said the enemy tried for six hours to fight their way out of the ambush, but all 15 were killed and the boat was sunk. Two bodies were reported recovered, and efforts were under way to raise the spy boat.

There were no South Korean casualties, the agency said.

An earlier report said the 75 foot, four-engine boat had been captured. But the agency said later the South Koreans were forced to abandon the sinking craft after counting about a dozen bodies on board and recovering some North Korean equipment.

The vessel, which had a maximum speed of 35 knots, reportedly was armed with an 82mm recoilless gun, four 40mm guns, two 14.5 antiaircraft guns, three heavy machine guns and two light machine guns. The South Koreans said they also found eight automatic rifles, five pistols and two antitank grenades aboard.

The agency said Kim 38, of Haeju, North Korea, was in the liaison division of the Communist party and was on an espionage mission in South Korea when he was captured.

Malden City Council OK's Lease With Bee Cee Group

MALDEN - A new lease agreement between the City of Malden and Bee Cee Manufacturing Company was approved Monday night by the City Council.

Under terms of the agreement reached between Bee Cee and the Airport Board, three buildings now used by the company will be connected to make one continuous building and an automatic sprinkling system will be installed. Cost of improvements will be amortized by the firm at the rate of $200 per month.

C. R. Berry Construction Company was awarded the construction contract for the improvements with a low bid of $13,980. Other bids included West Lumber Co., $15,275; Mid - Continent Construction Co., $15,185; and Walker - Hampton Construction Co., $14,860.

Installation of the sprinkling system will be a separate item.

Bee Cee Manufacturing Company has been operating in Malden for several year. They manufacture aluminum storm doors and windows. Recently they announced plans to manufacture thermo-pane glass. The company is owned by Jack Baker of Des Moines, Iowa, and Jack Douglas of Malden.

The company employs 50 to 75 persons and under terms of their lease have agreed to employ an average of 50 persons for the first year and 60 persons for the second year.

John Howell, chairman of the Airport Board, appeared before the City Council to request the release of funds set aside for resurfacing of runways at the Airport. He said the money was needed to complete industrial improvement projects for Sterling Division of Federal - Mogul, Continental Homes. Bee Cee Mfg. Co., and Weise Engineering & Planning Co.

Howell said that $24,500 was now in time savings deposit in Malden banks and has been set aside to match state funds for the improvement of runways. He said that the runways are in good condition and that the money is needed to complete the industrial projects.

Projects underway include the improvements for Bee Cee, a new street and parking area for Sterling, and a railroad spur leading to Continental Homes plant.

The Council agreed unanimously to release the funds as requested. Howell assured the Council that the Airport Board still planned to resurface the runways at the airport, but would do so at a later date.

Howell said that he would like to clear up a matter about additional housing at the Airport. He said that his board had made a request to the Federal Aviation Agency to release ground west of the Waller Addition for the purpose of providing sites for residential dwellings. He said that the FAA had turned down the request on the grounds that air traffic would create too much noise for a residential area.

James Newberry submitted a plan of a new Stokes-Howell Sub-Division located west of Highway 25 and south of Pittman Road for approval by the Council. Approval was granted.

Bids on providing gasoline for City owned vehicles were opened and Santie & Sons and Summers Standard Station were the low bidders. Each was awarded the City's gasoline business for a period of three months. Santie's bid was 20.6 cents for regular and 23.1 for ethyl. Summer's bid was 20.7 cents for regular and 23 for ethyl.

An easement was granted to Ozark-Border Electric Coop to run electric power lines along the north side of the Air Base.

Harold Taylor's Asphalt Service was awarded a contract to blacktop a 900-ft. street which will provide a new entrance to Sterling Division of Federal - Mogul Corporation.

Councilman Leroy Evans reported that the rest rooms in the City Park are being damaged by vandals. He requested and was granted permission to have the rest rooms locked each night at 8 o'clock.

LONDON (AP) The Government has refused to back development and production of a contraceptive pill for men, because of the "appalling increase" in abortions in Britain.

Baroness Serota, Minister of State for Health, said it also would be very costly and the Government did not feel justified in contributing.

Fisher-Stevens Marriage Dissolved

SANTA MONICA, Calif. AP - The two-year marriage of singers Eddie Fisher and Connie Stevens has ended in divorce, and they disclosed in court, for the first time, where and when they were married.

Miss Stevens, who won an uncontested decree on grounds of cruelty, said she and Fisher were wed on Feb. 9, 1967 in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Their marriage was secret until their first baby was born. Then they refused to reval wedding details.

Under an agreement, Miss Stevens receives custody of daughters Joely, 1½, and Trisha, 5 months, plus $1,000 a month child support. She waived alimony.

U.S. Announces Military Units Leaving South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today two brigades of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division and a regimental landing team of the 3rd U.S. Marine Division will be withdrawn from South Vietnam by the end of August and replaced by South Vietnamese soldiers.

The Command said a special task force working out details of the redeployment in Hawaii "reports that the first combat unit to be replaced will be a battalion of the 9th Infantry Division."

"It is anticipated that this battalion, composed of approximately 900 men, will be airlifted before mid-July to the continental United States for inactivation."

In Washington, the Pentagon estimated there will be 16,000 men involved in the first withdrawal.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced the withdrawals were the initial recommendation of a special task force now meeting in Hawaii to plan President Nixon's 25,000man replacement program.

Pentagon officials said the 900-man battalion being withdrawn is part of two brigades of the 9th Infantry Division which has been operating extensively in South Vietnam's swampy Delta region.

The Marine outfit has been headquartered at Dong Hai, in the northernmost I Corps below the demilitarized zone.

All three of the 9th Division's brigades are serving in Vietnam but the Pentagon did not identify which two would be removed.

Nor was the Pentagon saying for the moment where the Army and Marine units would be redeployed, except for the one battalion.

Precise numbers were hard to come by in Washington despite the Pentagon announcement.

Officials said the 9th Division's two brigades normally would have 5,000 men each, but the 10,000-man total includes a number of support detachments which would be left in Vietnam.

Similarly, the Marine regimental landing team at full strength has 7,000 men, some of whom are in support units to be left behind.

A decision for U.S. withdrawals was reached last weekend at a summit meeting of Presidents Nixon and Nguyen Van Thieu on Midway Island.

The United States now has 538,500 military personnel in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, "will announce the designation of the specific units to be involved" in the redeployment.

The 9th Division, known as the "Old Reliables," has been in South Vietnam since late 1967 and began operating in the fertile Mekong Delta south of Saigon in early 1968. It has three brigades and a number of combat support units. Its headquarters is at Dong Tam, 45 miles south of Saigon.

The 3rd Marine Division, which came to South Vietnam in late 1966, has been operating in the northernmost I Corps tactical zone near the demilitarized zone. Its headquarters is at Dong Ha, about 90 miles north of Da Nang.

An estimated 16,000 Marines and soldiers will be involved in the redeployment, leaping about 9,000 more to be replaced to complete the announced phased withdrawal of 25,000 American fighting men.

Miss. County May Welfare Hits $168,385

CHARLESTON - The Mississippi County welfare payroll for June totals $168,385, according to Mrs. Agnes Cunningham, county welfare director.

That amount was divided among 2,094 cases, with 1,591 children receiving aid to dependent children as the largest single group. Old age assistance recipients totalled 1,175 cases, and another 203 received permanent and total disability payments. General relief cases accounted for 169 persons, and 32 received aid to the blind.

The totals, by category, are as follows: ADC, $59,377; OAA, $81,168; General Relief, $11,283; Disability, $13,837; Blind $2,720.

The addition to these amounts, the welfare office supervises 81 patients in professional nursing homes.

Omaha Beach Revisted By Correspndent

EDITOR'S NOTE
Henry B Jameson, publisher of the Abilene, Kan., ReflectorChronicle, landed with American forces on D-Day at Omaha Beach as a correspondent for The Associated Press. Now he has returned for the anniversary observance.

By HENRY B JAMESON

OMAHA BEACH, France (AP)—Hundreds of American veterans of World War II have returned to the scenes of the greatest invasion of all time for 25th anniversary celebrations that stretch for 50 miles along the Normandy coast.

Dozens of American, British and French generals and other high ranking officers, headed by Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, were on hand. They stood erect, taking salutes like old times. Although many were wearing civilian clothes they were easily recognized.

Because of the anniversary celebrations at a dozen or more coastal towns, the Americans memorial service at Omaha and Utah Beaches were moved up to the eve of D-Day.

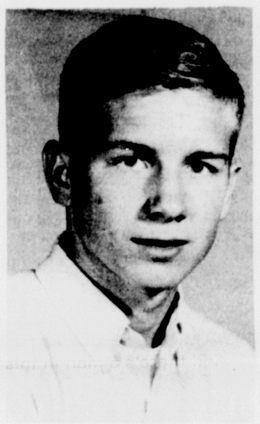

The American observance officially started with an oldfashioned picnic lunch given by Ambassador and Mrs. Sargent Shriver on a hillside overlooking once bloody Omaha Beach.

It was held in a recreation chalet that the French government has constructed just below the cemetery where 11,000 American soldiers are buried, and within the shadows of a ravine up from the beaches where the first breakthrough was made.

Only Trickle Passes Over Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Only a tiny trickle of the Niagara River now works its ways to the American Falls.

The 4.5-million-gallon-a-minute water flow was all but stopped Thursday when workmen, after three days on two 11-hour shifts, dropped the last load of rock and fill into a 6-foot cofferdam that shunted the river to the Canadian Falls.

The river was shut off so Army engineers and geologists can be lowered over the falls starting next week to test the rock strata, especially the Rochester shale.

They hope to find ways of preventing further erosion that has caused huge portions of the 182-foot-high precipice to collapse.

To prevent the rock face and brink of the falls from drying out during the five-month project, a water spray will be maintained.

Meanwhile, the tourist attractions will not be forgotten,.

People will be allowed to walk across the Niagara River and the famous Cave-of-the-Winds trip will be open, but at a reduced price.

The Canadian or Horseshoe Falls, 176-feet-high, still roar.

Japan's automotive industry, second largest in the world, produced 4,089,500 passenger cars and trucks during 1968. The country's passenger car production totaled 2,058,400, and the industry produced 1,922,700 trucks and 38,400 buses. It exported 605,000 cars.

Speech Therapy Clinic Scheduled For Charleston

CHARLESTON - The Mississippi County Health Department, in cooperation with The Missouri Crippled Children Society has set up a summer speech therapy program at the Charleston R-1 Kindergarten building.

The summer program will be conducted two days a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning June 10 and ending July 30. Individual therapy sessions will be 30 minutes and set up on an appointment basis. All children and adults residing in Mississippi County with a speech or language problem are eligible for this service.

The therapy sessions will be on an "ability to pay" basis and no one will be turned away because of inability to pay. Donations that are received will be for the Easter Seal Society.

The therapist for this program is Terry Rowe, who is the speech correctionist in the Charleston Public School System, grades 7-12.

For further information or appointment, contact Jackson Burke, acting administrator, Mississippi County Health Department, Phone 683-6583.

FORT AUGUSTUS, Scotland (AP) — The monks of Fort Augustus Benedictine Abbey have "adopted" an area of Sweden in an attempt to reintroduce the monastic life there. The 29 priests and 13 lay brothers at the Abbey are raising money to help a former Abbot of Fort Augustus, who is already working in the province of Varmland. They expect to send the first monk from here to join him soon.

Who Replaces Stolen Coat And How?

Dear Ann Landers: Mac is no kid (past 30), so keep this in mind when you answer. We had dinner in a first class steak house Tuesday night. There was no checkroom, but the men hung their coats on hooks in the entrance way. Mac left his coat there. After dinner Mac's coat was gone. He went to the manager and was told that the cloakroom is a convenience and the management is not responsible. Mac was furious.

Last night I was surprised when Mac suggested we go back to the steak house for dinner. He didn't wear a coat, but on the way out he helped himself to a fine looking three-button number, which fit him perfectly. I was shocked and said so. Mac's defense was as follows: "I'm not stealing. The owner of this coat will raise the roof, and the management will replace it. He won't be out anything. In the meantime, the joint owes me a coat."

Is Mac guilty of stealing? ---- Chagrined

Dear Chag: When a person takes something that doesn't belong to him, it's stealing, no matter what the rationalization. Mac is as big a thief as the bum who stole his coat and you can tell him I said so.

Dear Ann: A young bride-to-be just left my home. She was in tears. Her parents are divorced and it was one of the uggliest and messiest divorces that ever hit this town. The girl's blood father insists on the right to give her away at the wedding, but he is either unable to pay for the affair or he refuses to do so. The girl's stepfather has a lot of money but he refuses to pay for a wedding in which the blood father gets the honor of giving the bride away. Can you come up with a solution to this agonizing dilemma? --- A Friend

Dear Friend: How does the bride-to-be-feel about her father? How does she feel about her stepfather? The selection should be based solely on sentiment. If she wants her blood father to give her away she should be willing to forego the lavish affair and settle for a simple ceremony -- whatever he can afford. If the girl feels closer to her stepfather, he should have the honor. Her blood father should be an invited guest and he can accept or reject the invitation, as he chooses.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm bugged by something and I don't know who to ask. So, you're elected.

Dear Red: The watch is worn on the arm that is used less to diminish the chances for breakage. The doc chooses the watch arm when he gives a shot, for the same reason. Some shots produce discomfort and semi-incapacitation for a few hours and it's logical to put the less active arm out of commission.

Confidential to Is Silence Golden: Not always. It would have been an act of friendship if you had told the woman that her false eyelashes had fallen into the soup.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Local Women Attend Seance

Skeptic Draws Back When Ouija Board Reacts

By BARBARA LACY

There was a seance for skeptics Saturday night in Sikeston; and some of the skeptics, as one spirit put it, got more than they bargained for.

It happened like this:

A Tuesday morning woman's study group read William James' "Varities of Religious Experience" which includes a chapter on mystics. Next, they asked Bill Secoy, former minister in New Madrid, who has studied parapsychology, or events outside the world of psychology to talk to them.

He told us about Mrs. James Vernon and Mrs. Larward Clark of Poplar Bluff who have been communicating with the spirits via a Ouija board for two years.

We were ecstatic, skeptical or not.

The meeting was arranged for last Saturday night. No darkened room, no incense, no beards or strange music.

Instead we sat in a comfortable living room drinking coffee or soda and munching chocolate chip cookies while the two young attractive and sensible looking women told us how they got started.

Delores Vernon began:

"We were at a club social when someone brought out a Ouija board. No one was getting anything until Carmilita and I tried. When we placed our hands on the marker we felt a current, that's the only way I can describe it. We got all sorts of messages even though we had never used a Ouija board before.

"Several weeks later I saw a Ouija board in a dime store window and bought it. We took it along when we went to visit Carmelita and Larward Clark that night.

That's when an entity or spirit named Molly Turner appeared. Since then, they have spent hundreds of hours communicating with Molly, as two typed notebooks of their questions and her answers testify. They found that Molly was, as she said, Delores' paternal great aunt, whom her father had heard of but had never met or mentioned to Delores.

Her speech sounded Bibical, rather like the King James version of the Bible or 15th century English.

Two vignettes are:

"In the vineyeards of thy soul lie the wine of the father, reposing in unsupped cups, ready to be tasted by thee. Where doeth thee drink when thee art thirsty.

"On boughs hang the ripping fruits of thine labours. Have thee planned thy harvest."

In similar poetic language she gave her opinions on such subjects as birth control, and race relations. "God makes not common differences, all image lies in the soul."

Molly in an entity whose purpose is to help earthbound spirits leave the earth. Thus, her mission was to introduce Carmilita to Carolyn Bailey, Carmilita's great grandmother's sister, who lived in Kaskaskia, Ill., in the 1850's. Because of the events in Carolyn's life she could not "sit with the father" until her story was told.

Carmilita received her story through automatic writing, that is, she would go into a light trance and when she put a pencil to paper, she knew what to write.

The book is now at a publishers.

We were fascinated. The girls, who slightly resembled one another, told us that they had been sisters in a previous life, before the civil war in Charleston, South Carolina. They met a noted psychiatrist at a center where they study psychic phenomena, who told them later that he was sure that he was their father in that life.

Delores explained reincarnation as an universal order or a process of learning. "The earth is a school," she said, "all souls were created at one time and when they have learned all they need to know they sit with the father.

She quoted Molly, "Is the seed done after only one season?"

But since Carmilita has finished Carolyn's book, Molly has finished her work with the girls. She had declined to appear to us when they asked her earlier in the week. The girls, who are still quite immersed in psychic study, feel they have passed from the Ouija board stage. At least they are not drawn to it as they once were.

It is the lowest form of communcation they explained. However, they got good results with it, and it was the easiest way to communicate, so they prefered it to other forms. Another form is the trance, Carmilita said. Once they went into a trance and Delores received one half of the message and Carmilita got the other half from Molly. "But it was too fatiguing," Carmilita added.

"Do you have any questions," they asked.

Well, we did, but we were more interested in working the Ouija board, right then.

They hadn't brought theirs, but there was one in the house.

"Do you mind if we use it? Cheri Blanton asked. "I'm just dying too. I've always believed in it and I feel hot tonight."

(I was feeling cold and clammy.)

The board was brought out; a cream-colored rectangle with circus type on it. At the top it said, "Ouija" with "yes" to the left and "no" to the right. The alphabet was printed in a semicircle and a straight line across the center. On the bottom were numbers from 1 to 0, or 10. The marker was a plastic triangle with a plexiglass hole in the center and felt tipped legs. It wouldn't move just by tipping the board. We tried.

After much discussion about who would be first, Cheri and I sat facing each other with our knees touching, the Ouija board on our laps. We were extremely tense as we placed our fingers on the marker with 14 people watching.

"Do we have a contact?" we asked. We sat with our fingers curved like a beginning piano player's.

Slowly the marker begain to move. We called out the letters it passed over.

"turfhsrstrsss."

"Are you sure you're not moving it?" we asked each other. We began again. "Do we have a contact: answer yes, or no."

"Yes" Our eyes lit up.

"Who is it?" we asked again.

"J c k t, no, ugh, pruv." We were getting something, but we were confused as to what.

The phone rang. It was for me.

"There is my contact," I said. We all laughed.

While I was on the phone Delores and Carmilita were persuaded to give a demonstration. They sat down, very relaxed. The moment they placed their hands on the marker it began to move with a graceful rythm.

"Do we have a contact?"

"Funny you should ask."

"We've got a jokster, I'll bet," Carmilita said.

"Continue" they said to the spirit.

"Take the tulip, take the rose and thee have the garden."

"It sounds like Molly, they said, confused. "But she said she wouldn't be hear tonight."

"Continue".

"I see thee."

"Who are you?"

"Frannklin."

Hmm, Franklin put too n's in his name we said. Ask if it is Ben.

But they said, "continue."

"I say yes, do you want to speak to me?"

"Who are you?"

"Wanting to know may get you more than you bargained for."

"He's gone," they said suddenly. They could feel that whoever was there had left.

"Oh spirits are like that, they play tricks on you. Some are band and some are good. We were told that we had a good contact in Molly.

"Do we have a contact?"

"The wagon rolled along and papa fell back to watch for the indians that had followed us all morning."

They shrugged their shoulders at this message and said, "continue."

The marker flew along, faster than anyone could make up what was coming through. Delores read the letters as Naomi Secoy jotted them down. When the marker stopped, she would read the message to us.

"Continue".

"Caw or not, the wagonmaster fell back too and pretty soon we saw them coming along too.

We weren't being reverent and the next message chided us:

"I came to thee in earnest and thee made light of me," and then the spirit was gone.

Ask again, we said.

"Do we have a contact?"

"The divide is beyond thee until thee strive to surrmount the mountains."

"Continue."

"I see thee see not the way of me."

It must be Carolyn, they mused. It sound like her, but she said she wasn't coming back until our birthdays," Carmilita said, "Christmas day is her birthday, and mine."

"If thee see the willow thee will see me."

"It must be Carolyn."

"Thee may see my Bank."

"Continue".

"Jest not for tis truely mine and ever was it so." "If it's not Carolyn it is someone imitating her. Continue."

"My secret's safe with this one of me." They laughed at this message. Ask who it is we said.

"It's no use they said. It could say it was Carolyn and how would we know it wasn't?

"Continue."

"Oh great wind, what a warrior art thou, bringing me scents of violets and plums so pungent in flavor. Thee cover my head and keepest me ever dumb."

They were shaking their heads. "It's a poem from Carolyn's book, but it doesn't feel like Carolyn."

"Continue."

"Ever so. See when he came to the time you know."

"We aren't getting anything," Delores said and left the board. Others sat down with Carmilita. The following was recorded!

"How can you not see me iap."

"Line the mc".

"Look to the east for me, know that the luster is great."

"Join the holy ones nultlirh."

"Keep to thine self the fis."

"We're not getting anything tonight, "Carmilita said. "They're just playing around."

"Continue."

"Wusiturstk."

Carmilita left the board, Jane Selyers, Sue Schumpert, and Marcia Manning were among those trying it next. If the marker moved for them, it moved very slowly. The spirits were not coming through. The recorder wrote down!

Then Marcia Manning sat down with Cherie Blanton.

"Bcs sp qpk."

"coug."

"r"

All of a sudden I was impatient. I wanted at that board. I implied to Marcia that nothing was coming through and please move over.

Cherie and I rested our hands on the marker. It begain to move and this time we had ryhthm.

"Do we have a contact?"

"Hcerhdrov" -- we both knew when the marker stopped. Even though we didn't have a message we knew something was there. We were relaxed and felt confident.

"Do we have a contact?"

"uber"

"Do we have a contact."

" wbucb"

Maybe it's a child who can't spell, we thought.

"Are you 4 years old?"

Immediately the marker went to "no." That surprised us, like someone was looking over our shoulder.

"We continued: "Are you female?"

It forcefully went to "yes."

Bravely we continued, "are you a relative?"

"Yes."

Do you want to speak to Cheri?"

"No."

She breathed a sign of relief.

"Do you want to speak to Barbara?"

"Yes." The pull of the marker was tremendous.

And that was the end of the seance. I wasn't ready to meet whomever wanted to meet me. I leaped from my chair and went to the other side of the room, and quivered.

"Come on," they said. "You've got someone."

And that was what I was afraid of. Delores and Carmilita had said some people aren't ready to contact spirits, some are searcihing for something and are quite receptive. Others are above needing help from the spirit world. I decided I wasn't ready.

Sue Shumpert and Cheri tried to contact my spirit with no results. At last I went back, but I wasn't receptive, nothing happened.

Delores and Carmilita had gone home. If they had been here I might have gone ahead.

But not everyone felt as I did. Sue Shumpert bought a Ouija board the next day and plans are being made for a second seance soon.

But as Cheri put it, "I'll get my messages elsewhere."

If You Were the Judge

Is Conduct Unbecoming?

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Horace's lack of resistence to a good looking girl made his existence rather frantic, primarily because he was married and his wife failed to appreciate his cavorting. In fact, she finally complained about it to the head of the city agency for which Horace worked. Almost immediately Horace was booted out of his job for conduct unbecoming a city employee.

Irate, Horace hustled off to the nearest courthouse where he demanded that he be given back his job.

"What I do on my own time," he complained to the judge, "is my own business. While I may be married to my wife, I've got no marital obligations to the city. Therefore, the city had no right to fire me, particularly since my performance on the job had been top drawer."

"Of course, we had a right to fire him," retorted a city official. "When a married man dallies with the dollies, he sets a bad example. Nor does it make any difference whether or not he does it on his own time since it still gives the city a bad time."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the city to give philandering Horace back his job?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! He held that a city has a lawful interest in the fundamental standards of propriety to be exercised by its employees; that since the public expects all governmental units to be concerned with the maintenance of good order, a city employee who engages in improprieties not conducive to good order can be fired for such improprieties regardless of when he engages in them.

(Base upon a 1965 Wisconsin Supreme Court Decision)

Malden PlanGroupSeeking To Interest More Members

MALDEN — John Davis, Chairman of the Malden Planning Commission presiding before a meeting of Malden citizens interested in the cities comprehensive 701 Plan, stated that it would be the goal of any planning commission to involve as many people as possible in the development of the plan.

His remarks followed a statement of Dan Carr, Planner in Charge of the Malden plan for the firm of Gassner - Nathan - Browne, Memphis, Tennessee, ito the effect that the more information on Malden fed into his office, the harder he would have to work, and the better plan he could produce.

Bill Crabtree, Manager of the Malden Chamber of Commerce introduced John Davis at the meeting, a joint gathering including the Mayor, City Clerk, City Council, Planning Commission, Board of Public Works, Airport Commission, Chamber of Commerce, and interested individuals.

Gassner - Nathan - Browne, Architects and Planners, have been retained by the City to prepare the Comprehensive Plan under the "701" Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Jack Pierce, represented the Department of Community Affairs at the meeting. The DCA is the State Funding Agency that will make available three fourths of the funds necessary to the production of the plan.

Miss Helen Hess is home for the summer from Waco, Tex., where she taught school the past session.

Mr and Mrs. Gus Martin, Miss Amy Allen, Frank Marsh and Mrs. Forrest Hobbs drove to St. Louis early Sunday morning. The party enjoyed a program by Little Jack Little and returned that night.

John A. Martin, better known here as "Bud" was buried Wednesday morning following services at the Nazarene Church. Bud was a likable chap, happy-go-lucky and a first rate baseball fan and pitcher. Last summer he left his native city for Flint, Mich., to seek additional honors in the baseball field and to find employment in automobile factories there. He died last Saturday night at Hurley Hospital, a victim of pneumonia.

Louis Richards, for many years a resident of Scott County, although a native of Tennessee, died of cancer of the throat las Wednesday in a St. Louis hospital at the age of 73 years, 9 months and 6 days.

MANIFESTO

To the white Christian Churches and the Jewish Synogogues in he United States of America and all other racist institutions. Presentation by James Forman delivered and adopted by the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit, Michigan, on April 26, 1969.

(7) We call upon IFCO to serve as a central staff to coordinate the mandate of the conference and to reproduce and distribute en mass literature, leaflets, news items, press releases and other material.

(8) We call upon all delegates to find within the white community those forces which will work under the leadership of blacks to implement these demands by whatever means necessary. By taking such actions, white Americans will demonstrate concretely that they are willing to fight the white skin privilege and the white supremacy and racism which has forced us as black people to make these demands.

(9) We call upon all white Christians and Jews to practice, patience, tolerance, understanding and nonviolence as they have encouraged, advised and demanded that we as black people should do throughout our entire enforced slavery in the United States. The true test of their faith and belief in the Cross and the words of the prophets will certainly be put to a test as we seek legitimate and extremely modest reparations for our role in developing the industrial base of the Western world through our slave labor. But we are no longer slaves, we are men and women, proud of our African heritage, determined to have our dignity.

(10) We are so proud of our African heritage and realize concretely that our struggle is not only to make revolution in the United States, but to protect our brothers and sisters in Africa and to help them rid themselves of racism, capitalism, and imperialism by whatever means necessary, including armed struggle. We are and must be willing to fight the defamation of our African image wherever it rears its ugly head. We are therefore charging the Steering Committee to create a Black Anti-Defamation League to be funded by money raised from the International Black Appeal.

(11) We fully recognize that revolution in the United States and Africa, our Motherland, is more than a one dimensional operation. It will require the total integration of the political, economic, and military components and therefore, we call upon all our brothers and sisters who have acquired training and expertise in the fields of engineering, electronics, research, community organizations, physics, biology, chemistry, mathematics, medicine, military science and warfare to assist the National Black Economic Development Conference in the implementation of its program.

(12) To implement these demands we must have a fearless leadership. We must have a leadership which is willing to battle the church establishment to implement these demands. To win our demands we will have to declare war on the white Christian churches and synagogues and this means we may have to fight the total government structure of this country. Let no one here think that these demands will be met by our mere stating them. For the sake of the churches and synagogues, we hope that they have the wisdom to understand that these demands are modest and reasonable. But if the white Christians and Jews are not willing to meet our demands through peace and good will, then we declare war and we are prepared to fight by whatever means necessary. We are, therefore, proposing the election of the following Steering Committee:

Lucious Walker, Renny Freman, Luke Tripp, Howard Fuller, James Forman, John Watson, Dan Aldridge, John Williams, Ken Cockrel, Chuck Wooten, Fannie Lou Hamer, Julian Bond, Mark Comfort, Earl Allen, Robert Browne, Vincent Harding, Mike Hamlin, Len Holt, Peter Bernard, Michael Wright, Muhammed Kenyatta, Mel Jackson, Howard Moore, and Harold Holmes.

Brothers and sisters, we no longer are shuffling our feet and scratching our heads. We are tall, black and proud.

And we say to the white Christian churches and Jewish Synagogues to the government of this country and to all the white racist imperialists who compose it, there is only one thing left that you can do to further degrade black people and that is to kill us. But we have been dying too long for this country. We have died in every war. We are dying in Vietnam today fighting the wrong enemy.

The new black man wants to live and to live means that we must not become static or merely believe in self- defense. We must boldly go out and attack the white Western world at its power centers. The white Christian churches are another form of government in this country and they are used by the governments of this country to exploit the people of Latin America , Asia and Africa, but the day is soon coming to an end. Therefore, brothers and sisters, the demands we make upon the white Christian churches and the Jewish synagogues are small demands. They represent 15 dollars per black person in these United States. We can legitimately demand this from the church power structure. We must demand more from the United States Government.

But to win our demands from the church which is linked up with the United States Government, we must not forget that it will ultimately be by force and power that we will win.

We are not threatening the churches. We are saying that we know the churches came with the military might of the colonizers and have been sustained by the military might of the colonizers. Hence, if the churches in colonial territories were established by military might, we know deep within our hearts that we must be prepared to use force to get our demands. We are not saying that this is the road we want to take. It is not, but let us be very clear that we are not opposed to force and we are not opposed to violence. We were captured in Africa by violence. We were kept in bondage and political servitude and forced to work as slaves by the military machinery and the Christian church working hand in hand.

We recognize that in issuing this manifesto we must prepare for a long range educational campaign in all communities of this country, but we know that the Christian churches have contributed to our oppression in White America. We do not intend to abuse our black brothers and sisters in black churches who have un-critically accepted Christianity. We want them to understand how the racist white Christian church with its hypocritical declarations and doctrines of brotherhood has abused our trust and faith. An attack on the religious beliefs of black people is not our major objective, even though we know that we were not Christians when we were brought to this country, but that Christianity was used to help enslave us. Our objective in issuing this Manifesto is to force the racist white Christian church to begin the payment of reparations which are due to all black people, not only by the Church but also by private business and the U.S. government. We see this focus on the Christian church as an effort around which all black people can unite.

Our demands are negotiable, but they cannot be minimized, they can only be increased and the Church is asked to come up with larger sums of money than we are asking Our slogans are:

ALL ROADS MUST LEAD TO REVOLUTION

UNITE WITH WHOMEVER YOU CAN UNITE

NEUTRALIZE WHEREVER POSSIBLE

FIGHT OUR ENEMIES RELENTLESSLY

VICTORY TO THE PEOPLE

LIFE AND GOOD HEALTH TO MANKIND

RESISTANCE TO DOMINATION BY THE WHITE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES AND THE JEWISH SYNAGOGUES

REVOLUTIONARY BLACK POWER

WE SHALL WIN WITHOUT A DOUBT

NAVY TO CACHET APOLLO 11 COVERS

NORFOLK, Va. — Manned Spacecraft Recovery forces of the U.S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 11 manned space flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Forces 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make the distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of covers, collectors should send pre-stamped, self- addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator prior to July 4, 1969. In accordance with U.S. Post Office Department Regulations, only U.S. postage may be used on covers submitted. Stamps (postage) of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used, and cash or checks in lieu of postage cannot be accepted. It is further requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches with a filler inserted to simplify handling.

Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, the coordinators for Task Force 140 and Task Force 130 will accept a maximum of 6 covers from individual collectors (two covers per recovery ship) for the Apollo 11 mission.

Addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific area Coordinators are:

The Prayer
from The Upper Room

O Lord, in the morning thou dost hear my voice (Psalm 5:3, RSV)

PRAYER: Eternal God, who hast set us to live amid the marvels of this great universe, we bless Thee that it is possible for us to commune with Thee through prayer. We thank Thee for the assurance that Thou are more willing to hear us than we are to make known our need. Teach us to pray. Amen.

Charleston Notes

From the Charleston Daily Standard Bureau

HART PROMOTED

CHARLESTON – Eddie Hart, who has been manager of the Del Farm Food Store here for three years, was promoted this week by the National Foods chain to management of the company's store in Granite City, Ill.

Replacing Hart will be Larry Moore, 26, who has been assistant manager here. Hart, who has been employed at the store for fifteen years, serving as assistant manager and manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hart, and is married to the former Mary Jane Bruenderman of Charleston. The couple have two children.

JACQUES RESIGNS

CHARLESTON – Jerry Jacques, who has been cashier and loan officer of the Citizens Bank of Charleston for the past, this week announced his resignation, effective June 15.

Mr. Jacques has been appointed executive vice-president and chief managing officer of the Farmers State Bank of Ellington. He and his family plans to move to Ellinton about July 1.

Blackwell Refuses to Yield on Income Tax

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) – Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, voiced unalterable opposition again today to any increase in the individual income tax as proposed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

House and Senate conferees on the embattled income tax bill start work Monday afternoon.

Blackwell said he didn't know whether a compromise could be reached but "I hope we'll do what's right."

Even if the effective date of an individual income tax increase could be delayed until Jan. 1, 1971, as has been suggested, Blackwell said he would not vote for it because he does not think the money is needed in the next two years.

"If there is a deficiency – and I don't think there will be – then we can vote some other kind of a tax," the Senate President Pro Tem said.

He noted the current legislature refused to increase beer and liquor taxes "which would have raised $12 million easily without hurting anyone."

Heading House conferees on the income tax bill will be the majority floor leader, Rep. Richard Rabbitt, D-St. Louis, and four other supporters of the governor's position. The four senators with Blackwell on the Senate delegation are expected to stand solidly behind him in committee.

The only thing at stake is the difference between the House and Senate over a $34 million individual income tax boost, approved by the House but twice rejected by the Senate.

Five Priests Assigned

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) – Special assignments for five Roman Catholic priests were among appointments announced today by the Most Rev. Ignatius J. Strecker, bishop of the Springfield-Cape Girardeau diocese.

The Rev. Bernard Vedder is to be chaplain of the Catholic community at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau and the Rev. Thomas Kozeny is to be associate chaplain.

The Rev. Justin Brauner, who has held the chaplain's post, will become diocesan director of communication for radio and television and will reside in Kelso.

The Rev. Philip Bucher is to be diocesan director of religious education with his office in Springfield.

The Rev. Louis Wyrsch is to be chaplain of the Catholic Community at Southern Missouri State College in Joplin.

The bishop also named 13 priests to pastorates in the diocese, including the Rev. Damian Boeding, a Benedictine Monk from Atchison, Kan., to be pastor of Sacred Heart Parish in Webb City and spiritual counselor at McAuley Regional High School in Joplin.

The appointments are effective June 18.

Area Students Gain Degrees

UNIVERSITY, Miss. – Twelve Missouri students were among 1,153 students at the University of Mississippi receiving diplomas during the 1968-69 academic year.

Chancellor Porter L. Fortune, Jr., awarded 872 degrees at Spring Commencement exercises. Among graduates were recipients of 196 advanced degrees, including 17 doctoral degrees, 97 masters degrees and 82 juris doctors. Two hundred eighty one received degrees at the end of the first semester.

Included were: David L. Craig, Essex, Bachelor of Arts in Biology; James N. Stearns, Jr., Sikeston, Juris Doctor; William M. Chaffin, Caruthersville, Bachelor of Business Administration in Accountancy; and Edith M. Haynes, New Madrid, Master of Arts in English.

Bank Robbed Of $33,479

YEADON, Pa. (AP) – Two men, armed and wearing black hoods, held up a Girard Trust Bank branch Thursday and fled with $33,479. A hidden camera caught the thugs pointing their weapons.

One man, waving a shotgun, forced three customers and four bank employes to lie on the floor. The other, meanwhile, vaulted over the counter and cleaned out three cash drawers.

Experts Differ On Peace Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) – The Viet Cong's establishment of a "provisional revolutionary government" for South Vietnam has observers differing widely on how the development will affect prospects for a negotiated peace.

Some experts now look for serious bargaining by the enemy resulting in progress at Paris. Others figure the Hanoi-Viet Cong team is digging in for a long, hard stand, dimming chances for any forward movement soon in the negotiations.

Officially, the U.S. position is that nothing has changed in the Viet Cong lineup except a name. The allies thus raised no objection Thursday to the new "government" succeeding the National Liberation Front at North Vietnam's side in the Paris talks.

Chopper Crashes Into Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) – A big Navy helicopter with six men aboard crashed into the sea off San Diego today. Two bodies were recovered. Search was under way for possible survivors.

The crash scene was seven miles southwest of Point Loma.

A Navy spokesman said at least one civilian was believed among the three passengers and three crewmen.

Irish Engineer Blasts TV

'Land of Friendly People, Not Just Insurrectionists'

BY E. J. MAYS
State Editor

CHARLESTON -- American television and liberal newspapers were blasted here today by Joseph Monaghan, prominent consulting engineer of Mullingear, Ireland, who said "America is losing its rightful birthright by allowing Television to show nothing but riots and violence, burning and a defeatiest attitude in its foreign transmission of news and in its leading liberal papers who wind their way to the Emerald Isle.

"The biggest thrill I've had on this trip, to visit my son Rev. Justin Monaghan, a Roman Catholic Priest, assigned to St. Henry's Catholic School at Charleston, is the friendly welcome we've received, all the way from our landing in New York to Charleston. We've seen no racial bitterness, no racial clashes, protestations against the war, no wall built up between white man and black man, as we have been led to believe by this deceitful TV and newspaper reporting," the affable, red-haired Irishman insisted.

RETURN TO HEIGHTS

Joseph Monaghan, better known as Joe to his friends, both in Charleston and Ireland, says he thinks "it is high time that Americans return this country to the heights of esteem it once claimed, before and after World War II. We should see the good things that are happening on television and read of them in the papers, instead of just on the bad ones, and there will always be a little rotteness in every land," Monaghan said.

Having issued his caustic criticism of an America that he thinks is undeserving of the unfavorable publicity it is getting, he talked of other things -- pleasant things encountered on this, his second visit to America and his first since his initial visit six years ago.

He said that he, and his charming wife, Maureen, along with beautiful daughter Mrs. Patrick "Paddy" Corey, of Duleek, Ireland, were "really thrilled" with their visit to the great Arch at St. Louis.

"Being an engineer I was not only pleased and thrilled but amazed and my knowledge increased for this is truly one of the world's engineering wonders" the Irish engineer, who carries a spring measuring tape in his pocket wherever he goes, said.

EMBARASSING MOMENT

Carrying that tape got him into some embarassing moments, at least from the joking aspect of his wife and daughter, especially when he made a measurement of Charleston City Hall's steps, checked the measurement for safe stress factors and then told the mayor and City Councilman Sam Story "your steps are unsafe, better fix them."

But Councilman Story was quickly assured by the joking Irisher that "replacement could take several years, without undue safety risks."

Corey said that this measurement was "nothing at all. While a guest at the Story home this week Monaghan is credited with measuring the ceiling joists to be certain they were safe. They passed his test, "Story relates, "so we are satisfied we're safe now."

He revels in the many marvels of America engineering and the many woods and wood by - products available in the United States. "We have no gum, oak or hardwoods in Ireland. We are planting some pine seedlings and hope they will result in a return of forests -- on the land used up during the demands for lumber in World War II," he said, with hope in his voice.

He also marvels at the cotton and corn crops, for they have no corn in Ireland, But, he points out, we have strawberries, as big, good and sweet as those grown here in Missouri. And our potatoes, as you know, are also better than average, he pointed out.

Monaghan went "fishing" at Kentucky Lake with crickets and caught "some bream and crappies. No crappies exist in Ireland, neither do catfish, although some Irish farmers are interested in commercial growth of catfish. The only sporting fish in Ireland are the trout and salmon, with a Jan. 1 October season on trout and salmon opening in March and open through November.

'GREEN MEN'

Asked whether or not he had brought any "little Green men" Leprechauns, with him he replied:

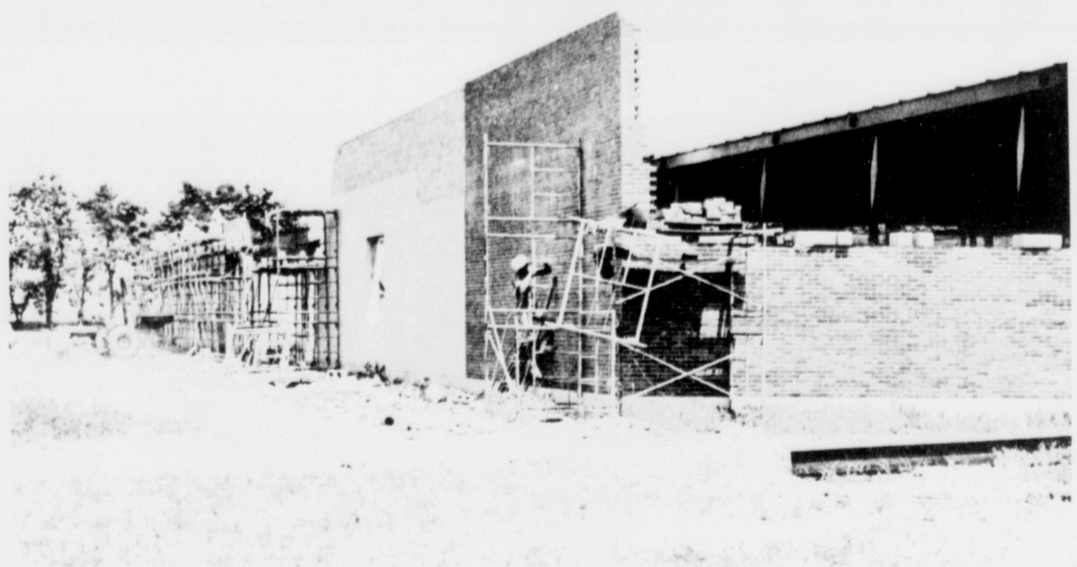

"We allow them only to contact our good friends, and only in Ireland. If you come over to visit us we'll let you talk with them." To which statement his winsome wife added "that is if you have a money tree and can show it - in which case we'll give you one of the fascinating Little Green ones."

Engineer Monaghan maintains his own engineering firm of J. B. Monaghan Engineering and Consulting Service and specializes in home building.

The red haired, jovial -- he's always smiling -- Irishman is abashed at the lack of exercise taken by many middle-aged Americans. "If I lived in America I'd start a series of walking clubs, just as we have in Ireland and many of the now paunchy Americans would be as trim as I am," he said," and a look at his trim, 165-pound figure bore out this contention.

Another thing that amazed him was the "fast pace you American's follow, both in work and play. In Ireland we even plan an outing days in advance."

He said that Ireland's biggest problem is not the political rift-rather the lack of industry. However, the National Government has created an agency -- like your Industrial Seeking Boards -- to bring foreign industry to the Emerald Isle. There is even now a Dutch tobacco firm, which employs some 100 persons, and a dishware manufacturing plant that exports its products throughout the world, now located in Ireland," he pointed out.

WORK HAS RESUMED at the Kingsway Plaza Shopping Center in Sikeston. The center, which was schedule for completion this fall, is planned for completion next April. The drop - back in completion resulted from changes in planning of some of the buildings. It is also anticipated that several more businesses are to be announced for the center.

Liquor By The Drink for Miner

MINER -- The three absentee ballots regarding liquor by the drink in Miner were counted 2 p.m. today and all three favored the measure.

Unofficial returns, before today's official count and the including of the three absentee ballots, showed 88 persons favoring the measure and 85 persons opposed liquor by drink. The three absentees make the vote 91 for - 85 against.

It is expected the Board of Trustees will enact a stringent ordinance at the next regular meeting that will regulate the businesses that can have liquor by the drink.

Sun Airlines Lists Creditors

Sun Airlines Corp., a third-level air taxie carrier which suspended operations Tuesday night, yesterday filed a petition in Federal District Court seeking a "plan of arrangement" to satisfy its creditors, the Memphis Commercial Appeal reported today.

The airline listed assets of $355,309.5 and debts of $3,257,228.72, with 480 creditors.

Cotton Holyfield, manager of the municipal airport here, said that Sun has no outstanding bills here.

John Godwin, spokesman for the Cape Girardeau Central Airways, said Sun owes them $1,032.36 for fuel, and an undetermined amount of money for landing fees.

Judge Carl R. Graves, chief referee in bankruptcy, placed the firm in receivership and appointed F. C. Marr receiver. Robert A. Udelsohn and Howard A. Rubenstein are Sun's attorneys, the Memphis paper continued.

The petition, under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy law, is not a bankruptcy, but was discribed by one court official as "an action to rehabilitate a company that's in financial straits."

Mr. Udelsohn met with Mr. Marr and later said, "The next thing will be a meeting of creditors. Then he will propose a plan of arrangement to be submitted. There's no deadline on it."

The largest creditors appeared to be Greyhound Leasing Corp. of Chicago, $110,000; South Central Bell Telephone Co., more than $56,000 for use of Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) lines; Robbins Airborne, a fixed-base operator at Memphis International Airport, $16,633; Lear Jet in Wichita, Kan., $15,713; Mobil Oil Corp. in Kansas City, Mo., $15,658; Cities Service Oil Co. in Philadelphia, $12,422, and The Don Horn Co. at 2777 Winchester, aircraft parts suppliers, $11,351. Fifty Memphis firms were listed as creditors.

Sun was also sued yesterday by 119 Associates, a partnership involving Howard A. Weiss of Chicago and Lionel C. Epstein of Washington, who charged that they had agreed to lease Sun a Learjet in return for 12,500 shares of stock, but never received the stock.

Meanwhile, Walter Looney, president of DeSoto Airlines, another third-level carrier based in Memphis, said his firm had suspended service. Mr. Looney said DeSoto was unable to get the type aircraft it needed to operate efficiently. De Soto shut down June 1. Only Mid-Continent Airlines remains as a third-level carrier here.

Sun had had financial difficulties since early 1968 when it was formed to fly local service air mail. The airline later surrendered its air mail contracts.

Airport Director Robert H. Wood said yesterday afternoon he had not been contacted by Sun officials but assumed that the receiver, Mr. Marr, would appoint someone to oversee the airline's hangar and equipment, which includes DeHavilland Otters, Beechcraft D-18s, Cessna 402s and a Learjet, until the firm's future is determined.

The petition listed David Filson, president; James Ables, executive vice-president finance and treasurer; Paul Sheridan, vice president operations, and C. L. Denison, vice president sales, as Sun's officers.

Charleston Cancer Fund Hits $1.236

CHARLESTON - The American Cancer Society's drive in Charleston has collected $1,236.05, according to Mrs. Ernest Carman, city chairman, who said she wants to thank all those who worked and helped in the campaign.

The American Cancer Society is organizing a chapter in Charleston, and is now in the process of forming committees for its education and fund-raising activities.

Anyone interested in helping these committees is asked to contact Mrs. Carman.

Will Crew Be Ready For Apollo II Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Apollo 11 flight has a green light for a moon landing attempt in July. The question now is: Will the crew be ready?

Neil A. Armstrong, civilian commander of the flight, and his crewmates, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, face a heavy training program to prepare them fully for the scheduled July 16 blast-off.

Armstrong is scheduled to be the first to set foot on the moon July 21. He is to be joined by Aldrin 27 minutes later.

Ahead of the three are hours in mission simulations, briefings, reviews and run-throughs.

They'll work for more than 12 hours on many days between now and launch in the mission simulators, familiarizing themselves with the equipment and practicing responses to possible emergencies.

"We've got a tough job getting ready," said Donald K. Slayton, chief of astronauts. "We won't need very many glitches (unexpected problems) to not be ready."

Slayton said that even a simulator "bombing out on you for two days in a row" could delay the launch.

Space officials said privately Armstrong was pushing hard to meet the launch date.

He was irritated by the slowness of some mission planners, a source said, and brought pressure for faster action.

One of the delayed blueprints was said to concern the television camera on the Apollo 11 command module, the mother ship which stays in orbit 69 miles above the moon while the lunar lander descends to the surface.

Armstrong made a formal proposal that the television camera be removed from the spaceship. His logic, a source said, was that he had received no plan for its operation and if it wasn't vital enough to have a plan, then it was unnecessary to take the camera.

"He wasn't really trying to get rid of the camera," a source said. "He was just trying to force out a plan for its use."

Armstrong got his plan in short order.

Slayton said the final decision on whether the crew is ready will rest with Armstrong. And, Slayton said, if the civilian astronaut says the crew isn't ready, "then we'll just tell them (the space program administrators) that we won't go."

Officials are concerned that the Apollo 11 fliers may have to work so hard they'll miss the final three weeks of comparative rest which flight surgeons have urged for space crews.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief of medical operations, has urged that crews have time before flights to gain back strength lost in hectic training. This is to avoid having in space tired astronauts who are more apt to fall ill. Landing and walking on the moon will be the most strenuous exercise astronauts have faced since space flight began.

In his announcement Thursday that July 16 was the target date for launching, Lt. Gen. Sam C. Phillips, Apollo space program director, was careful to leave the door open for a delav.

One Fire

One fire was reported yesterday at 3:27 p.m. at the home of the Rev. Lindy M. Cannon, 910 North Kingshighway, acting Fire Chief Dolph Webb said today.

Damage was done to a bedspread which caught fire because it was too close to the light bulb in a linen closet. The Rev. Cannon is pastor of the Hunter Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Street Projects Underway

Surveys are complete for the widening of East Gladys Street, and will soon get underway for Southwest Street, City Manager W. Raymert Miller said yesterday.

East Gladys Street will be widened six feet on the south side from Main Street to Pine Street.

Southwest Street will be widened to 36 feet from Malone Avenue to Murray Lane. Southwest Street is presently 24 feet wide, so it will be widened on both sides. Curbs and gutters will be added.

Contractors have started paving Murray Lane between Malcolm Street and Dempster Street.

Paving is also underway on Linn Street near the Cotton Oil Mill and on Ralph Street.

One Accident

MATTHEWS -- A three-way crash Thursday at 8 p.m. at junction of highway 61 and 80, sent two persons to Missouri Delta Community hospital, and a summons to one of the drivers for careless and imprudent driving and failure to yield the right of way.

A 1963 Chevrolet, driven by David Rhyne, 17, Sikeston, stopped at the intersection, when he proceeded to enter highway 61 off highway 80, and drove into the path of a 1965 Dodge Dart, driven by Joseph Munger, Sr., 63, Sikeston who was coming south on highway 61.

The Rhyne car slid across highway and was struck by a 1967 Chevrolet, driven by Karen Rhoda, 20, Matthews, who had stopped to go east on highway 80.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Munger received cuts on the head and bruises.

Rhyne was given a summons for careless and imprudent driving and failure to yield the right-of-way.

Nixon Won't Halt Building Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction industry pleas that President Nixon act to curb union wage increase demands of up to 50 per cent and sometimes more are getting little encouragement from the White House.

Acknowledging the steep wage-price spiral is contributing to skyrocketing building costs, the President's Council of Economic Advisors still promised only to keep a close eye on the situation.

"The construction industry's size alone, about 14 per cent of the Gross National Product and more than 6 per cent of total employment, makes its influence in the economy a major one, and the present rapid rise in both prices and wages in the industry is a matter to which we are giving close attention," said Council Chairman Paul McCracken.

McCracken's response gave little comfort to Carl M. Halvorson, president of the Associated General Contractors of America, who had asked Nixon to step in with temporary compulsory wage settlements until the spiral slows.

"Because of the over-powering strength of the unions," Halvorson said, "there will be some bad settlements—bad for the country as well as for the contractors—unless the administration and the public speak out and give the industry some definite support in its opposition to thse inflationary wage settlements."

The kind of wage settlements Halvorson and other industry officials are complaining about is illustrated by a recent new contract in Philadelphia which will boost pay for 2,000 union plumbers from $6 to $9.25 per hour within two years, a hike of more than 25 per cent a year.

However, Labor Department figures show such whopping wage increases have not yet become the rule among the nation's approximately 4 million construction workers.

15 Injured

Summertime work and play took its toll in injuries Wednesday, when 15 persons were treated at Missouri Delta Community hospital for injuries.

New Theater to Locate In Midtowner Village

Three major building programs were announced today by the Mid-Towner Development Company. Heading the list is a new 500-seat, twin-auditorium theater to be built by Malco Theaters Inc.

Charles Matthews, Mid-Towner representative, said the new theater will be located 125 feet east of Wal - Mart in the Mid-Towner Village Shopping center. M. A. Lightman, president of Malco, said yesterday the twin- auditorium concept is new and this will be the first such theater to be constructed in Southeast Missouri.

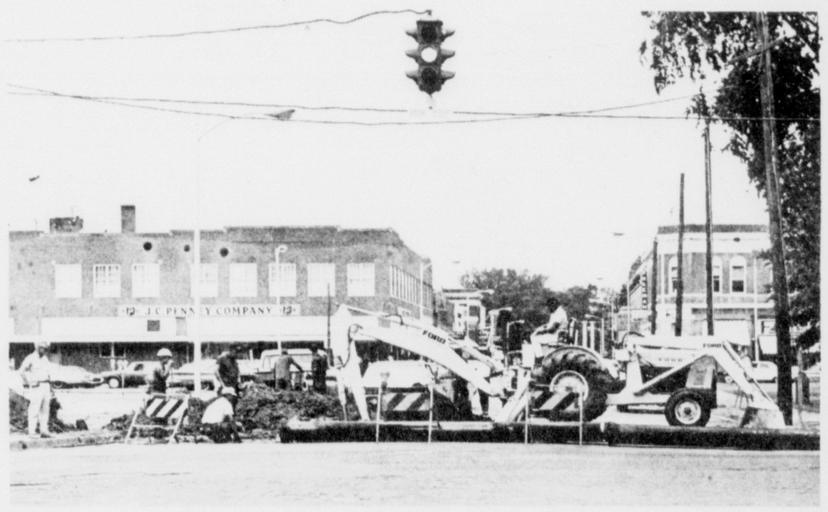

He cited the usage and scheduling of films as primary attributes of the twin - auditorium. Lightman said that normally two films will be shown at the same time, allowing people a greater choice. It also will allow the showing of the same films simultaneously, but at different times to allow people more freedom in times to view a movie.

Another advantage of the new theater, which is expected to be completed within six months will be the showing of films not considered conventional. Lightman said conventional films, such as westerns, could be shown to cover overhead of the the theater and this would allow the showing films considered less conventional, such as Interlude and Shakespearean films.

The company, which also owns the Malone and Rex Theaters in Sikeston, presently has a mutli- auditorium theater at Jonesboro, Ark., and Lightman said it is doing extremely well. Lightman said the future of buildings that house the Malone and Rex theaters is uncertain. Cost of the new theater was not disclosed.

The other major projects announced by Matthews include a 15,000 square feet addition to the Wal-Mart Store that will be initiated this fall. Projected plans call for completion next spring.

Matthews also announced that 2,000 square feet of space has been leased to a national ice cream company that will locate a ice cream- candy shop between Wal - Mart and the new theater. The name of this company was not disclosed. It is expected to be completed in April, 1970.

THE BUILDING OF A NEW water main in Sikeston is apparent. The line, which is expected to be completed within 60 days, is being extended from the Malone and Hyde Company on the west side of the city to about in Front of Pot-Latch on the eastern edge of the city. This picture was taken at the intersection of Malone Avenue and New Madrid Street. The line is being placed to stabilize water pressure in the city. (Photo by Dan D. Whittle)

ABM Compromise Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator whose uncommitted stance on the Safeguard controversy makes him a key figure in the fate of the program, says he is impressed with a compromise proposal to delay ABM deployment while allowing work to continue on other parts of the missile defense project.

Sen. Howard M. Cannon, DNev., said in an interview that "When I make up my mind, this could be something I would lead to."

"I am impressed by it," he added about the plan aimed at heading off what now appears to be a near deadlock over President Nixon's proposal to build missile defense sites in Montana and North Dakota.

Cannon is one of a half-dozen senators, who according to the latest Associated Press poll, haven't made up their minds on the Safeguard project.

Despite administration insistence it has no plans to yield, attention is going to the proposal by Sens. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., and Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to delay deployment but continue work on site radar and computers.

But some ABM foes say it isn't really a compromise.

"Calling something by another name doesn't change it," one opponent said, adding that any kind of deployment at the two sites would be a step toward Safeguard and no compromise.

Some ABM opponents are considering a plan to force an early showdown on the issue next week, but those close to the discussions say the odds are against it.

McIntyre, meanwhile, is conducting an extensive behindthe-scenes lobbying effort with some 80 of the 100 senators. The other 20 are considered hardcore ABM supporters who would never consider a compromise, even if the administration accepts it.

The New Hampshire Democrat proposed originally that the radars and computers be deployed either at the two initial ABM sites or at the U.S. test facility at Kwajelein in the Pacific.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!
AN ASIAN DILEMMA

President Nixon campaigned hard on the theme that he would bring peace to Vietnam. He was a prominent member of the administration that first sent Americans to that troubled nation. It was during the late President Dwight Eisenhower's tour of White House duty that advisers were sent to South Vietnam. During President Kennedy's term in office the advisers became combatants. This was the beginning of our deep involvement; the eventual downfall of Lyndon Johnson was a direct result of that escalation.

Now, though only a few months of his term have passed, the new Chief Executive is being assailed by Congressional doves, led ironically by the brother of the late JFK, Sen. Edward Kennedy. Time does bring changes.

The doves are for immediate withdrawal of U. S. forces. They want President Nixon to start the troops home without delay. South Vietnam's president is being blasted for trying to arouse sentiment among his Asian neighbors for retention of the allied forces. Mr. Nixon is in the middle.

We do not fault the doves for their criticism, but we wonder about the logic of their timing. The Paris talks have been dragging on for over a year. The bulk of that time occurred during the election period and the lame-duck segment of the Johnson administration. This was to be expected. The communists were trying to buy time to see if they could first influence the election. When this failed they were waiting to test the new leadership. We hope to see our men heading home, but not at the expense of having fought in vain.

There is a greater danger the doves should consider. If we withdraw and the South Vietnamese begin to falter without our support, one of two things could occur and neither will make the war critics popular. One, South Vietnam could fall to the communists with resultant brush wars breaking out in other southeast Asian nations; or, two, the South Vietnamese might turn to Chiang Kai-shek for military support. This could bring Red China into the fray, and large scale war could engulf all of Asia. Our presence may be the only factor that keeps Formosa out of the battle. Our withdrawal might well open the door to this vastly tragic possibility.

* * *

We notice in the papers where President Nixon announces a 25,000 troop withdrawal.

Our prediction is that it will make it harder to deal with North Vietnam in Paris.

If he really wants to hurry the peace we believe that the dropping of a bomb or two on Hanoi will get better results.

Anyway we are happy for the families of the 25,000 who are brought home and our sympathy goes to the other 575,000 who left behind to get wounded or killed in our no win program.

While membership in state-local government pension plans has increased (along with the number of such plans, their receipts, and benefits paid over the past decade), the increase in governments' share of these programs overshadows the other items, noted Tax Foundation, Inc.

From 1957 to 1967-68, receipts more than tripled. Employes' contributions more than doubled -- but state and local governments' contributions for pensions tripled.

The taxpayer, says the research organization, may not be aware that while he is saving for his own retirement, part of his taxes go through state and local governments to furnish retirement benefits to millions of government workers.

The 2,165 public employe retirement systems included in the last count were 1,982 locally - administered systems (most at the municipal level) and 183 state-administered systems.

There were approximately 7 million members, when last counted, compared to the 1.5 million back in 1942. This rate of growth exceeded the growth rate in total number of state and local government workers -- from 3.3 million in 1942 to 9 million in 1967.

In fiscal 1967-68 with $7.6 billion in receipts, a record, employes contributed over $2 billion, while governments' share was $3.6 billion, In 1957, governments' contribution was $1.2 billion.

For Kansas and Missouri, the figures for 1967-68 total receipts, employes' and state-local government contributions were: Kansas - total receipts $34 million, employes' contribution $14 million, state-local govt. contribution $15 million; Missouri - total receipts $90 million, employes' contribution $30 million, state-local govt. contribution $39 million.

Then goes on to say the board of directors will be appointed by the President.

The corporation would be government owned with power to issue up to 25 billion in bonds to finance the change over.

We believe if the President and congress were sincere in the change they would let some one in business corporations take over the job.

IT'S STILL THERE

We are pleased to write our congratulations to the durable state of California for deciding to stick with us. We cannot conceive the problems that might have arisen had the soothsayers been correct.

We would have been forced to return to the 49-star version of Old Glory and the mapmakers and geopraphy book publishers would have been forced into a crash program to up-date their products. The Supreme Court would have been meeting in the wee hours of the morning to try to figure out how to apportion the voting districts between the porpoises and the sea lions. In fact, there might well have been a major crisis as to whether the California sea lions would be allowed to retain that name of whether their keeping it would be construed as false labeling. Would the spceies become the Arizona sea lion? Or Nevada? Or Oregon? Or Washington?

We might have entered an era of conflict over salvage rights. What might we have done if all of the hippies caught in the catastrophe had polluted the Pacific Ocean? Can you imagine the hazards to sea life and navigation of all those resultant dirt slicks?

Speaking of hippies, could it be that Governor Reagan purposely started the rumors in an effort to clean up San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury section? What better way to rid one's state of the mass of unwashed than to threaten them with the cleanliness of immersion?

It will be interesting to see what the mass exodus of the hippies does toward assisting the smog elimination program in the Golden State. Maybe so many people left that the weight redistribution compensated for the slippage. We don't know. But we are thankful that the sunny state is still with us.

MAVERICK JUSTICES

U. S. Supreme Court Justices have "gone too far" and have injected "social and economic ideas" into their opinions, Nixon promised to appoint justices who would "interpret the Constitution strictly and fairly." President Nixon's May 21 nomination of Warren E. Burger as Chief Justice, and the naming of an associate justice still to come, will be analyzed in light of the criteria set forth in that campaign speech.

"Strict constructionism" apparently is what the President wants, but it may not be what he gets. The history of the Court is replete with examples of justices who performed in ways undreamed of by the Presidents who appointed them. The retiring Chief Justice offers a case in point. On his appointment in 1953, Earl Warren was regarded as an amiable, run-of-the-mill politician who would exercise judicial power with extreme caution. Instead, Warren emerged as an activist dedicated to the idea that the courts must guard individual liberty against the intrusions of governmental power.

Dashed expectations can cut both ways. When Franklin D. Roosevelt named Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone to the Chief Justiceship in 1941, the appointment was almost universally praised. But Stone proved an ineffective Chief Justice. Under Charles Evans Hughes, Stone's predecessor, Court conferences usually ran for four hours. Under Stone, they sometimes ran for four days.

Appointment of associate justices -- Nixon must also name a replacement for Abe Fortas -- also can produce surprises. John P. Frank, author of MARBLE PALACE (1958), notes that Woodrow Wilson named James C. McReynolds, "who proved to be the total antithesis of everything Wilson stood for and became the most fanatic and hard-bitten conservative extremist ever to grace the Court." Theodore Roosevelt appointed Oliver Wendell Homes, only to see Holmes turn against him in the landmark Northern Securities antitrust case. Nixon no doubt is aware of the twin gamble he is taking.

NEW YORK (AP) — We sailed from the Battery on the early tide, aboard the steamship Mary Murray.

It was a quiet embarkation without champagne or flowers, but where else can you go to sea for a nickel?

The 34-year-old Mary Murray is one of nine ferries on the nine-mile run to Staten Island—the same run on which the Vanderbilt fortune was founded a century and a half ago. She makes the trip in 20 minutes, carrying as many as 2,500 passengers.

Outward bound, we coasted past the old Governor's Island Army base before angling over to within shouting distance, almost, of the Statue of Liberty. Neglected Ellis Island and a shipyard wheeled past. Then with tugs, barges, a police boat, tankers and what have you streaming by, we ran along a line of anchored frighters.

On their reciprocal course to Manhattan, three other ferries, painted like ours a nasty yellow, churned along. They run every 10 minutes in the rush hours, every hour in the dead of night.

In spite of gloomy predictions, the opening of the Verazzano Bridge between Brooklyn and Staten Island has not cut ferry traffic disasterously, although bridges have put a dozen other New York ferries out of business.

How on earth does this one make a profit on a 5-cent fare? It doesn't. It's just that the politicians who overcame natural timidity to increase subway fares from 5 to 20 cents have never gotten up courage to touch the ferry fare.

For all that, the Mary Murray is clean and well kept. She is as ancient as they come—some of her eight sisters are only four years old and carry up to 3,500 passengers. And she runs on steam.

"Takes hundreds of gallons of fuel to make th round trip," asserts a deck hand, "but this old up-and-down steam engine will keep going forever. The diesels on the new boats aren't cut out for this kind of job—they're always giving trouble."

Approaching the ferry slip on Staten Island the captain seems to head our 264-foot craft right into the bulkhead, but he cuts the power, drifts with the tide, and sends her ahead smartly into her appointed place.

The big gang planks come down, the passengers stream ashore, and I for one go around to the front entrance, drop another nickel in the turnstile, and take passage back to Manhattan, where skyscrapers thrust through the haze to unbelievable heights.

H.L. Hunt Says

GOVERNMENT AND THE FARMER

During the 20th century, farmers in the United States have proven their ability to meet the food needs of a rapidly growing population They brought previously barren land under cultivation, developed new and better hybrids, and used mechanization to increase production. For all these accomplishments, personal enterprise deserves the credit.

The farm policies of the United States government, on the other hand, have been almost uniformly disastrous. Instead of encouraging farmers to adjust production to free market supply and demand, the Department of Agriculture alternates between paying subsidies to encourage production and imposing acreage limitations to discourage it. Consequently we have surpluses, rising food prices for consumers, and continued difficulties for the farmer.

In the last two years for example, acreage cuts ordered by the Department of Agriculture caused a severe shortage in better grades of cotton, resulting in higher prices for consumers. In wheat and feed grains, the Department subsidized more production than the market was able to absorb, causing prices to fall sharply.

The Department of Agriculture has also arranged for large-scale shipments of U.S. farm products to "underdeveloped" countries, encouraging their dependency on the U.S. and enabling their governments to continue socialist experiments. Under the "Food for Peace and Freedom" program, foodstuffs have also gone to communist countries.

Farmers must pay the higher taxes that support these programs. They suffer from rising consumer prices and inflation. The best the Department of Agriculture could do for the farmer would be to free the $8 billion it will spend in fiscal 1969 for investment by personal enterprisers in agriculture.

Doc. Duncan Says

When voters are forced to vote under threat, this is no longer a free nation, and if one will stop to think it over it's seldom people get to vote on a law and when they do it's under threat of something worse to befall them at the instigation of their overpaid underworked hired hands. Three of the worst laws ever to befall of civilized people without their consent is in the State of Missouri, the oil law, the gun law and the auto inspection law, all as unconstitutional as slavery and in fact - and in truth almost vicious form of slavery.

The question arises, shall the people (the governed) be forced to obey unconstitutional laws enacted without their consent? It is said that Missouri will lose 30 million dollars of Federal funds in the next three years if the auto law is repeated, they stand to pay out at least five times that amount in unnecessary gaggets on their autos the first year of this law is let stand and since most auto owners are voters that's as usual poor economy, and it's high time the voters petitioned for a special election for a vote on this law and tohers and if they are denied a vote on it, it's high time they get a vote on remoing a few Rebels from the drivers seat, lets hear from others with their letters to the Editor.

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

--Nixon At Midway--

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, in reporting the details that led up to the midway meeting, accurately anticipated exactly what happened.

On May 27, they quoted President Nixon's closed-door comment to congressional leaders that he intended to withdraw American troops from Vietnam but wanted the suggestion to come from President Thieu.

On the eve of the meeting Pearson and Anderson wrote that a troop withdrawal agreement had been reached in advance and would be announced at the meeting as evidence of accomplishment. This is exactly what happened.

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Justice department matches wits with Sen. Dodd; Administration plays politics with the law; Nixon has chance to mend some Latin American fences

WASHINGTON--Connecticut' embattled Sen. Tom Dodd is playing a subtle game with the Justice Department to keep out of jail.

As a member of the Senate Judiciary committee, he has a powerful voice on matters affecting the Justice Department. The committee is split ideologically, with eight conservatives and eight liberals, not counting Dodd. This gives him the swing vote on controversial legislation and appointments.

He has made it clear that he can hardly be expected to support the Justice Department if it is going to indict him for income tax evasion.

Indeed, Dodd has let it be known that his votes on other key issues will be determined by the Nixon administration's handling of his tax case. All the polls indicate, for example, that the Senate is divided evenly over the controversial anti-ballistic missile system. As an outspoken hawk, he would be expected to favor the ABM system.

He has served notice on the Nixon administration, however, that he hasn't made up his mind how he'll vote. Hints have been dropped that favorable word on his tax case would help him make up his mind.

Attorney General John Mitchell has demonstrated, meanwhile, that he knows how to play this backstage game. He used the FBI to dig up derogatory information on ex-justice Abe Fortas, then took the information to Chief Justice Earl Warren. Thus pressure was brought on Fortas to resign, creating another Supreme Court vacancy for President Nixon to fill.

With the same cold calculation, Mitchell has turned the tables on Dodd and has let him know that no action will be taken on his case until after the ABM vote. This leaves an implied threat that if he votes wrong he might be prosecuted.

The Nixon Administration, apparently, is determined to win the Senate showdown over the ABM, which will be the President's first big test of strength. Several Senators have complained privately of arm twisting. Sen. James Pearson, the Kansas Republican, has had his arm twisted so hard that he was warned Nixon Administration leaders that he is going to be around until 1972 and is not going to yield to pressure.

Senate liberals were told, for example, that the antipoverty program would be held up until after the ABM vote. The implication was that their pet antipoverty projects would depend upon their ABM votes.

--Blind Justice--

Meanwhile, the Justice Department hasn't even bothered to follow up charges that Dodd violated half a dozen federal laws governing conflicts of interest. The Senate ehtics committee justified its own failure to investigate these charges by explaining they were matters for the Justice Department to consider.

Only the tax case is ready for prosecution, because this was developed independently by the Internal Revenue Service. It is up to the Justice Department, however, whether or not to prosecute.

As we reported last December, Internal Revenue has recommended that Dodd be indicted for Income tax evasion. Treasury Agents spent more than a year unraveling his tangled finances. They traced every cent that went into his multiple bank accounts and discovered a secret bank account that we had missed in the Bahamas.

The agents interviewed almost everyone who had contributed to Dodd's fund-raising affairs. Contrary to Dodd's claim, most understood their contributions were to be used in his political campaign, not for his personal enrichment.

The agents found what they considered to be evidence of criminal violations. Their findings were reviewed by the Boston office, which concurred in the recommendation that he be prosecuted.

Now the Justice Department is playing cat-and-mouse with Dodd. More important than the Dodd case, however, is the growing evidence that the Nixon administration is manipulating the law-enforcement machinery for political purposes.

Note: The New York Times has suggested that the Nixon administration is holding up action against Dodd until he is renominated for the Senate. Quoting unnamed sources, the times reported: "These politicians said it would be obviously too much to expect the Nixon Administration to do anything to hurt Mr. Dodd's chances of renomination when he may be the easiest candidate to beat."

--USA---Good Or Bad Neighbor????----

President Nixon will have a chance personally to improve the very sour relations between his administration and Latin America this week when he receives President Carlos Lleras Restrepo of Colombia.

President Lleras is a competent, fair-minded executive who two years ago received Chief Justice Earl Warren, a nonpolitician, with enthusiasm and warmth, without a single anti-American shout coming from anyone in he crowd. Warren did a great service by this goodwill tour of several South American countries and even though Rep. H.R. Gross, Iowa Republican, blasted him for receiving state department expense money, President Nixon ought to prevail on Warren to take more trips of this kind.

President Lleras, like most latin presidents, has economic problems. But he has been solving them. He has also used the medium of television to explain his policies to the Colombian people. In this respect, he and Nixon will have a lot in common.

Unfortunately, the neighbors of the USA, both north and southl have a rather sour taste regarding the Nixon administration. The efforts of Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans to erect import quotas, in effect tariff barriers, have left a bad impression.

In Canada, people are getting restless over Nixon's failure to accept an invitation to go to the border for the tenth anniversary of the St. Lawrence seaway this month to rededicate the principle of Canadian-U.S. cooperation.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

'Campus-itis' Antidote:

Union Chief Warns SDS Summer Work-In Activists of Tough Counter-Violence

Washington, D.C.: -- There are those with a subtle sense of permissive whimsy who considers SDS workshops in violence, explosives, sabotage, jamming radio equipment, the dropping of homemade boms down manholes and general industrial disruption as youthful exuberance and disdain for the status quo.

But labor leaders are not men of whimsy. They have been studying SDS "thoughts." They have been analyzing revolutionary students' documents labeled: "Work-In, A National SDS Summer Project" and "The Work-In Organizers' Manual." And in the jargon of the union hall, labor leaders, those who are polished and those who are still in the rough, plan to give the provocateur work-in summer rebels a thorough workout.

Some, such as Maurice Hutcheson, an almost anonymous national AFL-CIO vice president who also heads the Carpenters, say, "union leaders won't run from the threat of the confrontation . . and head-knocking may become inevitable."

Other union chiefs, whose industrial jurisdictions are specifically pinpointed in the SDS summer Organizers' Manual, urge their members to keep "cool" and attempt to spot the young self-proclaimed pro-Maoist and pro-Castro radicals. Joe Beirne, leader of the Communications Workers of America (AFL-CIO) has told his people and cool enough to deny them both a confrontation and an incident, they will be stripped of their most accomplished weapons."

Mr. Beirne reported to this 400,000 followers that the SDS has chosen telephone companies as one of the basic "work-in" targets. This genial Irishman, one of the AFL-CIO's most talented strategists, not famous for running from a fight, nonetheless asked his people not to overreact. And to be especially careful of race conflict. The SDS instructions, says Mr. Beirne, call for provoking a racial happening.

Union men whose followers operate another prime SDS target -- the nation's railroads -- also told their people to be alert . The work-in was given a going-over at a recent meeting of the Railway Labor Executives Assn. (a chiefs-of-staff union unit). Union chairmen on each line will watch for the youngsters.

Generally no prodding is needed to inspire an intellectural snort from labor leaders. But now the reaction comes even more swiftly than usual. Whether it's the nation's "Mr. Labor" himself, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, or Frank Fitzsimmons, the Teamsters acting president, union chiefs are saying that no unionized installation will be taken as have college campuses. Labor leaders won't be as skittish as college presidents and faculty members.

There now can be no doubt and no misunderstanding, says one national union leader about "our position."

"We want no disruption," he adds. "We want no violence, no wage-consuming ersatz picket lines, no stage-managed incidents. We want no explosion ripping up parts of a plant in which our people are workings. If these avowed rebels threaten the industrial peace we'll simply beat the hell out of them -- youth or no youth."

At least with this man there is no euphemism. He points to the SDS Organizers' Manual. He quotes a section which says that "job-seekers who should try to get hired in plants or transport depots that have several hundreds (let's say a 400-minimum) workers . . . "

Such men as Joe Beirne or the dynamic Charles Luna, president of the newly merged United Transportation Union (AFL-CIO) (railroad workers) see far more in the SDS manuals than a youthful rehearsal for summer soldiers of a playful revolution.

The Beirnes and the Lunas well know the saga of undisciplined American radicalism -- of both the gaslight and the campus eras. The SDS is made up of old and new revolutionists. There are the Trotskyites who first larded the American Labor Movement with scientific mass violence (the old Midwest teamsters). Today's young "Trots" are powerful in SDS high councils.

There is the Progressive Labor Party faction. Powerful, too. This band brought in the first early riot-era snipers (the early '60s in New York City). And only last April, the Progressive Labor Party sent Mao Tse-tung and the Chinese Communist Party a cable of congratulations and good fortune on the convening of the Ninth Party Congress in Peking.

There are Castroites practicing guerrilla tactics. And ther e is the pro-Moscow youth leadership.

These factions competed with each other at the SDS workshops in violence and explosives at recet national conventions and gatherings. Each is preparing even more violent and explosive documents for this summer's national convention.

Each caucus wants to control the SDS "Inter-organizational Secretary" responsible "for developing liaisons between SDS and labor unions (both blue and white collar) . . . "

These are the forces which led the college squads into action -- violence from which flashed fires, explosions and Marquis de Sade destruction of fine art and irreplaceable documents.

Even if there is no SDS industrial violence this summer, he union chiefs will find little comfort. The SDS Organizers' Manual directs its youth to assimilate first, then as the summer slips away, the instructions are to denounce union leadership where the plants are organized. Where there is no union, the employer is to be assailed either as racist or a hawkish war profiteer -- or both. Then the racial happenings are to be staged in the final days so bitterness will linger as one of the SDS summer work-in accomplishments.

Furthermore, the young men and women are told to find jobs in the area -- and arena -- of their universities so the contact made during the work-in can be cultivated.

This work-in is actually a plant-in. The target factories, telephone centrals and rail depots, shops and yards could for a long time be emotionally contaminated.

Rather than chance all this, the union leaders are saying quite frankly they'll get manual over the SDS Organizers' Manual infiltrators to keep the factories clean of what one high labor leader characterized as "a virulent campus-itis."

The Gospel Visitor

BY REEDUS M. BAUGHER

Jesus recommends the historical places, events, and people, in the scriptures. According to Jesus the scriptures are literally accurate, and also, the doctrine of volution is groundless.

Today, we notice; as to doctrine how did Christ consider God's word? He believed that every scripture was, for doctrine. His words to Satan were, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matt. 4:4) Opposed to this, it is the contention of some, that man lives by a few selected scriptures. (Of course they make the selection) And that some of God's commands are more important than others (of course they decide which are more important). Christ denounced this kind of attitude in the scribes and Pharisees, by saying, " Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone." (Matt. 23:23) And so it is with humans, when we set ourselves up as judges in divine matters, we are as apt to omitt the weightier matters as did the scribes and Pharisees; God only can decide which is more important. Man cannot direct his own steps. (Jer. 10:23; 1 Cor. 1:21).

I am not contending, by these statements, that everything from Genesis to Revelation is to be obeyed today. But we need to realize, that God expects us to study His word, and rightly divide it. This means to find the divisions which God has already made. In this, we need some study rules, such as: Who is speaking; to whom speaking; under what dispensation is he speaking; for what purpose is he speaking???? In Hebrews 10:9-10, we learn, that God has taken away the first covenant and established the second, and by it we are sanctified. Knowing this, we can use our time in learning God's will for us under the new covenant, and whatever that will, it must be obeyed. "The word of the Lord endureth forever." (1 Pet. 1:25) And it will be the standard to judge. (Jno. 12:48).

Remember, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." (2 Tim. 3:16). To prove something required, also proves its importance.

C.I.C. Meeting

LILBOURN — Mrs. W. L. Giddens was installed as president of the Civic Improvement Club at a meeting Monday. Other officers installed, who will assume duties in September, include Mrs. Jim Dambach, first vice president; Mrs. Ed Beavers, second vice president, Mrs. Herman Snellings, secretary and Mrs. Harold Ponder, treasurer.

Mrs. Frances Ponder was in charge of the installation service held at the home of Mrs. Dambach.

Mrs. Bill Ice, president, presided at the meeting.

The club will not meet during the months of July and August, but will resume in September with a picnic in the city park here. The Marston Civic Club will be guests.

Programs for the ensuing year were discussed and planned.

Announcement was made of the need for donations of General Mills coupons to benefit Girls Town. Mrs. W. L. Giddens may be contacted by anyone who would like to donate coupons for this project.

Mrs. Dambach was appointed to report activities and accomplishments of the club beginning in September.

Co-hostesses, Mrs. Ice and Mrs. Charles Simpson served refreshments to 14 members during a social hour.

Irish Ideas and Recipes Brought by Visitors

World famous Irish stew and Irish brown bread are common in the home of Mrs. Maureen Monaghan, and she shared her recipes with us.

Mrs. Monaghan is in Charleston, with her husband, Joseph Monaghan, and their daughter, Mrs. Pauline Corry, visiting the Monaghan's son, the Rev. Fr. Justin Monaghan, St. Henry's Catholic Church, Charleston. Fr. Monaghan's brother, Fergus, a student at Irish College, Rome, Italy, and Mrs. Corry's husband, Paddy, and their three sons, were unable to accompany the parents on their first visit to the United States.

Mrs. Corry, who provided the rish brown bread recipe, says, 'Irish stew is not so popular in Ireland as people seem to think. I have never prepared it in my own home."

Mrs. Monaghan commented, "It is one of Justin's favorite dishes, though, and I do not serve it as often as I did when the children were at home." Mrs. Monaghan gave us the recipe she uses for Irish stew, which she serves with the brown bread and a beverages (coffee or tea).

IRISH STEW

Mutton, 1 lb. lean, cubed
Ham, about ¼ lb. chopped small
Carrots, 1 cup, diced
Onions, ½ cup, sliced thinly
Mixed herbs, 1 Tablespoon (parsley, thyme, mint in equal quantities)
White sauce (recipe given below)
potatoes, 2 cups, diced

Begin with white sauce mixed in stew kettle (six to eight quart size). Add meats, carrots, onions and herbs. Simmer over low heat about two hours, until meat is well done. Add potatoes and cook slowly about twenty minutes, or until potatoes are just cooked through. May be served immediately, but must always be served hot.

WHITE SAUCE

Milk, 1 cup
Flour, 2 Tablespoons
Fat, 2 Tablespoons
Salt, ½ teaspoon

Shake flour and ¼ cup milk together in a closed container until thoroughly mixed. Add to rest of milk, fat, and salt. Simmer about one minute, until smooth.

IRISH BROWN BREAD

White flour, 1¼ cup
Brown flour (whole wheat), ¾ cup
Baking soda, 2 teaspoons
Cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons
Salt, 2 teaspoons
Buttermilk, 1 cup
Oleo, 1½ teaspoon

Note: Proportions of white and brown flour may be changed to make a darker or lighter bread, but the total amount of flour must be two cups.

Sift all dry ingredients together. Rub in oleo. Make well in center of bowl, and pour in buttermilk. Work dry ingredients into center, mixing with buttermilk. When mixed thoroughly, knead lightly on floured board, or bread cloth. Dough will be slightly moist. Roll into circle about one inch thick, and cut across top in a plus sign. Bake on flat pan, at 425 degrees 30 to 40 minutes.

An interview of the Monaghan family will be featured on Saturday's Woman's Page. c

Miss Debbie Collins

Miss Collins Installed In Job's Daughters Office

Miss Debbie Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Collins, 710 Mimosa Drive, was installed Honored Queen of Sikeston Bethel Number 27 of the International Order of Job's Daughters Saturday evening at 7:00 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 321 South Kingshighway.

Carrying out the Honored Queen's colors for her term, decorations consisted of five large purple flowers of paper with green leaves, in unique vase sparkling with accents of silver. Smaller bouquets of the same order were placed on the desks either side of the East dais.

The ritual ceremony began with the Senior and Junior Custodians escorting into the Bethel room, the Guardian, Mrs. Aquilla Grimes, and the Associate Guardian, Mr. Aquilla Grimes. After Mrs. Grimes formally opened the installation ceremony, Mr. Grimes retired to escort Miss Debbie Ingram, the Installing Honored Queen.

Miss Ingram gracefully accepted her position in the East and introduced the installing officers for the evening after they had been escorted into the Bethel room by the Installing Custodians. They were: Installing Honored Queen, Miss Debbie Ingram; Installing Guide, Miss Kay Stauffer; Installing Marshal, Miss Prissy Righter; Installing Chaplain, Miss Carol Miller; Installing Senior Custodian, Mrs. Dana Garner; Installing Junior Custodian, Miss Beth Montgomery; Installing Secretary, Miss Lucille Mount; Installing Soloist, Mrs. Mildred Canedy; Installing Organist, Mrs. Mayme Jean Poage.

After the introductions of the Installing Officers, the elected and appointed officers were escorted to their positions in a large triangle formed by their chairs West of the altar. The officers rose as they were introduced to the large audience gathered to witness the ceremony. The elected officers are as follows: Honored Queen, Debbie Collins; Senior Princess, Beverly Ingram; Junior Princess, Carla Colwick; Guide, Jane Campbell; Marshall, Karen Hollaway.

Miss Debbie Collins appointed these offices to serve with her during her six- month reign as Honored Queen: Chaplain, Terri Willis; Recorder, Sally Mitchell; Treasurer, Debbie Wheeler; Librarian, Sheila Clinton; First Messenger, Kathy Eaker; Second Messenger, Lisa Righter; Third Messenger, Teresa Moore; Fourth Messenger, Jo Ellen Felker; Fifth Messenger, Caryl Maria Joyce; Senior Custodian, Debi Silverthorn; Junior Custodian, Susan Hambrick; Inner Guard, Melissa Holt; Outer Guard, Frances Riddle; Musician, Karen Hambrick; Bethel Flag Carrier, Libby Walker.

The Installing Chaplain, Miss Carol Miller, presented the Holy Bible to the Bethel room. She was followed by five of the Honored Queen's favorite members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Evelyn Struwe, Martha Bell, Alberta Ingram, Naomi Davis and Beatrice Stauffer, each one wearing a full length evening gown, one of the starpoint colors. On the other side of the Bethel room marched five of the Honored Queen's favorite members of the Masonic Order, Franklin Struwe, A. V. Butler, Lynn Ingram, Walter Rayburn, Robert Boyer. The Bethel Choir followed the Eastern Stars and Masons in.

A triangle was formed East of the altar with each of the organizatons, the Eastern Star, Masons, and Job's Daughters, forming a side. This was symbolic of the sacred bond held between the organizations.

The Installing Chaplain was at the head of the triangle. She gave a tribute to the Bible and recited the Twenty-Third Psalm. Then Mrs. Mildred Canedy sang "Kum-ba-ya."

As the Installing Marshal, Miss Prissy Righter, carried the American flag into the Bethel, the crowd rose and sang the Star- Spangled Banner and pledged allegiance to the flag.

The Installing Chaplain attended at the altar and asked the blessings of God upon the ceremony.

The Installing Honored Queen, Miss Debbie Ingram, had the new officers and Bethel Choir repeat their obligation to serve the Bethel in their respective offices to the best of their ability. After all of these officers received their charges from Miss Ingram, they were escorted to their stations by the Installing Guide and Installing Marshal.

Miss Debbie Collins then approached the altar. Kneeling, her hands folded on the open Holy Bible, she repeated her oath. Mrs. Canedy then sang, "My Task." The Installing Honored Queen invested Miss Collins with the robe of royal purple velvet and the beautifully jeweled crown which are symbolic of the high office.

As duly installed Honored Queen she was escorted to the East by her father, Gene Collins, while Mrs. Canedy sang a song in her honor. The song was one to which Mrs. Canedy had written special words.

The Honored Queen then received the gavel of authority and took charge of the meeting.

Miss Collins welcomed her guests, expressed her gratitude to those who had helped with her Installation, and said she is looking forward to her term of office.

The ceremony of Escort, Honors, and Introductions was then begun. Miss Kay Stauffer was escorted to the East where she gave her retiring address. She was then escorted West of the altar to receive a bouquet of red roses, her Past Honored Queen's jewel, and other appreciative gifts from the new Honored Queen.

Miss Collins recognized other special guests who included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Collins, her brother and his fiancee, Randy Collins and Louise Smith; other members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. William E. May, Jeany and Jimmy from St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Collins, Sharon and Joni; Miss Gayle Collins;

The Guardian Council: Guardian, Mrs. Aquilla Grimes; Associate Guardian, Mr. Aquilla Grimes; Guardian Secretary, Miss Lucille Mount; Guardian Treasurer, Mrs. Allen; Choir director, Mrs. Barbara Hambrick, Past Guardians: Mrs. M. L. Canedy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Malcom, the first Guardian of Bethel Number 27; Worshipful Master of Masonic Lodge Number 310, Mr. A. V. Butler; Worthy Matron of Chapter Number 137 of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Martha Bell.

Past Honored Queens, Miss Kay Stauffer, Miss Debbie Ingram, Miss Beth Montgomery, Miss Carol Miller, Miss Prissy Righter, Mrs. Dana Garner and Mrs. Barbara Hambrick.

The Installing Chaplain gave the closing prayer, after which the Bible was closed. For the closing ceremony, the officers formed a triangle East of the alter, and left that position to form a cross. The benediction was given by Mr. William E. May, after which the officers sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

Everyone was invited to the reception held downstairs. The serving table was covered with a green net tablecloth edged in green satin and pulled up at the corners with purple bows and purple satin balls. Lime punch with a purple ice ring and party sandwiches and cookies were served. Special entertainment was provided by Sing-Out Sikeston, directed by Mrs. Carol Sue Clayton.

Vanduser Leading League

Vanduser claimed an 8-6 win over Parma last night and took over sole possession of first place in the newly formed Four - County Babe Ruth league, having the only undefeated record among the five league teams.

Bertrand took an 11-7 decision over Bell City to run its record to 2-1 and drop Bell City's to 1-2.

Advance collected the win at Vanduser with relief help from Bryant. Doyle Crews was the loser.

Walks and errors spoiled any Parma hopes of a victory as Vanduser capitalized on each in tallying its eight runs.

Parma errored eight times and gave up nine bases - on - balls, while Vanduser allowed but four walks and had but two errors credited to it.

A four run second and three run sixth inning were fatal for the visitors. Vanduser put four runs on the board in the second inning on three hits and three walks and used one hit and four Parma miscues to tally three runs in the sixth.

Crews smacked a solo home run for Parma in the fourth inning.

Bertrand surged from a 4-0 first inning deficit to clip steadily improving Bell City.

Extra base hits by Woods, Cresno and Bridges provided eight runs for Bertrand while Lee Rendleman's double accounted for two.

League play continues Monday with Bertrand going to Parma and Benton hosting Vanduser.

HIGH STEPPING Doyle Lefler, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lefler. A member of the Mutual of Omaha Little League team in the Musial League scores for his team during action Wednesday night. The Player at left is unidentified.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

By TERRY NOWELL

Musial and American Little League divisions went to the field last night with Collins Construction, Sikeston Standard, Police, and Leslie Insurance taking wins.

First Musial game saw Collins Construction blank Rotary by a 11-0.

Collins racked up seven hits in the battle compared to only two for Rotary. Butler took the pitching win and Vaught took the loss for Rotary.

Butler also led the hitting and scoring for Collins with two hits and two runs scored. Steams also had two hits for the winning squad.

In the second Musial contest, the Sikeston Standard downed the Bank of Sikeston, 16-8. Bank of Sikeston had a total of six hits, however compared to only two for the Standard.

Northington became the winning pitcher and Sauls took the loss for the Bank of Sikeston. Paul Johnson led the scoring for the Standard with three runs.

In the first match of American division play, Police downed Caproco by a 10-3 margin. Two of these Police scores came on home runs hit by the center fielder, White.

Police had a total of nine hits in the battle compared to three for Caproco. Thompson collected three hits for Police and also contributed two runs to the cause.

Caproco's three hits came from Manker, Taylor, and Whitaker.

Thompson took the win from the mound and Taylor took the loss.

In the final American game, Leslie Insurance edged past Fabick, 7-5. There was also a home run hit in this game as Fabick's Shell cleared the fence in the fifth inning.

Leslie had a total of seven hits in the game compared to only three for Fabick. Hill took the win for Leslie and Eskew suffered the loss for Fabick.

Wrong Pitcher Turns In Top Performance

MALDEN - Mike Bullock, manager of the Press-Merit Little League baseball team, was a little chagrined, but happy over a mistake he made recently in his selection of pitchers.

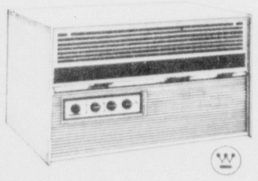

Mike has a pair of identical twin brothers on his team. Keith and Kent Luke. Kent is a left fielder and Keith is a pitcher.

In the opening game of the season Mike asked one of his players to tell Keith to warm up. The player, apparently a little confused himself, told Kent to warm up. When game time rolled around Manager Bullock told "Keith" to take the mound. "I'm Kent," the boy said.

It was too late to warm up the proper twin, so Bullock let Kent pitch. He struck out 17 in a six-inning game and the Press-Merit beat Associated Gas, 13-2.

Manager Bullock is still confused, but happy.

Stand-in Speaker

House rules require election of a stand-in speaker when the regular speaker of the House of Representatives plans to be absent for more than three days.

WORKERS erect a home run fence at Jackson field in Parma. This project is the next to last scheduled for the new field that has the Parma little league and Babe Ruth age boys playing for the first time in five years. The final phase is the completion of a new concession stand. Shown from left are; Ezel Thatch, Bearne Hampton, Lowell Shelby (kneeling), Junior Kirk, Danny Atchley and Bob Lewis.

Praises Volunteers

The following is a letter from the Portageville Little League baseball commissioner, Dale Shumate, who praises volunteers.

I would like to take this opportunity to say "thanks" to many people who have had a part in preparing for our summer baseball program. These include those individuals who helped build our new drink stand, rest rooms and press box; repaired the fences and prepared the field for playing; as well as the work done on the practice fields.

Many hours of labor were involved in this effort, and it was all donated. Not one dollar of the money contributed for the baseball program this year was paid out to the men who mixed the mortar, wielded the hammers and welding torches, installed the plumbing, laid the block, wired the drink stand and press box, and spread the paint.

Some of the material was donated, some bought at cost, and some below cost. Machinery and tools to do the work, and trucks to haul the material were donated. Our dugouts are being kept in good repair by one of our local merchants. We still have some work to be done on the drink stand but decided to start the season of play without further delay.

We are proud of our new drink stand, press box and rest room facilities. You are all invited to come by and see for yourselves what can be done when enough people are interested and willing to put forth sufficient effort.

We've had better cooperation from more people than ever this year. A large number of people have helped who do not have children involved in the program.

There is still a need for more people to help. We have to have umpires, score keepers, announcers, and workers for the drink stand at every game.

This year we have bought 47 good used uniforms for the Boy's Little League, and 30 new uniforms for Boy's Pony League. This together with continual operating expense, requires a lot of money. Part of this money comes from the people who purchase the space on our Outfield Fence Signs. This year, we've sold all but four of these signs. Some people who have not purchased signs have made cash donations. We appreciate all of these donations, as well as the ones from the Civic Clubs and the Park Board.

We've already completed two successful weeks of play in which a large number of boys and girls (approximately 210) have been involved. Attendance has been good and fans have shown a lot of enthusiasm.

I'm sure there is a lot of room for improvement. We have made mistakes, however we strive not to make the same mistake twice. Those people who don't make mistakes are the people who aren't doing anything.

We have one of the nicest ball parks, for a small town, in this area. We should all be proud of it, and strive to keep it that way.

Our reward for time and labor comes from seeing the boys and girls playing ball and enjoying themselves in a wholesome, competitive, character building sport.

Signed: Dale Shumate.

May Prevents Sweep

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Lee May undid the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night preventing a series sweep by the National League champs. He cracked a bases loaded single in the 10th inning to give the Reds a 4-3 victory.

Kansas City had the day off to prepare for a six-game home stand against Detroit and Oakland. The Royals open the series with the Tigers tonight with Dick Drago slated to be on the mound against Mickey Llich of the Tigers.

St. Louis jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first on Joe Torre's run scoring single and a wild throw by Cincinnati pitcher Jack Fisher.

Lou Brock homered for the other St. Louis run in the fourth.

Cincinnati pecked away with single runs in the second and fourth and tied it in the seventh when Nelson Briles balked with a man on third.

In addition to his tie-breaking single, May accounted for the Reds' fourth inning run on a solo homer, his 16th of the year.

Briles absorbed his fifth loss against four victories. Jose Pena won it with one inning of relief.

The Cards also play at home tonight, opening a three-game set with Houston. Ray Washburn, only 2-6 for the season, will try once again to get back in the victory column. Denny Lemaster will start for Houston.

Babe Ruth Scheduled Tonight at East Prairie

EAST PRAIRIE — Little League play at East Prairie last night saw the Eagles down the Dodgers 12-2 in thre innnings.

Eagles' winning pitcher was Gene Hockersmith with five strike outs.

Ed Lafferty was the top hitter for the winning squad as he went two for three.

Darrell Davenport took the loss for the Dodgers with five strike outs. Allen Henshaw and Eugene Fry obtained the team's only hits.

The second game was rained out.

Women Golf Notes

For the lady golfers who played at the local course on Tuesday Phyllis Joyner was hostess. Prizes were awarded on net scores as follows; Mrs. Joyner 64, Jean Cox 68; Beanie Ralph 69 and Betty Mitchell 70.

Five golfers made a trip to the Poplar Bluff club where they enjoyed 9 holes of golf and lunch. The beautiful tricky course proved to be a real challenge to the ladies who are used to playing on the flat land. Mary Bain and Mary Godwin of Poplar Bluff tied for second following Mrs. Lorene Mussell who scored a 37. Jean Sanders of Cape Girardeau was fourth with a 42.

Thirty seven seems to be the magic number this week for Betty Dawson scored that on the New Madrid course on Thursday. Nine of the local players made this jaunt.

Following nine holes of golf lunch was served. The tables were beautifully decorated with favors and magnolia buds in brandy snifters.

Besides Mrs. Dawson being the medalist and winner of the championship flight the other Sikeston players placed as follows:

Doris Stepp won the prize for the longest drive.

Lucille Miller won third in the third flight. Betty Mitchell won third in the second flight. Tatty Tope was second in the first flight.

Jean Hatler from Charleston was the sweepstakes winner. She was second in the championship flight and won the prize for the longest putt as well as first honors in the number of putts.

Eighty players participated in a real fun day at New Madrid.

WINNING BIG ONES

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chuck Baltazar, one of the most successful riders on Maryland and New Jersey tracks, has ridden the winners of two $100,000 races in the last two years.

In 1967 he won the John B. Campbell Memorial at Bowie with In Reality and last year he won the Lassie Stakes in Chicago with David (Sonny) Werblin's Process Shot.

Baltazar is the regular rider for Process Shot and she is well staked this year.

Sikeston Motor Tops Presley,6-5

In City League Softball play last night, Sikeston Motor edged Presley Trailer Sales 6-5. Don Harper went the route for Sikeston Motor and was credited with the win. Bob Blair was the losing pitcher.

Sikeston Motors attack was led by left fielder Lannie Preseley, who went three for four at the plate, including a game winning home in the seventh inning.

Sikeston Motors records now stands at 3 wins and 2 loses.

MALDEN — Twenty cars were featured last night at the Malden Jaycee Speedway with Zane Cook from Sikeston taking top money with his Camero.

Other winners in the competition were Calvin Robertson from Poplar Bluff, Don Heigel from Paragould, Ark., Ray Pickrell from Poplar Bluff, Don Russin from Poplar Bluff, and Jackie Joycer from Malden.

Racing takes place at Malden every Thursday night with a $500 guaranteed purse and a $100 payoff for first place in the feature race.

CHARLESTON — In Little League play at Charleston last night, Ponders took a 15-3 win over the Jaycees, Kiwanis downed McMikle by an 11-7 margin, and the Waggerner's edged by the KC squad, 11-10.

Opening game of the night saw the Ponders collect a total of 12 hits compared to only three hits for the Jaycees.

Brad Frazier became the winning pitcher and also contributed one home run to Ponder's effort.

In the second game of the night, McMikle collected a total of six hits and the Kiwanis team came through with only three.

Clifford Rolwing took the win for McMikle.

Home runs in the game were hit by Michael Jefferson, Leible, and Briggs.

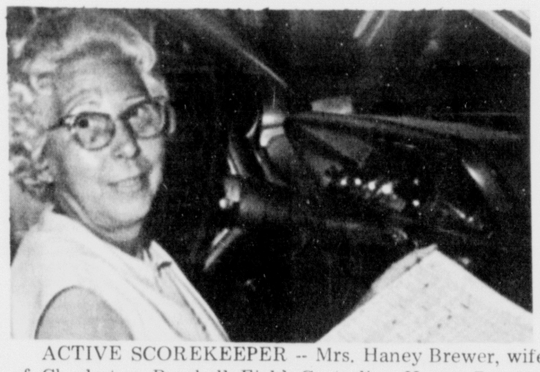

Third game of the night saw Greg Pierce take the pitching win and Danny Marshall take the loss.

Home runs in he game were hit by Charlie Clark, Greg Pierce, and Danny Marshall.

HOW TO RESPECT THE FLAG

During a flag raising ceremony or when passing in a parade, always face the flag. Men should hold hats over left shoulder. Women should hold hand over heart. Military men should give military salute.

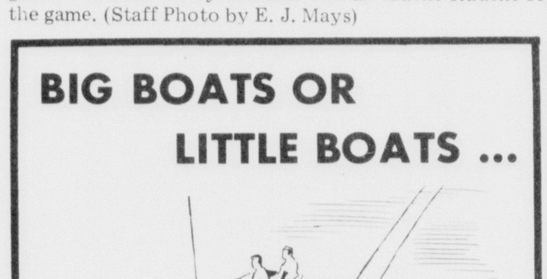

When National Anthem is played and flag is displayed, all present should face the flag and salute.

Civilians show respect for flag when Pledge of Allegiance is given by standing at attention. Men remove hats. Military men give military salute.

Tammy and Keith mays, 324 East Commercial St., have planned a bake sale Monday, June 16, at their home, with proceeds to the dystrophy drive. Cookies and lemonade will be sold.

Wet Ground Delays Planting

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Some Missouri farmers may be forced to switch to soybeans if they are not able to get their corn in the ground within about 10 days, experts said today.

Federal and state agriculture experts reported because of wet weather only about 81 per cent of the state's intended corn crop has been planted, while virtually all the corn had been seeded by this time last year.

Planting of soybeans also is behind schedule, with some 62 per cent planted against 75 per cent a year ago.

Authorities reported Missouri wheat is ripening later than usual, with about 40 per cent of the crop turning color compared with 70 per cent by this time last year.

About 64 per cent of the alfalfa hay harvest has been completed, compared with 75 per cent a year ago.

Reports said most Missouri pastures are in good shape, although some in the Southern part of the state are beginning to reflect a lack of recent moisture.

New Air Force Chief Bomber Advocate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first appointment to the Joint Chiefs of Staff is Air Force Gen. John D. Ryan, a strong advocate of an advanced bomber force in a time when nuclear missiles are considered the nation's main strategic weapon system.

Nixon announced the appointment Thursday of the 53-yearold Ryan, former head of the Strategic Air Command, to succeed retiring Gen. John Paul McConnell on the Joint Chiefs. Barring unexpected resistance in the Senate, Ryan should become Air Force chief sometime in August.

A World War II bomber pilot with 58 missions over Europe, Ryan will be the first new face on the Joint Chiefs of Staff since Nixon took office.

The President Thursday also:

—Went through with a previously-announced decision to extend Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler for a record sixth year as chairman of the Joint Chiefs.

—Nominated Adm. Thomas H. Moorer for another two years as chief of Naval Operations, bringing his term in line with a recent law specifying standard four-year tours for members of the JCS.

Since becoming vice chief of staff last August, Ryan has shunned publicity because, as one associate put it, "The chief of staff does the speaking while the vice chief stays home and runs the store."

Officers close to Ryan say he is a firm believer in maintaining a mixed force of bombers and missiles as the backbone of the nation's deterrent striking power, and that he strongly supports a proposal to build an entirely new Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft for the Air Force of the 1970s and beyond.

The third straight Air Force chief with a SAC background, Ryan is known as "Three Finger Jack" because of a World War II wound. He has made no effort to build a public image—a quality which fits in with the general tone of present-day military chiefs, who are known mostly as managers.

As Air Force chief of staff, he will head 868,000 men spread around the world.

Lean and athletic looking, Ryan stays in shape playing handball. At West Point, he was an outstanding football player.

Born in Cherokee, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1915, Ryan graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1938 and won his pilot wings the following year.

After piloting B17 bombers against the Germans in World War II, he took part in the first Pacific atomic weapons tests at Bikini in 1946 and went on from there to a series of bombardment unit commands before being assigned to SAC headquarters as director of materiel.

Ryan's two sons, both Air Force captains, flew Phantom jets over North Vietnam and now are stationed at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., He and Mrs. Ryan also have a grown daughter.

Ryan's elevation leaves an opening in the vice chief's slot. The two leading possibilities are Gen. James Ferguson, commander of the Air Force Systems Command at Andrews Air Force, Md., and Gen. Jack Merrill, chief of the Air Force logistics command, Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Charleston Cleanup Committee Makes Report

CHARLESTON - The Chamber of Commerce beautification committee held a meeting Friday to review the results of the month-long Clean-up - Fixup - Planup campaign held during May, according to Mrs. Norman Harper, chairman of the MCB committee.

Mrs. Marshall Currin, a member of the committee, said three slum-area houses have been painted, and the continuing group hopes to have six painted by August 1. More than a dozen gallons of outside white paint have been donated to the program, including a recent gift from the Christian Task Force Committee of the local United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Currin said many people have shown an interest also in painting the inside of their homes, some using inside paint donated by a Cape Girardeau interior decorator.

Mrs. Harper reported that 175 truckloads of trash were hauled to the city dump by city workmen during the clean-up drive.

Some suggestions for an improved future program include:

. Moving the plant-swap day to the first week of April each spring.

. Holding a second plant-swap day in the fall, probably in the middle of October.

. Putting more emphasis on the poster contest, with the cooperation of school art instructors.

. Asking extension clubs and women's clubs to plan at least one community betterment project each year.

. Asking the city council to inaugurate some form of weed-control program, particularly in low-income areas, where residents cannot afford expensive control measures.

. Trying to enlist as many people as possible in the cleanup program next year, in view of the success experienced with a limited number of young volunteers this year.

Mrs. Harper invited suggestions of all Charleston residents on how the month - long campaign can be made even more successful in 1970.

Hearnes Names Purchasing Agent

JEFFERSON CITY AP - Missouri's governor made his third big appointment of recent weeks Thursday.

He named Robert L. Norris of Hallsville acting state purchasing agent to succeed James E. Shaffner, who was appointed Director of Revenue last week.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes also announced at his news conference that the national governor's conference has accepted Missouri's invitation to hold its August 1970 conference at the Lake of the Ozarks.

North Korean Spy Boat Sunk, 13 Aboard Killed

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean forces sprang a trap on a North Korean spy boat this morning, sank the boat and killed all 15 men aboard, South Korea's Central Intelligence Agency announced.

The agency said the high speed patrol boat had been dispatched to pick up a North Korean agent on Huksan Island, off the southwest coast. But the agent, Kim Yong-ki, had been captured by the South Koreans May 30, and a trap was set around the island, the intelligence agency said.

When the enemy patrol boat approached the island in the guise of a cargo-fishing vessel shortly before midnight Thursday, a combined army, navy and air task force was ready for it.

Forcing Kim to maintain radio contact with the craft, the South Korean force waited until the Communists were about to put a three-man team aboard a rubber raft to pick up Kim on the island. Then the air force lit the area with flares, and the south Koreans opened fire.

The intelligence agency said the enemy tried for six hours to fight their way out of the ambush, but all 15 were killed and the boat was sunk. Two bodies were reported recovered, and efforts were under way to raise the spy boat.

There were no South Korean casualties, the agency said.

An earlier report said the 75 foot, four-engine boat had been captured. But the agency said later the South Koreans were forced to abandon the sinking craft after counting about a dozen bodies on board and recovering some North Korean equipment.

The vessel, which had a maximum speed of 35 knots, reportedly was armed with an 82mm recoilless gun, four 40mm guns, two 14.5 antiaircraft guns, three heavy machine guns and two light machine guns. The South Koreans said they also found eight automatic rifles, five pistols and two antitank - grenades aboard.

The agency said Kim 38, of Haeju, North Korea, was in the liaison division of the Communist party and was on an espionage mission in South Korea when he was captured.

Malden City Council OK's Lease With Bee Cee Group

MALDEN - A new lease agreement between the City of Malden and Bee Cee Manufacturing Company was approved Monday night by the City Council.

Under terms of the agreement reached between Bee Cee and the Airport Board, three buildings now used by the company will be connected to make one continuous building and an automatic sprinkling system will be installed. Cost of improvements will be amortized by the firm at the rate of $200 per month.

C. R. Berry Construction Company was awarded the construction contract for the improvements with a low bid of $13,980. Other bids included West Lumber Co., $15,275; Mid - Continent Construction Co., $15,185; and Walker - Hampton Construction Co., $14,860.

Installation of the sprinkling system will be a separate item.

Bee Cee Manufacturing Company has been operating in Malden for several year. They manufacture aluminum storm doors and windows. Recently they announced plans to manufacture thermo-pane glass. The company is owned by Jack Baker of Des Moines, Iowa, and Jack Douglas of Malden.

The company employs 50 to 75 persons and under terms of their lease have agreed to employ an average of 50 persons for the first year and 60 persons for the second year.

John Howell, chairman of the Airport Board, appeared before the City Council to request the release of funds set aside for resurfacing of runways at the Airport. He said the money was needed to complete industrial improvement projects for Sterling Division of Federal - Mogul, Continental Homes. Bee Cee Mfg. Co., and Weise Engineering & Planning Co.

Howell said that $24,500 was now in time savings deposit in Malden banks and has been set aside to match state funds for the improvement of runways. He said that the runways are in good condition and that the money is needed to complete the industrial projects.

Projects underway include the improvements for Bee Cee, a new street and parking area for Sterling, and a railroad spur leading to Continental Homes plant.

The Council agreed unanimously to release the funds as requested. Howell assured the Council that the Airport Board still planned to resurface the runways at the airport, but would do so at a later date.

Howell said that he would like to clear up a matter about additional housing at the Airport. He said that his board had made a request to the Federal Aviation Agency to release ground west of the Waller Addition for the purpose of providing sites for residential dwellings. He said that the FAA had turned down the request on the grounds that air traffic would create too much noise for a residential area.

James Newberry submitted a plan of a new Stokes-Howell Sub-Division located west of Highway 25 and south of Pittman Road for approval by the Council. Approval was granted.

Bids on providing gasoline for City owned vehicles were opened and Santie & Sons and Summers Standard Station were the low bidders. Each was awarded the City's gasoline business for a period of three months. Santie's bid was 20.6 cents for regular and 23.1 for ethyl. Summer's bid was 20.7 cents for regular and 23 for ethyl.

An easement was granted to Ozark-Border Electric Coop to run electric power lines along the north side of the Air Base.

Harold Taylor's Asphalt Service was awarded a contract to blacktop a 900-ft. street which will provide a new entrance to Sterling Division of Federal - Mogul Corporation.

Councilman Leroy Evans reported that the rest rooms in the City Park are being damaged by vandals. He requested and was granted permission to have the rest rooms locked each night at 8 o'clock.

LONDON (AP) The Government has refused to back development and production of a contraceptive pill for men, because of the "appalling increase" in abortions in Britain.

Baroness Serota, Minister of State for Health, said it also would be very costly and the Government did not feel justified in contributing.

Fisher-Stevens Marriage Dissolved

SANTA MONICA, Calif. AP - The two-year marriage of singers Eddie Fisher and Connie Stevens has ended in divorce, and they disclosed in court, for the first time, where and when they were married.

Miss Stevens, who won an uncontested decree on grounds of cruelty, said she and Fisher were wed on Feb. 9, 1967 in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Their marriage was secret until their first baby was born. Then they refused to reval wedding details.

Under an agreement, Miss Stevens receives custody of daughters Joely, 1½, and Trisha, 5 months, plus $1,000 a month child support. She waived alimony.

U.S. Announces Military Units Leaving South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today two brigades of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division and a regimental landing team of the 3rd U.S. Marine Division will be withdrawn from South Vietnam by the end of August and replaced by South Vietnamese soldiers.

The Command said a special task force working out details of the redeployment in Hawaii "reports that the first combat unit to be replaced will be a battalion of the 9th Infantry Division."

"It is anticipated that this battalion, composed of approximately 900 men, will be airlifted before mid-July to the continental United States for inactivation."

In Washington, the Pentagon estimated there will be 16,000 men involved in the first withdrawal.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced the withdrawals were the initial recommendation of a special task force now meeting in Hawaii to plan President Nixon's 25,000man replacement program.

Pentagon officials said the 900-man battalion being withdrawn is part of two brigades of the 9th Infantry Division which has been operating extensively in South Vietnam's swampy Delta region.

The Marine outfit has been headquartered at Dong Hai, in the northernmost I Corps below the demilitarized zone.

All three of the 9th Division's brigades are serving in Vietnam but the Pentagon did not identify which two would be removed.

Nor was the Pentagon saying for the moment where the Army and Marine units would be redeployed, except for the one battalion.

Precise numbers were hard to come by in Washington despite the Pentagon announcement.

Officials said the 9th Division's two brigades normally would have 5,000 men each, but the 10,000-man total includes a number of support detachments which would be left in Vietnam.

Similarly, the Marine regimental landing team at full strength has 7,000 men, some of whom are in support units to be left behind.

A decision for U.S. withdrawals was reached last weekend at a summit meeting of Presidents Nixon and Nguyen Van Thieu on Midway Island.

The United States now has 538,500 military personnel in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, "will announce the designation of the specific units to be involved" in the redeployment.

The 9th Division, known as the "Old Reliables," has been in South Vietnam since late 1967 and began operating in the fertile Mekong Delta south of Saigon in early 1968. It has three brigades and a number of combat support units. Its headquarters is at Dong Tam, 45 miles south of Saigon.

The 3rd Marine Division, which came to South Vietnam in late 1966, has been operating in the northernmost I Corps tactical zone near the demilitarized zone. Its headquarters is at Dong Ha, about 90 miles north of Da Nang.

An estimated 16,000 Marines and soldiers will be involved in the redeployment, leaping about 9,000 more to be replaced to complete the announced phased withdrawal of 25,000 American fighting men.

Miss. County May Welfare Hits $168,385

CHARLESTON - The Mississippi County welfare payroll for June totals $168,385, according to Mrs. Agnes Cunningham, county welfare director.

That amount was divided among 2,094 cases, with 1,591 children receiving aid to dependent children as the largest single group. Old age assistance recipients totalled 1,175 cases, and another 203 received permanent and total disability payments. General relief cases accounted for 169 persons, and 32 received aid to the blind.

The totals, by category, are as follows: ADC, $59,377; OAA, $81,168; General Relief, $11,283; Disability, $13,837; Blind $2,720.

The addition to these amounts, the welfare office supervises 81 patients in professional nursing homes.

Omaha Beach Revisted By Correspndent

EDITOR'S NOTE
Henry B Jameson, publisher of the Abilene, Kan., ReflectorChronicle, landed with American forces on D-Day at Omaha Beach as a correspondent for The Associated Press. Now he has returned for the anniversary observance.

By HENRY B JAMESON

OMAHA BEACH, France (AP)—Hundreds of American veterans of World War II have returned to the scenes of the greatest invasion of all time for 25th anniversary celebrations that stretch for 50 miles along the Normandy coast.

Dozens of American, British and French generals and other high ranking officers, headed by Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, were on hand. They stood erect, taking salutes like old times. Although many were wearing civilian clothes they were easily recognized.

Because of the anniversary celebrations at a dozen or more coastal towns, the Americans memorial service at Omaha and Utah Beaches were moved up to the eve of D-Day.

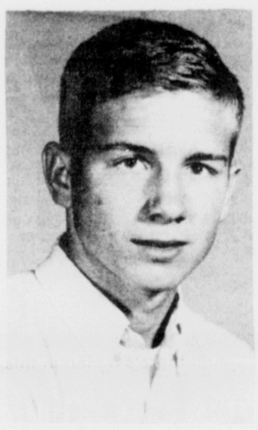

The American observance officially started with an oldfashioned picnic lunch given by Ambassador and Mrs. Sargent Shriver on a hillside overlooking once bloody Omaha Beach.

It was held in a recreation chalet that the French government has constructed just below the cemetery where 11,000 American soldiers are buried, and within the shadows of a ravine up from the beaches where the first breakthrough was made.

Only Trickle Passes Over Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Only a tiny trickle of the Niagara River now works its ways to the American Falls.

The 4.5-million-gallon-a-minute water flow was all but stopped Thursday when workmen, after three days on two 11-hour shifts, dropped the last load of rock and fill into a 6-foot cofferdam that shunted the river to the Canadian Falls.

The river was shut off so Army engineers and geologists can be lowered over the falls starting next week to test the rock strata, especially the Rochester shale.

They hope to find ways of preventing further erosion that has caused huge portions of the 182-foot-high precipice to collapse.

To prevent the rock face and brink of the falls from drying out during the five-month project, a water spray will be maintained.

Meanwhile, the tourist attractions will not be forgotten,.

People will be allowed to walk across the Niagara River and the famous Cave-of-the-Winds trip will be open, but at a reduced price.

The Canadian or Horseshoe Falls, 176-feet-high, still roar.

Japan's automotive industry, second largest in the world, produced 4,089,500 passenger cars and trucks during 1968. The country's passenger car production totaled 2,058,400, and the industry produced 1,922,700 trucks and 38,400 buses. It exported 605,000 cars.

All children and adults residing in Mississippi County with a speech or language problem are eligible for this service.

The therapy sessions will be on an "ability to pay" basis and no one will be turned away because of inability to pay. Donations that are received will be for the Easter Seal Society.

The therapist for this program is Terry Rowe, who is the speech correctionist in the Charleston Public School System, grades 7-12.

For further information or appointment, contact Jackson Burke, acting administrator, Mississippi County Health Department, Phone 683-6583.

FORT AUGUSTUS, Scotland (AP) — The monks of Fort Augustus Benedictine Abbey have "adopted" an area of Sweden in an attempt to reintroduce the monastic life there. The 29 priests and 13 lay brothers at the Abbey are raising money to help a former Abbot of Fort Augustus, who is already working in the province of Varmland. They expect to send the first monk from here to join him soon.

Ann Landers
Who Replaces Stolen Coat And How?

Dear Ann Landers: Mac is no kid (past 30), so keep this in mind when you answer. We had dinner in a first class steak house Tuesday night. There was no checkroom, but the men hung their coats on hooks in the entrance way. Mac left his coat there. After dinner Mac's coat was gone. He went to the manager and was told that the cloakroom is a convenience and the management is not responsible. Mac was furious.

Last night I was surprised when Mac suggested we go back to the steak house for dinner. He didn't wear a coat, but on the way out he helped himself to a fine looking three-button number, which fit him perfectly. I was shocked and said so. Mac's defense was as follows: "I'm not stealing. The owner of this coat will raise the roof, and the management will replace it. He won't be out anything. In the meantime, the joint owes me a coat."

Is Mac guilty of stealing? ---- Chagrined

Dear Chag: When a person takes something that doesn't belong to him, it's stealing, no matter what the rationalization. Mac is as big a thief as the bum who stole his coat and you can tell him I said so.

Dear Ann: A young bride-to-be just left my home. She was in tears. Her parents are divorced and it was one of the uggliest and messiest divorces that ever hit this town. The girl's blood father insists on the right to give her away at the wedding, but he is either unable to pay for the affair or he refuses to do so. The girl's stepfather has a lot of money but he refuses to pay for a wedding in which the blood father gets the honor of giving the bride away. Can you come up with a solution to this agonizing dilemma? -- A Friend

Dear Friend: How does the bride-to-be-feel about her father? How does she feel about her stepfather? The selection should be based solely on sentiment. If she wants her blood father to give her away she should be willing to forego the lavish affair and settle for a simple ceremony -- whatever he can afford. If the girl feels closer to her stepfather, he should have the honor. Her blood father should be an invited guest and he can accept or reject the invitation, as he chooses.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm bugged by something and I don't know who to ask. So, you're elected.

Dear Red: The watch is worn on the arm that is used less to diminish the chances for breakage. The doc chooses the watch arm when he gives a shot, for the same reason. Some shots produce discomfort and semi-incapacitation for a few hours and it's logical to put the less active arm out of commission.

Confidential to Is Silence Golden: Not always. It would have been an act of friendship if you had told the woman that her false eyelashes had fallen into the soup.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Local Women Attend Seance

Skeptic Draws Back When Ouija Board Reacts

By BARBARA LACY

There was a seance for skeptics Saturday night in Sikeston; and some of the skeptics, as one spirit put it, got more than they bargained for.

It happened like this:

A Tuesday morning woman's study group read William James' "Varities of Religious Experience" which includes a chapter on mystics. Next, they asked Bill Secoy, former minister in New Madrid, who has studied parapsychology, or events outside the world of psychology to talk to them.

He told us about Mrs. James Vernon and Mrs. Larward Clark of Poplar Bluff who have been communicating with the spirits via a Ouija board for two years.

We were ecstatic, skeptical or not.

The meeting was arranged for last Saturday night. No darkened room, no incense, no beards or strange music.

Instead we sat in a comfortable living room drinking coffee or soda and munching chocolate chip cookies while the two young attractive and sensible looking women told us how they got started.

Delores Vernon began:

"We were at a club social when someone brought out a Ouija board. No one was getting anything until Carmilita and I tried. When we placed our hands on the marker we felt a current, that's the only way I can describe it. We got all sorts of messages even though we had never used a Ouija board before.

"Several weeks later I saw a Ouija board in a dime store window and bought it. We took it along when we went to visit Carmelita and Larward Clark that night.

That's when an entity or spirit named Molly Turner appeared. Since then, they have spent hundreds of hours communicating with Molly, as two typed notebooks of their questions and her answers testify. They found that Molly was, as she said, Delores' paternal great aunt, whom her father had heard of but had never met or mentioned to Delores.

Her speech sounded Bibical, rather like the King James version of the Bible or 15th century English.

Two vignettes are:

"In the vineyeards of thy soul lie the wine of the father, reposing in unsupped cups, ready to be tasted by thee. Where doeth thee drink when thee art thirsty.

"On boughs hang the ripping fruits of thine labours. Have thee planned thy harvest."

In similar poetic language she gave her opinions on such subjects as birth control, and race relations. "God makes not common differences, all image lies in the soul."

Molly in an entity whose purpose is to help earthbound spirits leave the earth. Thus, her mission was to introduce Carmilita to Carolyn Bailey, Carmilita's great grandmother's sister, who lived in Kaskaskia, Ill., in the 1850's. Because of the events in Carolyn's life she could not "sit with the father" until her story was told.

Carmilita received her story through automatic writing, that is, she would go into a light trance and when she put a pencil to paper, she knew what to write.

The book is now at a publishers.

We were fascinated. The girls, who slightly resembled one another, told us that they had been sisters in a previous life, before the civil war in Charleston, South Carolina. They met a noted psychiatrist at a center where they study psychic phenomena, who told them later that he was sure that he was their father in that life.

Delores explained reincarnation as an universal order or a process of learning. "The earth is a school," she said, "all souls were created at one time and when they have learned all they need to know they sit with the father.

She quoted Molly, "Is the seed done after only one season?"

But since Carmilita has finished Carolyn's book, Molly has finished her work with the girls. She had declined to appear to us when they asked her earlier in the week. The girls, who are still quite immersed in psychic study, feel they have passed from the Ouija board stage. At least they are not drawn to it as they once were.

It is the lowest form of communcation they explained. However, they got good results with it, and it was the easiest way to communicate, so they prefered it to other forms. Another form is the trance, Carmilita said. Once they went into a trance and Delores received one half of the message and Carmilita got the other half from Molly. "But it was too fatiguing," Carmilita added.

"Do you have any questions," they asked.

Well, we did, but we were more interested in working the Ouija board, right then.

They hadn't brought theirs, but there was one in the house.

"Do you mind if we use it? Cheri Blanton asked. "I'm just dying too. I've always believed in it and I feel hot tonight."

(I was feeling cold and clammy.)

The board was brought out; a cream-colored rectangle with circus type on it. At the top it said, "Ouija" with "yes" to the left and "no" to the right. The alphabet was printed in a semicircle and a straight line across the center. On the bottom were numbers from 1 to 0, or 10. The marker was a plastic triangle with a plexiglass hole in the center and felt tipped legs. It wouldn't move just by tipping the board. We tried.

After much discussion about who would be first, Cheri and I sat facing each other with our knees touching, the Ouija board on our laps. We were extremely tense as we placed our fingers on the marker with 14 people watching.

"Do we have a contact?" we asked. We sat with our fingers curved like a beginning piano player's.

Slowly the marker begain to move. We called out the letters it passed over.

"turfhsrstrsss."

"Are you sure you're not moving it?" we asked each other. We began again. "Do we have a contact: answer yes, or no."

"Yes" Our eyes lit up.

"Who is it?" we asked again.

"J c k t, no, ugh, pruv." We were getting something, but we were confused as to what.

The phone rang. It was for me.

"There is my contact," I said. We all laughed.

While I was on the phone Delores and Carmilita were persuaded to give a demonstration. They sat down, very relaxed. The moment they placed their hands on the marker it began to move with a graceful rythm.

"Do we have a contact?"

"Funny you should ask."

"We've got a jokster, I'll bet," Carmilita said.

"Continue" they said to the spirit.

"Take the tulip, take the rose and thee have the garden."

"It sounds like Molly, they said, confused. "But she said she wouldn't be hear tonight."

"Continue".

"I see thee."

"Who are you?"

"Frannklin."

Hmm, Franklin put too n's in his name we said. Ask if it is Ben.

But they said, "continue."

"I say yes, do you want to speak to me?"

"Who are you?"

"Wanting to know may get you more than you bargained for."

"He's gone," they said suddenly. They could feel that whoever was there had left.

"Oh spirits are like that, they play tricks on you. Some are band and some are good. We were told that we had a good contact in Molly.

"Do we have a contact?"

"The wagon rolled along and papa fell back to watch for the indians that had followed us all morning."

They shrugged their shoulders at this message and said, "continue."

The marker flew along, faster than anyone could make up what was coming through. Delores read the letters as Naomi Secoy jotted them down. When the marker stopped, she would read the message to us.

"Continue".

"Caw or not, the wagonmaster fell back too and pretty soon we saw them coming along too.

We weren't being reverent and the next message chided us:

"I came to thee in earnest and thee made light of me," and then the spirit was gone.

Ask again, we said.

"Do we have a contact?"

"The divide is beyond thee until thee strive to surrmount the mountains."

"Continue."

"I see thee see not the way of me."

It must be Carolyn, they mused. It sound like her, but she said she wasn't coming back until our birthdays," Carmilita said, "Christmas day is her birthday, and mine."

"If thee see the willow thee will see me."

"It must be Carolyn."

"Thee may see my Bank."

"Continue".

"Jest not for tis truely mine and ever was it so." "If it's not Carolyn it is someone imitating her. Continue."

"My secret's safe with this one of me." They laughed at this message. Ask who it is we said.

"It's no use they said. It could say it was Carolyn and how would we know it wasn't?

"Continue."

"Oh great wind, what a warrior art thou, bringing me scents of violets and plums so pungent in flavor. Thee cover my head and keepest me ever dumb."

They were shaking their heads. "It's a poem from Carolyn's book, but it doesn't feel like Carolyn."

"Continue."

"Ever so. See when he came to the time you know."

"We aren't getting anything," Delores said and left the board. Others sat down with Carmilita. The following was recorded!

"How can you not see me iap."

"Line the mc".

"Look to the east for me, know that the luster is great."

"Join the holy ones nultlirh."

"Keep to thine self the fis."

"We're not getting anything tonight, "Carmilita said. "They're just playing around."

"Continue."

"Wusiturstk."

Carmilita left the board, Jane Selyers, Sue Schumpert, and Marcia Manning were among those trying it next. If the marker moved for them, it moved very slowly. The spirits were not coming through. The recorder wrote down!

Then Marcia Manning sat down with Cherie Blanton.

"Bcs sp qpk."

"coug."

"r"

All of a sudden I was impatient. I wanted at that board. I implied to Marcia that nothing was coming through and please move over.

Cherie and I rested our hands on the marker. It begain to move and this time we had ryhthm.

"Do we have a contact?"

"Heerhdrov" -- we both knew when the marker stopped. Even though we didn't have a message we knew something was there. We were relaxed and felt confident.

"Do we have a contact?"

"uber"

"Do we have a contact."

" wbucb"

Maybe it's a child who can't spell, we thought.

"Are you 4 years old?"

Immediately the marker went to "no." That surprised us, like someone was looking over our shoulder.

"We continued: "Are you female?"

It forcefully went to "yes."

Bravely we continued, "are you a relative?"

"Yes."

Do you want to speak to Cheri?"

"No."

She breathed a sign of relief.

"Do you want to speak to Barbara?"

"Yes." The pull of the marker was tremendous.

And that was the end of the seance. I wasn't ready to meet whomever wanted to meet me. I leaped from my chair and went to the other side of the room, and quivered.

"Come on," they said. "You've got someone."

And that was what I was afraid of. Delores and Carmilita had said some people aren't ready to contact spirits, some are searcihing for something and are quite receptive. Others are above needing help from the spirit world. I decided I wasn't ready.

Sue Shumpert and Cheri tried to contact my spirit with no results. At last I went back, but I wasn't receptive, nothing happened.

Delores and Carmilita had gone home. If they had been here I might have gone ahead.

But not everyone felt as I did. Sue Shumpert bought a Ouija board the next day and plans are being made for a second seance soon.

But as Cheri put it, "I'll get my messages elsewhere."

If You Were the Judge

Is Conduct Unbecoming?

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Horace's lack of resistence to a good looking girl made his existence rather frantic, primarily because he was married and his wife failed to appreciate his cavorting. In fact, she finally complained about it to the head of the city agency for which Horace worked. Almost immediately Horace was booted out of his job for conduct unbecoming a city employee.

Irate, Horace hustled off to the nearest courthouse where he demanded that he be given back his job.

"What I do on my own time," he complained to the judge, "is my own business. While I may be married to my wife, I've got no marital obligations to the city. Therefore, the city had no right to fire me, particularly since my performance on the job had been top drawer."

"Of course, we had a right to fire him," retorted a city official. "When a married man dallies with the dollies, he sets a bad example. Nor does it make any difference whether or not he does it on his own time since it still gives the city a bad time."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the city to give philandering Horace back his job?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! He held that a city has a lawful interest in the fundamental standards of propriety to be exercised by its employees; that since the public expects all governmental units to be concerned with the maintenance of good order, a city employee who engages in improprieties not conducive to good order can be fired for such improprieties regardless of when he engages in them.

(Base upon a 1965 Wisconsin Supreme Court Decision)

Malden Plan Group Seeking To Interest More Members

MALDEN — John Davis, Chairman of the Malden Planning Commission presiding before a meeting of Malden citizens interested in the cities comprehensive 701 Plan, stated that it would be the goal of any planning commission to involve as many people as possible in the development of the plan.

His remarks followed a statement of Dan Carr, Planner in Charge of the Malden plan for the firm of Gassner - Nathan - Browne, Memphis, Tennessee, ito the effect that the more information on Malden fed into his office, the harder he would have to work, and the better plan he could produce.

Bill Crabtree, Manager of the Malden Chamber of Commerce introduced John Davis at the meeting, a joint gathering including the Mayor, City Clerk, City Council, Planning Commission, Board of Public Works, Airport Commission, Chamber of Commerce, and interested individuals.

Gassner - Nathan - Browne, Architects and Planners, have been retained by the City to prepare the Comprehensive Plan under the "701" Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Jack Pierce, represented the Department of Community Affairs at the meeting. The DCA is the State Funding Agency that will make available three fourths of the funds necessary to the production of the plan.

MANIFESTO

To the white Christian Churches and the Jewish Synogogues in he United States of America and all other racist institutions. Presentation by James Forman delivered and adopted by the National Black Economic Development Conference in Detroit, Michigan, on April 26, 1969.

(7) We call upon IFCO to serve as a central staff to coordinate the mandate of the conference and to reproduce and distribute en mass literature, leaflets, news items, press releases and other material.

(8) We call upon all delegates to find within the white community those forces which will work under the leadership of blacks to implement these demands by whatever means necessary. By taking such actions, white Americans will demonstrate concretely that they are willing to fight the white skin privilege and the white supremacy and racism which has forced us as black people to make these demands.

(9) We call upon all white Christians and Jews to practice, patience, tolerance, understanding and nonviolence as they have encouraged, advised and demanded that we as black people should do throughout our entire enforced slavery in the United States. The true test of their faith and belief in the Cross and the words of the prophets will certainly be put to a test as we seek legitimate and extremely modest reparations for our role in developing the industrial base of the Western world through our slave labor. But we are no longer slaves, we are men and women, proud of our African heritage, determined to have our dignity.

(10) We are so proud of our African heritage and realize concretely that our struggle is not only to make revolution in the United States, but to protect our brothers and sisters in Africa and to help them rid themselves of racism, capitalism, and imperialism by whatever means necessary, including armed struggle. We are and must be willing to fight the defamation of our African image wherever it rears its ugly head. We are therefore charging the Steering Committee to create a Black Anti-Defamation League to be funded by money raised from the International Black Appeal.

(11) We fully recognize that revolution in the United States and Africa, our Motherland, is more than a one dimensional operation. It will require the total integration of the political, economic, and military components and therefore, we call upon all our brothers and sisters who have acquired training and expertise in the fields of engineering, electronics, research, community organizations, physics, biology, chemistry, mathematics, medicine, military science and warfare to assist the National Black Economic Development Conference in the implementation of its program.

(12) To implement these demands we must have a fearless leadership. We must have a leadership which is willing to battle the church establishment to implement these demands. To win our demands we will have to declare war on the white Christian churches and synagogues and this means we may have to fight the total government structure of this country. Let no one here think that these demands will be met by our mere stating them. For the sake of the churches and synagogues, we hope that they have the wisdom to understand that these demands are modest and reasonable. But if the white Christians and Jews are not willing to meet our demands through peace and good will, then we declare war and we are prepared to fight by whatever means necessary. We are, therefore, proposing the election of the following Steering Committee:

Lucious Walker, Renny Freman, Luke Tripp, Howard Fuller, James Forman, John Watson, Dan Aldridge, John Williams, Ken Cockrel, Chuck Wooten, Fannie Lou Hamer, Julian Bond, Mark Comfort, Earl Allen, Robert Browne, Vincent Harding, Mike Hamlin, Len Holt, Peter Bernard, Michael Wright, Muhammed Kenyatta, Mel Jackson, Howard Moore, and Harold Holmes.

Brothers and sisters, we no longer are shuffling our feet and scratching our heads. We are tall, black and proud.

And we say to the white Christian churches and Jewish Synagogues to the government of this country and to all the white racist imperialists who compose it, there is only one thing left that you can do to further degrade black people and that is to kill us. But we have been dying too long for this country. We have died in every war. We are dying in Vietnam today fighting the wrong enemy.

The new black man wants to live and to live means that we must not become static or merely believe in self- defense. We must boldly go out and attack the white Western world at its power centers. The white Christian churches are another form of government in this country and they are used by the governments of this country to exploit the people of Latin America , Asia and Africa, but the day is soon coming to an end. Therefore, brothers and sisters, the demands we make upon the white Christian churches and the Jewish synagogues are small demands. They represent 15 dollars per black person in these United States. We can legitimately demand this from the church power structure. We must demand more from the United States Government.

But to win our demands from the church which is linked up with the United States Government, we must not forget that it will ultimately be by force and power that we will win.

We are not threatening the churches. We are saying that we know the churches came with the military might of the colonizers and have been sustained by the military might of the colonizers. Hence, if the churches in colonial territories were established by military might, we know deep within our hearts that we must be prepared to use force to get our demands. We are not saying that this is the road we want to take. It is not, but let us be very clear that we are not opposed to force and we are not opposed to violence. We were captured in Africa by violence. We were kept in bondage and political servitude and forced to work as slaves by the military machinery and the Christian church working hand in hand.

We recognize that in issuing this manifesto we must prepare for a long range educational campaign in all communities of this country, but we know that the Christian churches have contributed to our oppression in White America. We do not intend to abuse our black brothers and sisters in black churches who have un-critically accepted Christianity. We want them to understand how the racist white Christian church with its hypocritical declarations and doctrines of brotherhood has abused our trust and faith. An attack on the religious beliefs of black people is not our major objective, even though we know that we were not Christians when we were brought to this country, but that Christianity was used to help enslave us. Our objective in issuing this Manifesto is to force the racist white Christian church to begin the payment of reparations which are due to all black people, not only by the Church but also by private business and the U.S. government. We see this focus on the Christian church as an effort around which all black people can unite.

Our demands are negotiable, but they cannot be minimized, they can only be increased and the Church is asked to come up with larger sums of money than we are asking Our slogans are:

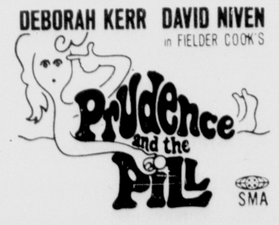

ALL ROADS MUST LEAD TO REVOLUTION
UNITE WITH WHOMEVER YOU CAN UNITE
NEUTRALIZE WHEREVER POSSIBLE
FIGHT OUR ENEMIES RELENTLESSLY
VICTORY TO THE PEOPLE
LIFE AND GOOD HEALTH TO MANKIND
RESISTANCE TO DOMINATION BY THE WHITE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES AND THE JEWISH SYNAGOGUES
REVOLUTIONARY BLACK POWER
WE SHALL WIN WITHOUT A DOUBT

NAVY TO CACHET APOLLO 11 COVERS

NORFOLK, Va. — Manned Spacecraft Recovery forces of the U.S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 11 manned space flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Forces 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make the distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of covers, collectors should send pre-stamped, self- addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator prior to July 4, 1969. In accordance with U.S. Post Office Department Regulations, only U.S. postage may be used on covers submitted. Stamps (postage) of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used, and cash or checks in lieu of postage cannot be accepted. It is further requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches with a filler inserted to simplify handling.

Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, the coordinators for Task Force 140 and Task Force 130 will accept a maximum of 6 covers from individual collectors (two covers per recovery ship) for the Apollo 11 mission.

Addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific area Coordinators are:

Charleston Notes

From the Charleston Daily Standard Bureau

HART PROMOTED

CHARLESTON -- Eddie Hart, who has been manager of the Del Farm Food Store here for three years, was promoted this week by the National Foods chain to management of the company's store in Granite City, Ill.

Replacing Hart will be Larry Moore, 26, who has been assistant manager here. Hart, who has been employed at the store for fifteen years, serving as assistant manager and manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hart, and is married to the former Mary Jane Bruenderman of Charleston. The couple have two children.

JACQUES RESIGNS

CHARLESTON -- Jerry Jacques, who has been cashier and loan officer of the Citizens Bank of Charleston for the past, this week announced his resignation, effective June 15.

Mr. Jacques has been appointed executive vice-president and chief managing officer of the Farmers State Bank of Ellington. He and his family plans to move to Ellinton about July 1.

Experts Differ On Peace Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Viet Cong's establishment of a "provisional revolutionary government" for South Vietnam has observers differing widely on how the development will affect prospects for a negotiated peace.

Some experts now look for serious bargaining by the enemy resulting in progress at Paris. Others figure the Hanoi-Viet Cong team is digging in for a long, hard stand, dimming chances for any forward movement soon in the negotiations.

Officially, the U.S. position is that nothing has changed in the Viet Cong lineup except a name. The allies thus raised no objection Thursday to the new "government" succeeding the National Liberation Front at North Vietnam's side in the Paris talks.

Chopper Crashes Into Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) -- A big Navy helicopter with six men aboard crashed into the sea off San Diego today. Two bodies were recovered. Search was under way for possible survivors.

The crash scene was seven miles southwest of Point Loma.

A Navy spokesman said at least one civilian was believed among the three passengers and three crewmen.

Blackwell Refuses to Yield on Income Tax

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, voiced unalterable opposition again today to any increase in the individual income tax as proposed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

House and Senate conferees on the embattled income tax bill start work Monday afternoon.

Blackwell said he didn't know whether a compromise could be reached but "I hope we'll do what's right."

Even if the effective date of an individual income tax increase could be delayed until Jan. 1, 1971, as has been suggested, Blackwell said he would not vote for it because he does not think the money is needed in the next two years.

"If there is a deficiency -- and I don't think there will be -- then we can vote some other kind of a tax," the Senate President Pro Tem said.

He noted the current legislature refused to increase beer and liquor taxes "which would have raised $12 million easily without hurting anyone."

Heading House conferees on the income tax bill will be the majority floor leader, Rep. Richard Rabbitt, D-St. Louis, and four other supporters of the governor's position. The four senators with Blackwell on the Senate delegation are expected to stand solidly behind him in committee.

The only thing at stake is the difference between the House and Senate over a $34 million individual income tax boost, approved by the House but twice rejected by the Senate.

Five Priests Assigned

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) -- Special assignments for five Roman Catholic priests were among appointments announced today by the Most Rev. Ignatius J. Strecker, bishop of the Springfield-Cape Girardeau diocese.

The Rev. Bernard Vedder is to be chaplain of the Catholic community at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau and the Rev. Thomas Kozeny is to be associate chaplain.

The Rev. Justin Brauner, who has held the chaplain's post, will become diocesan director of communication for radio and television and will reside in Kelso.

The Rev. Philip Bucher is to be diocesan director of religious education with his office in Springfield.

The Rev. Louis Wyrsch is to be chaplain of the Catholic Community at Southern Missouri State College in Joplin.

The bishop also named 13 priests to pastorates in the diocese, including the Rev. Damian Boeding, a Benedictine Monk from Atchison, Kan., to be pastor of Sacred Heart Parish in Webb City and spiritual counselor at McAuley Regional High School in Joplin.

The appointments are effective June 18.
